ANTI-KAMNIA TABLETS

Locomotor Ataxia

In a very interesting article on Ataxia, Dr. Henry A. Storey says: have practically no benefit in these cases. He says that rest should be insisted upon, and there should be no mental troubles. Plenty of fresh air and exercise must be insisted upon. Too much exertion is injurious. The use of tobacco and alcohol should be strictly prohibited, and over-eating is dangerous. Only when the food is poorly nourished and digested must be of the most nutritious kind, and the quantity and quality frequently changed so that the patient may regain appetite. The most annoying symptom in these cases is the pain, often so severe as almost unbearable. Dr. Storey says he finds two Anti-kamnia Tablets every three hour if necessary, gives the patient the best rest to the patient. These tablets may be obtained at all druggists in any quantity desired. Ask for Anti-kamnia Tablets.

Also unexcelled for headache, neuralgia and all Pains.

VILLA IN OPEN REVOLT: WARS ON CARRANZA.

Serious Developments Below the Border Are Expected When the New Clash Comes—Gen. Obregon May Join the Movement—Payment of Huerta's Bonds Causes Worry in Washington.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NACO (Ariz.) Sept. 22.—Serious developments seem to confirm the theory that Gen. Villa is about to join with Gov. Maytorena in open revolt against Gen. Carranza, first chief of the Constitutionalists.

Five thousand of his troops from Sonora are reported on their way to join Maytorena's 2000 soldiers in their march against Gen. Benjamin Hill, who has refused to evacuate his strong position at Cananea and proceed to Chihuahua.

This order, issued by Gen. Alvaro Obregon, is said to have been given either under pressure from Villa, who the former was recently reported to have been placed under arrest at Chihuahua, or else in his newly-reported role as the ally of Villa revolting against Carranza.

Meantime, Gen. Juan Cabral, sent from Mexico City to relieve Hill, conferred with Maytorena today at Nogales in an effort to get the Governor to surrender his post to him, assuring him that in such event Hill would then retire.

Hill, who was to have been succeeded by Cabral, doubted the order of Obregon to that effect, and, upon telegraphic inquiry to the Minister of War at Mexico City received a reply that Cananea by force of arms against Maytorena. Cabral also admitted today at Nogales that he had received orders to return at once to Mexico City by way of Laredo, Tex., and said that he would obey.

Hill is reported to have his forces near Santa Cruz, where it is expected the combined troops of Maytorena and Villa's Juarez contingent will meet him. A strong force of Maytorena's Yaqui Indians are said to be on the way to join their chief's army.

Those in a position to know here, state that Villa, Maytorena and possibly Obregon will openly oppose Carranza, when they have overthrown Hill, which their much superior forces cause them to believe will be in the next few days.

The State of Sonora, the scene of this prospective rebellion, was also the scene of the revolt in March, 1913, which started the revolution to overthrow Huerta.

VIVID PICTURE OF AISNE FIGHT IN SIR JOHN FRENCH'S REPORT.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 22.—The following descriptive account from Field Marshal Sir John French's headquarters of the British army's operations up to September 18 was issued tonight:

"General headquarters, September 18, 1914.

"At the date of the last narrative, September 14, the Germans were making a determined resistance along the River Aisne. Opposition, which it was at first thought might possibly be of a rear-guard nature, not entailing material delay to our progress, has developed and has proved to be more serious than was anticipated.

"The action now being fought by the Germans along their line may, it is true, have been undertaken in order to gain time for some strategic operation or move, and may not be their main stand. But if this is so, the fighting is naturally on a scale which, as to what extent of ground covered and duration of resistance, makes it undistinguishable in its progress from what is known as 'pitched battle,' though the enemy certainly showed signs of considerable disorganization during the earlier days of their retirement phase.

"Whether it was originally intended by them to defend the position they took up as strenuously as they have done, or whether the delay gained for them during the 12th and 13th by their artillery has enabled them to develop their resistance and reinforce their line to an extent not originally contemplated, cannot yet be said.

"So far as we are concerned, the action still being contested is the battle of the Aisne. The foe we are fighting is just across that river along the whole of our front to the east and west. The struggle is not confined to the valley of that river, though it probably will bear its name.

"The progress of our operations and the French armies nearest us for the 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th will now be described:

"On Monday, the 14th, those of our troops which had on the previous day crossed the Aisne, after driving in the German rear guards on that evening, found portions of the enemy's forces in prepared defensive positions on the right bank, and could do little more than secure a footing north of the river. This, however, they maintained in spite of two counter-attacks delivered at dusk and 10 p.m., in which the fighting was severe.

"During the 14th, strong reinforcements of our troops were passed to the north bank, the troops crossing by ferry, by pontoon bridges and by the remains of permanent bridges. Close co-operation with the French forces was maintained and the general progress made was good, although the opposition was vigorous and the state of the roads, after the heavy rain, made movements slow. One division alone failed to secure the ground it expected to.

"The First Army Corps, after repulsing repeated attacks, captured 600 prisoners and twelve guns. The cavalry also took a number of prisoners. Many of the Germans taken belong to the reserve and Landwehr formations, which fact appears to indicate that the enemy is compelled to draw on other classes of soldiers to fill the gaps in her ranks.

"There was a heavy rain throughout the night of September 14-15 and during the 15th the situation of the British forces underwent no essential change. But it became more and more evident that the defensive preparations made by the enemy were more extensive than was at first apparent.

"In order to counterbalance these, measures were taken by us to economize our troops and secure protection from the hostile artillery fire, which was very fierce, and our men continued to improve their own intrenchments. The Germans bombarded our lines nearly all day, using heavy guns brought, no doubt, from before Maubeuge, as well as those with the corps.

"All their counter-attacks, however, failed, although in some places they were repeated six times. One made on the Fourth Guards brigade was repulsed with heavy slaughter.

"An attempt to advance slightly made by part of our line was unsuccessful as regards gain of ground, but led to the withdrawal of part of the enemy's infantry and artillery.

"Further counter-attacks made during the night were beaten off. Rain came on towards evening and continued intermittently until 9 a.m. on the 16th. Besides adding to the discomforts of the soldiers holding the line, the wet weather to some extent hampered the motor transport service, which was also hindered by broken bridges.

"On Wednesday the 16th there was little change in the situation opposite to the British; the efforts made by the enemy were less active than on the previous day, though their bombardment continued throughout the morning and evening. Forty prisoners were taken by the Third Division.

"On Thursday, the 17th, the situation still remained unchanged in its essentials. The German heavy artillery fire was more active than on the previous day. The only infantry attacks made by the enemy were on the extreme right of our position and, as had happened before, were repulsed with heavy loss, chiefly on this occasion by our field artillery.

"In order to convey some idea of the nature of the fighting, it may be said that along the greater part of our front the Germans have been driven back from the forward slopes on the north of the river. Their infantry is holding strong lines of trenches among and along the edges of the numerous woods which crown the slopes. These trenches are elaborately constructed and cleverly concealed. In many places there are wire entanglements and lengths of rabbit fencing.

"Both woods and open are carefully aligned, so that they can be swept by rifle fire and machine guns which are invisible from our side of the valley. The ground in front of the infantry trenches is also as a rule under cross fire from the field artillery placed on neighboring ridges and un-

GERMANS PAY DEARLY FOR VICTORY AT SEA.

Allies Unofficially Reported to Have Executed a Turning Movement.

Right Wing of the Invading Forces Alleged to Have Suffered a Setback—Battle of the Oise and Meuse Still Undecided—New Engagement of the Russians and Austrians May Be Under Way.

LONDON, Sept. 23, 3 a.m.—The Daily Mail's correspondent reports that the German right has been turned between Peronne and St. Quentin. He says that during all Sunday night wounded have been arriving at an unnamed place. They report there are nine miles of dead in trenches between those two towns.

YMUIDEN, Holland, via London, Sept. 22, 11:26 p.m.—Two of five German submarine boats which attacked and sank the British cruisers Aboukir, Cressy and Hogue were sent to the bottom by the British ships, according to survivors from the cruisers who arrived here this evening.

LONDON, Sept. 22, 9:15 p.m.—The daring raid of German submarines across the North Sea, which resulted this morning in the sinking of the British cruisers Aboukir, Hogue and Cressy, has momentarily diverted attention from the battlefields of the continent.

This was one of the things the British navy has been led to expect, for the Germans have quite frankly avowed that their plan was to reduce British naval superiority by submarine raids and the sowing of mines, and they have been training their young officers for sallies of this kind.

Nevertheless, it came as a shock to Englishmen that big ships such as those could so easily be attacked and destroyed, while the German fleet has been able to remain in safety in its mines-and-fortress-protected harbors.

However, the British fleet must keep the seas to insure Great Britain's food supply, and in doing so must run great risks.

The ships sunk, while obsolete, still were very useful vessels, and it is little satisfaction to England to know that her cruiser fleet is still double in number that of the Germans, and that, as Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, has said, she will be able to build during the war three to Germany's one.

Meantime there have been no important changes on the battle fronts in Northern France. The opposing armies continue to gain a little here and lose a little there. These gains may tell in the long run, but have brought no decisive result for either side.

The French official report issued this afternoon again lays some stress on the announcement that an advance is being made by the allies' left wing on the right bank of the River Oise, from which point both the public and the military experts look for first indications of how the battle is likely to end.

Although the official reports do not go beyond saying that the Germans have been forced to give ground before the French attacks, and speak of Noyon and the district around that city as the center of the operations, some correspondents describe the allies' left as extending from just west of Noyon to as far north as Le Cateau, from which point, or Peronne, the new army, of which there have been so many reports but no confirmation, is supposed to be operating to threaten the German right wing.

If this is true, the German right is in a very dangerous position, for it cannot extend much further north or west of St. Quentin. Its position runs thence by way of Chauny and south of Laon to north of Rheims.

On the plateau of Caronne severe fighting has been going on for days, but there is no late information as to whether the Germans or the allies hold the commanding positions here. The allies had the plateau a few days ago, but the German official report claims that it had been retaken, together with the village of Bethany.

In the center, between Rheims and Souain, which the French occupied early in the week, there has been more desperate fighting, the Germans taking the offensive, and, according to the French reports, being repulsed. The Germans also have made some attacks in the Woevre district without success, but they have succeeded in again crossing the Lorraine frontier and occupying Donestre, to the south of Blamont.

The French have captured additional prisoners and supply trains.

The Russians have followed up their successes in Galicia, where a third great battle is about to begin, if it has not already begun, by capturing the important fortress of Jaroslaw, on the River San, just north of Przemysl, which they are surrounding.

Jaroslaw commands the passage of the San River, and its possession will greatly assist the Russians in their operations against Przemysl, where a strong Austro-German force is prepared to offer stubborn resistance in the hope at least of detaining the Russian armies, which are needed to take the offensive against Germany.

The Servians report another victory over the Austrians, who thus far have suffered severely on all sides. This engagement occurred near Kroupani on the Drina, where the Austrians attempted to invade Servia, but were driven back. This attack accounts for the Servian evacuation of Semlin, as the troops were needed to stem the Austrian offensive movement.

The Servians feel they now can proceed with the invasion of Bosnia, and the troops at Vishegrad have been ordered to march on Sarajevo, which town is the birthplace of the present war, for there occurred the assassination of the Austrian heir apparent, Archduke Francis Ferdinand.

The Servians and Montenegrins are within ten miles of Sarajevo, and the Austrians have made one sortie from the town, according to a Rome dispatch, but quickly turned back in the face of the opposing forces.

There is a rumor, too, that Essad Pasha, the former Albanian Minister of War, as a result of an agreement with the Servian government, will lead an Albanian army into Herzegovina by way of Cattaro.

FOR WELSH ARMY CORPS.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Earl Kitchener, Secretary for War, has approved Chancellor Lloyd George's proposal for the formation of a Welsh army corps. Plans are now being prepared for recruiting throughout all Wales and Monmouthshire.

Unexpected.

THOUGHT IT WAS A MINE, SAYS ENGLISH SURVIVOR.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM (via London) Sept. 23, 2:10 a.m.—The correspondent of the Handelsblad interviewed at Ymuiden, Holland, one of the survivors of the battle between the German submarines and the British cruisers in the North Sea.

"We were navigating with the cruisers in the North Sea in beautiful weather," the survivor is reported as saying. "This morning at 6 o'clock the Aboukir was hit in several places and disappeared within five minutes.

"The other men of war thought the Aboukir had struck a mine, as no hostile ships could be seen. They lowered their boats. A few minutes later the Hogue was hit, and sank. In a short time the Cressy also was torpedoed and sank at about 8 o'clock.

The steamer Flores arrived at Ymuiden tonight with 287 survivors from the British cruisers sunk by the German submarines. One dead and a few wounded were also aboard.

SEVEN HUNDRED SAVED.

HARWICH (Eng.) Sept. 23 (via London, 1 a.m.)—It is computed here that 700 men from the British cruisers Aboukir, Cressy and Hogue were saved.

Thirty uninjured officers, survivors of the three sunken warships, arrived here tonight. They had been rescued from the water and wore improvised clothing.

Eighty other survivors were landed at Parkestom Quay, three miles west of Harwich.

Inevitable.

AMERICA MUST INTERVENE TO END WAR, SAYS METZ.

Congressman Believes Germany Is Sure Winner, and Wants Peace.

Former New York Comptroller Declares Kaiser's Troops Got to Paris, as He Predicted, and Derides Alleged Russian Victories — Asserts United States Must Reckon With Japan Next.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 22.—"Changed my mind about 'Paris in sixty days or defeat?'

"Not at all. Germany got to Paris, didn't she? Everything that I said about that has been borne out. I don't know why Germany turned back. That's something nobody on the outside can say. But 'Paris in sixty days or defeat' still stands. What Germany has done already makes her the sure winner in this war."

Congressman Herman A. Metz, head of a large manufacturing house, reiterated today the prophecy he made forty-three days ago, on August 10, and brushed aside all suggestions that the present position of the German army in France might necessitate a revision of his forecast. He styles as "poppycock" all statements that Germany from now on would be on the defensive, stamped as "ridiculous" all reports that Russian victories amounted to anything, and went on record once again as declaring, "from an absolutely impartial viewpoint," that the ultimate success of Germany was assured.

The New York Congressman, whose wide knowledge of Germany and things German gives him a particularly illuminating viewpoint of affairs in the realm of the Kaiser, not only holds stoutly to his profound belief of German success, but in a peripatetic interview from his office to the quarters of Count Von Bernstorff at the Ritz Carlton, also ventured today several predictions.

METZ'S PREDICTIONS.

They are as follows:

"(1.) When peace is finally declared, Germany will be found still on French soil, in the west, and on Russian soil in the east.

"(2.) Peace is now not far off—just how far off cannot be estimated, but it is bound to come soon.

"(3.) It will be necessary for the United States to step in, in order that peace may become a fact. This country cannot do anything at present, but the time will soon be ripe for its intervention and then only its action can bring about peace.

"(4.) Japan will eventually move against the United States in Asia. We will come next in the Japanese movement that has for its slogan, 'Asia for the Asiatics.'"

Congressman Metz made all of these predictions in the course of a talk in which he asserted that victory for Germany as the final outcome of the war is beyond all question. He gave as the prime reason for this the statement that not more than a third of the German fighting force is now in the field, and that Germany could stand the strain in money and in men as long as any other country could.

"Crack under the strain," he said, "there's no chance of it. Germany has the resources and Germany has the punch. She's still fighting in the other fellow's back yard, and isn't it better to be fighting in the other fellow's back yard and mussing up his lawn, instead of being in your own back yard, breaking everything up there?

"There's the position that Germany is going to be in when this war is ended, and that's the reason why she's in a better position than the allies. They never can get to Germany. East Prussia doesn't count, anyway, and as for France—why France is finding out that the lawn has got to be destroyed when the other fellow is fighting in your back yard.

"'Paris in sixty days' is, of course, a figure of speech. It isn't necessary for Germany actually to take Paris in order to win. She wins when she carries the war into the enemy's country and shows, as she has done, that she can sweep all before her and get to the enemy's capital in less than sixty days. Germany is accomplishing what means victory in war. She is destroying the enemy, she is destroying the enemy's country. That's what war means, and Germany can continue to do that indefinitely."

"Then you don't take any stock in the newspaper reports that Germany has had to call out——?"

"That's all buncombe," cut in the former New York City Controller characteristically. "It's all bunk. Germany having to fight with men 60 years old in the line! Why, not more than a third of Germany is fighting. Her mills and factories are still open. I am getting letters from our mills that tell what the situation is. The names signed to them are those of men I know. I know how old they are. I know where they would be if there was any truth at all in the stories that Germany was back to her last resources. They are at home, at work. They would be with the army if it wasn't true, as I tell you, that not more than a third of Germany is fighting.

"Germany hasn't needed her reserves, even though Russia did mobilize more quickly than had been expected. But you'll notice that Russia is still starting. She'll be still starting when the war is ended. And she won't be even started, pretty soon, with winter coming on. Winter will arrive in Russia in a very short time now and Russia won't be able to get anywhere. The roads in Russia are under repair six months in the year and under snow the other six months.

"Where does Russia come off? There aren't more than two macadamized roads in the whole empire and there won't be any chance for Russia when winter shuts down.

"Germany wants peace. She always has wanted peace. She would welcome peace right now. And the other countries are going to come around to the same way of thinking.

"But the war won't be ended unless we step in. We will have to be the leaders in bringing about peace, surely. We can't do it now. Our hands are tied. But events are bound to shape themselves so that we can step in, and they will all be glad to welcome our offer. That is because the allies will find they can never get into Germany and as long as they can't carry the war there, what good does it do them to continue it? If they can't beat Germany, what else is there for them to do?"

The Congressman asserted that there were too many blind people who couldn't see what is written. In this connection, he said, he would have forecast on August 10 the move made by Japan in the East if the matter hadn't slipped his mind.

THE MOVE BY JAPAN.

"I could have told you then, as I tell you now, that Japan is moving to make true 'Asia for the Asiatics,'" he asserted. "We will come next. It won't be for some time, but we will surely have to reckon with Japan in the future. She wants to do with the United States just as she has done with Germany."

Mr. Metz was on a hurried trip to see Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador to the United States, when he expressed these views, and he said that on that account he could not go into them as much as he wished. His errand to the German Ambassador was occasioned by what he said was the grasping spirit of some Americans whose activity has resulted in the replacing by the German government of the embargo on shipments of certain kinds to the United States.

"Germany showed her friendship to this country by raising this embargo in our favor," Congressman Metz explained, "and what do a few fools here do? For the sake of a few paltry dollars they ship the stuff back from here to England, where it is even more urgently needed than here. Germany has gotten wind of it, and she has now shut down again with the embargo. I have just received word by cable and I am rushing to see the Ambassador to learn what can be done.

"But that is an instance of our boasted fair play toward Germany. She treats us squarely and we return it in this way. Why can't people here be impartial? I have friends in all the countries at war, although I say that Germany is going to win because I believe that is the fact. I am perfectly open-minded."

SEVERAL DAYS' FIGHTING YET NEEDED TO DECIDE.

BORDEAUX, Sept. 22.—"The battle between the Oise and the Meuse probably will last three or four days longer," says the Temps in a military review today.

"But reports indicate that the resistance of the enemy is weakening. Another effort and French territory will be free of them. It will be hard, however, for we shall have many victims.

"Our advance between Rheims and the Argonne seems to show the greater part of the German army in retreat by way of Belgium. West of the Meuse they are already making extensive defensive works on the Sambre."

GRIT WITH ENDURANCE TO DECIDE BIG BATTLE.

According to the Analysis of the Campaign Made Up to Date by the "Army and Navy Journal" Expert the Fighting in France Has Reached a Stage Where Bulldog Tenacity Is Factor Which Will Spell Success.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 22.—The important development of the day in France is the report of troops of the allies at Peronne and at Catelet, half way between St. Quentin and Cambrai. The report does not state whether cavalry or infantry, nor are the numbers given. The principal supply line for the army of Gen. Von Kluck follows the route through Lecateau and St. Quentin. The presence of an expeditionary force of the allies within seven miles of this line shows at the least a decided weakness in the German right flank. So important is it to keep up a steady supply of food and ammunition at the front that an army is frequently forced to devote one-fourth of its strength to the safeguarding of its lines of communication.

The danger to which their supply lines are exposed is recognized by the Germans in the organization of a new army at Mons. By pushing these new troops westward they may be able to clear away the turning columns of the allies. If unsuccessful in this attempt, these fresh troops will be available to protect the retirement of the Germans to a new line.

The fighting from Soissons to Verdun has settled down to a question of endurance. The German attacks at Rheims can hardly be pressed in sufficient force to endanger the allies' center. The Germans have no system of roads or railroads behind them to favor such a move. Since troops in immense numbers can move only through districts of well-developed highways, it would seem that the big efforts of the Germans would come in the vicinity of Laon in the west or opposite Metz in the east. It is especially probable that an important German advance against the fortified line between Verdun and Toul will be attempted as one part of their campaign in France. The great success of their big eleven-inch howitzers in destroying the land forts at Namur and Longwy gives the Germans ground for expecting success in a sudden campaign against this line of forts along the Meuse.

Every day of prolongation of this great battle in France should increase the dangers of the German position.

The success of the Russians in Galicia in forcing the Austrians to abandon Paroslaw will have important influence on the rest of the campaign.

The deciding maneuver of this campaign seems to be a race between the Russian armies moving southwest in Poland and the Austrian armies moving west in Galicia. If the Austrians win out in reaching Cracow they can join the German Silesian army and form the right wing of a strong force to bar the further Russian advance. If the Russians win out and interpose between the Galician army and the Silesian army they will have the advantage of a central position, from which they can in turn concentrate first upon one and then the other of their opponents.

Allied Troops Are Also Reported to Have Used the Bayonet in Repelling the Attacks of the Germans and Then Been Given a Chance to Rest.

AT THE BATTLE FRONT, Sept. 23 (via Paris, 6:01 p.m.)—Not a moment's respite was given last night to the German forces entrenched along the ninety-mile front running along the Rivers Aisne and Oise and extending into the Woevre district. The batteries of the allied forces never entirely ceased firing all night, although their activity diminished somewhat after sundown.

The Germans occupying the trenches kept constantly on the alert, but until 2 o'clock this morning no aggressive move was started form the allies' lines facing them. Then all the allied batteries seemed to open fire together, and every point along the front became very active.

At the western end of the line the allied infantry gathered in the trenches and simultaneously at various points crept out and advanced cautiously in wide-open lines toward the German positions.

The French and British on several occasions succeeded in surprising and driving back the occupants of the German trenches, but only after the most stubborn fighting and after heavy losses to both sides. In every instance the allied troops retained the ground captured and immediately dug themselves in.

Further east the Germans themselves developed a strong attack, and, though beaten back with the bayonet, returned again and again.

Finally they were driven off to their original positions. The allied commanders were able to give the troops who had been occupying the advance firing line a welcome rest, and to bring up reinforcements.

FRENCH NAVY BOMBARDS AUSTRIAN PORT, CATTARO

Russian Army Said to Be Surrounding Koenigsberg for an Early Attack—Prince George of Servia Reported to Have Been Wounded While Leading Charge—Sanguinary Fighting Along the Drina.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROME (via Paris) Sept. 22.—The bombardment of Cattaro, the Austrian seaport at the southeast extremity of the Gulf of Cattaro in Dalmatia, by French ships, is reported in a dispatch from Patras, Greece, to the Messagro.

Official news from Petrograd says that the Russians are gradually surrounding Koenigsberg and expect reinforcements at an early date for an attack on that city.

A Cettinje dispatch says that the Servian and Montenegrin armies which have crossed the Drina River are meeting with little opposition from the Austrians.

Reports from Servian headquarters at Vishegrad declare the Austrians have court-martialed many Slavs, some of whom have been shot. Large numbers of Slav women and children are employed by the Austrians digging entrenchments and transporting supplies.

PRINCE GEORGE AGAIN WOUNDED.

NISH, Sept. 22.—Prince George of Servia has again been wounded, this time while leading a charge of a Servian battalion. A rifle bullet penetrated the trunk of his body, but his physicians believe his life is not in danger. He was first wounded at Belgrade early in August by a fragment of shell when that city was being bombarded.

The battle, which has been progressing for several days near Krupini, on the Drina River, has, according to official announcement, ended in complete disaster for the Austrian army.

The announcement declares that 160,000 Austrians were engaged in the encounter, while the Servian forces included various bodies of men who had been concentrated along the Drina, reinforced by troops hastily called from Semlin and Slavonia. The fighting was very sanguinary, the Austrian attempt on Shabatz being repulsed with heavy loss.

FORCE AUSTRIANS TO RETREAT AGA

PARIS, Sept. 22.—In a dispatch from Nish, Servia, dated Sept. 20, the correspondent of the [illegible] News Agency says the Austrians have been forced to retreat along the entire front between Lloubovia, Valjevo and Loznitza and that they are being hotly pursued by the Servians near Kouriatoltza. The Servians have destroyed the bridges over the River Drina, but after suffering heavy losses the Austrians gained the opposite bank. The Austrian attempt, the correspondent continued, to cross the river Save, between Mitrovitza and Shabats failed. In Bosnia [illegible] the Servians occupied the heights of Rogatnitza.

RECRUITS PLENTY FOR ARMY.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—High wages offered for labor by the American farmer and the seven-year enlistment period caused a marked falling off in applications for enlistment in the army during the last year, according to the annual report of the inspector-general's department, made public tonight. The report added, however, that all the recruits necessary for the service were obtained.

Lieut.-Col. D. C. Shanks, who prepared the report, commented at length upon the failure of the army to make due progress in the use of the saber and bayonet. He attributed this largely to the scattering of most of the cavalry along the Mexican border preventing them from receiving the normal amount of instruction.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 22.—Although the President declined to see Theodore Bell and the other Californians who wished to explain to him why the proposed war tax on wines would be an unreasonable and unnecessary burden, they are planning to make the most vigorous fight possible for some concessions. Representative Church declares that the tax is equal to the cost of production and he, as well as other representatives, are planning to carry the fight to the floor of the House unless the Ways and Means Committee consents to reduce the tax on wines.

CLAYTON ANTI-TRUST BILL.

Measure Again Is Delayed Because of Failure to Agree on "Tying" Contract Clause.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Conferees on the Clayton anti-trust bill failed again today to reach a final agreement and will resume negotiations tomorrow. The clash still centers on the section relating to "tying" contracts, reconsideration having been demanded by House members of the action of the conference in amending it.

Charges have been made that agents of the United Shoe Machineries Company have been endeavoring to influence the legislation, which would seriously interfere with their exclusive contracts for shoe machinery supplies.

Senator Overman, who is chairman of a special lobby committee and also a member of the Conference Committee, said today suggestions had been made of "insidious" lobbying against the anti-trust legislation and intimated there might be an investigation later.

Great battle line in Northern France along the river Aisne to the frontier of Germany below Metz.

The allies' line extends from the junction of the Oise along the river Aisne, north of Soissons and Laon, to Ville-sur-Tourbe, on the south of the river; thence west to point north of Vitry which has been evacuated by the Germans, on to the forest of Forges, north of Verdun, and then southeastwardly to Chateau Salins in German territory. The severest fighting is said to be taking place in the neighborhood of Soissons. Since September 6 the allies have driven the greater part of the German line back a distance of fifty miles in the general direction of the Belgian frontier.

NAVY BOSS ON COTTON.

Secretary Daniels Is Going to Wear American Goods While War Lasts.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 22.—Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels set a new fashion to Cabinet officers today when he appeared at his office in a suit of white cotton and announced that as long as the war lasted he would wear only cotton clothing. "The way to help our cotton growers and cotton manufacturers since we have lost our foreign markets is to make a broader American market," Mr. Daniels said. "And the way to help in this is to wear cotton clothing."

HUERTA'S LOANS RAISE QUESTION.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Officials here expressed the opinion today that any problems arising over the pledge of Mexican customs by Gen. Huerta to guarantee a foreign loan probably would have to be dealt with by the future Mexican government. This is one of the questions being considered in the negotiations now in progress for the transfer of authority at Vera Cruz to the Carranza government.

The question looms large upon the horizon, as Gen. Carranza was reported at the time of the consummation of the loan as saying he would not recognize the integrity of any loans advanced to the Huerta regime. The United States is interested in this question, because parts of the bonds are held by a group of American bankers. The loan amounted to about $78,000,000 and was made last autumn.

A French group of bankers holds 45 per cent. of the bonds, German and English groups 19 per cent. each, while 11 per cent. of the bonds were disposed of in the United States. The remaining fraction is held by Mexican bankers. To guarantee this loan 38 per cent. of Mexican import and export duties were pledged.

Secretary Daniels announced today that the battleship Texas had been ordered from New York to Vera Cruz, Mex., to relieve one of the vessels stationed there, presumably the Arkansas. The Secretary said also that the Texas would visit Galveston within a few weeks to receive a silver service from the State.

Although yesterday's official reports indicated that friction between Gens. Obregon and Villa was insignificant, there was a pessimistic tone in advices from Mexico today. The local troubles in Sonora have given rise to the fear among some observers that Villa may attempt to quell the disturbances there independent of Carranza's orders.

The State Department today asked the Carranza government to guarantee the safety of the priests and nuns gathered at Vera Cruz seeking a means to leave the country. Consul Canada reported that about 220 are destitute. Thirty-two of the priests desire to go to Havana, but the wishes of the other religious refugees has not been determined.

SHARP PROTEST BY DRUGGISTS.

WHOLESALERS ARE OPPOSED TO PROPOSED TAX ON PROPRIETARY MEDICINES.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 22.—A flood of protests against the taxing of proprietary medicines as proposed in the war tax bill, will descend on President Wilson and members of Congress from druggists all over the United States, if the recommendation of George W. President Lattimer, in his address to the fortieth annual convention of the association here today said that such a protest should be made. He said the added cost would have to be borne by the consumer.

President Lattimer also spoke in favor of a uniform drug law for all the States.

Charles A. West of Boston was nominated for President to succeed Mr. Lattimer. His election will follow later.

WILSON'S PLAN UNSATISFACTORY

DENVER (Colo.) Sept. 22.—The Colorada Fuel and Iron Company, in a letter to President Wilson, made public tonight, expressed unwillingness to re-employ all strikers who have not been convicted of crime, as suggested in the three-year truce proposal prepared by Hywel Davies and William R. Fairley, mediators appointed by the Secretary of Labor in an effort to end the Colorado coal miners' strike.

The corporation also objected to the final adjudication of disputes by a Federal grievance commission in the manner suggested by the mediators. The letter was signed by J. F. Welborn, president of the company, who is to discuss the strike problem with President Wilson at Washington tomorrow.

At a convention held at Trinidad last week, the union coal miners of Colorado accepted the truce plan without amendment, and notified President Wilson that they were ready to call off the strike and go to work as soon as the proposal should have been accepted by the mine owners.

The letter signed by Mr. Welborn was the individual reply of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company to the letter from President Wilson, urging adoption of the truce plan. The other operators in the State, it was announced, would unite in a separate letter, which would be sent to the President by mail. The Colorado Fuel and Iron Company expressed approval of certain features of the proposed truce, but decided disapproval of other provision. The corporation in its letter maintained that its first obligation was to its present employees, many of whom would have to be discharged if all the strikers who have not been convicted of crime should be re-employed.

FROM WELBORN'S LETTER.

The letter says, in part:

"Owing to the depressed state of the steel industry, we feel that we should offer work available at our mines to such of our iron and steel workers as might be thrown out of employment because of reduced production. Indeed, we are now faced with the possibility that through having to curtail our steel production, with the consequent effect upon coal and coke operations, work will not be available for all the miners even now employed.

"You will understand, too, that a great deal of ill feeling has been engendered between some of the men who quit and those who have remained at or returned to work. We are very sure you would not urge that we reinstate former employees who, although not actually found guilty of violating the laws, have to our knowledge given over indications of hostility toward our men. The inside of a coal mine is at best attended with hazards not common to other operations. It is therefore pequliarly a place where we should not assign men peaceably inclined to work alongside other men who have been instructed to accomplish their ends, if necessary, by violent means and who were now restrained by nothing more than an agreement by their leaders to suspend hostilities.

"We are prepared to re-employ upon work which may be available any man who, so far as we know, has not shared in the responsibility for acts of violence or overt hostility. In fact we are daily taking back such men into our service. Our company bears no ill will towards those, the limit of whose offending was that they left its employ. Our desire is to make our terms of employment so attractive that we can obtain at all times the very best class of workmen.

"But our paramount and immediate responsibility must be to the men still at work, men who for nearly a year have labored under most trying difficulties. For thirty years past this company has assured its every employee that its mines were 'open shops' where any good workman might obtain employment irrespective of whether he was a union or non-union man."

ROCKEFELLER TO WILSON.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The following telegram was sent to President Wilson tonight by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., regarding the interview which the President has granted to a delegation of Colorado coal operators headed by J. F. Welborn, president of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, at Washington, tomorrow.

"Mr. Welborn has sent me a copy of the reply which he has made on behalf of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company to your letter of September 5. As this reply is made on behalf of that company alone I feel at liberty, both as one of its directors and as representing a substantial minority interest, to take a more active part in the matter than I did when it was in the hands of a committee representing all of the operators.

"Will you permit me, therefore, to say that I am in hearty sympathy with the spirit of earnest desire to meet your wishes which Mr. Welborn's letter manifests. I sincerely hope that as a result of the interview you have granted to Mr. Welborn some practical plan may be evolved which will be adapted to the peculiar situation of our company and be acceptable to our employees. I beg further to assure you that my time is at your disposal and that I will support any constructive plan which properly conserves the interests of the stockholders, the employees and the public."

LABORER DROPS THIRTEEN FLOORS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 22.—Losing his balance while working on a scaffold on the Clift Hotel, in the course of construction at Taylor and Geary streets today, Theodore Mayrick, a hodcarrier, fell thirteen floors to the ground, but in the descent he grasped a wire cable and was not injured, except for some slight bruises on the hands.

The sensational fall and almost miraculous escape were witnessed by many persons in the street, who stood transfixed with horror as the unfortunate man fell.

The cable ran up the side of the building and Mayrick was able to grasp it after he had fallen a few feet. His clutch on the wire retarded his progress materially, but he could not stop his fall. As he neared the ground he gripped the wire with all his strength and saved his life.

SENATE PASSES HARBORS BILL.

But Measure Now Carries Only Twenty Millions.

Burton's Filibuster Succeeds After Long Fight.

Another Struggle on Tap in Lower House.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Prompt passage by the Senate today of a substitute measure providing $20,000,000 to be expended by the army engineers on existing projects, finally ended the long filibuster against the River and Harbor Appropriation Bill, which originally carried $53,000,000. The bill now goes to the House, where it is expected to precipitate another vigorous fight.

When the Commerce Committee, under the Senate's instructions, brought in the substitute today no show of opposition was offered and the measure passed without a record vote.

Senator Simmons, who led the long fight against the filibuster, made a lengthy speech just before the vote. He defended the original measure and discussed at length the theory of waterway improvement and the policy heretofore pursued. He declared, however, that the theory of controlling railroad rates by waterway improvement would not work out until the railroads were prevented from meeting competitive water rates and making up their losses by raising their rates on non-competitive routes.

A tribute to Senator Burton and the other opponents of the bill, who conducted the successful filibuster, was paid by Senator Stone of Missouri, who declared, however, that despite the defeat of the bill, the sentiment of the country was overwhelmingly in favor of liberal waterway improvement.

Mother's Friend Before Baby Arrives

During several weeks of expectancy there is a splendid external embrocation in our "Mother's Friend" in which thousands of women have the most unbounded confidence. They have used it and know. They tell of its wonderful influence to ease the abdominal muscles and how they avoided those dreaded stretching pains that are so much talked about. This safe external application is gently used over the skin to render it amenable to the natural stretching which it undergoes. The myriad of nerve threads just beneath the skin is thus relieved of unnecessary pain-producing causes and great physical relief is the result as expressed by a host of happy mothers who write from experience.

It is a subject that all women should be familiar with as "Mother's Friend" has been in use many years, and is recommended by grandmothers who in their earlier days learned to rely upon this splendid aid to women.

You can obtain "Mother's Friend" at almost any drug store. Get a bottle to-day and then write for our little book so useful to expectant mothers.

RADIO COMPANY DECIDES TO SUE.

Marconi People Will Test United States' Power.

Mysterious Wireless Outfit Reported on the Coast.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company of America announced here today that it was preparing papers for a suit in the Federal Courts to determine whether the United States government has the right and power to close its plants for not observing the naval neutrality regulations.

Edward J. Nally, vice-president and general-manager, made the announcement in a statement setting forth the present position of the company in regard to its controversy with the Navy Department.

STAND OF DANIELS.

Secretary Daniels made it clear tonight that he does not propose to allow litigation in the courts to interfere with the enforcement by the United States government of neutrality at all wireless stations.

Robert Ford, local representative of the Marconi company, called on Mr. Daniels and was shown a copy of the opinion by Atty.-Gen. Gregory, setting forth that the President had absolute right to censor messages or close stations whenever he deemed it necessary for the preservation of the country's neutrality.

OBEY OR CLOSE, DANIELS'S EDICT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Secretary Daniels said today he would give the Marconi Company until tomorrow to give assurance that it would observe the naval neutrality regulations in the operation of the Siasconset (Mass.) wireless station. Mr. Daniels Saturday served notice that, unless he received a prompt assurance that the company would observe the department's rules, he would order the Siasconset station closed to all communication.

SEEK PACIFIC COAST PLANT.

On complaint of the British embassy, the Department of Agriculture has begun a search for a mysterious wireless plant supposed to be operating in the mountains on the Pacific Coast. Information furnished to the department is vague, but apparently the plant is busily engaged in sending messages uncensored by the Federal government. Forest rangers who patrol the mountains are understood to have received orders to look for the wireless outfit.

HOW REPORT ORIGINATED.

SEATTLE, Sept. 22.—The report that a wireless plant was in operation somewhere in the Puget Sound country and was communicating with the German cruiser Leipzig, originated in British Columbia a month ago when a rumor was also current that the cruiser planned a descent upon Prince Rupert, B. C. It was reported further that steamers leaving Seattle with coal were planning a delivery to the Leipzig at sea. Investigation by naval officers of the United States proved that the coal was for a legitimate destination and that there was no wireless plant conveying unlawful messages.

Afterward it was learned by the British authorities that the Leipzig, after coming north as far as Cape Mendocino, had altered her course and had never entered the North Pacific.

SEARCH IN OREGON.

PORTLAND, Sept. 22.—At the request of Thomas Erskine, British Consul in Portland, a search was started in Oregon by the Department of Agriculture, to locate an alleged German wireless station hidden in the mountains, according to E. A. Johnson, Assistant United States District Attorney here. The British Consul recently received an anonymous letter saying that wireless antennae were rigged on pine poles at an unlocated spot near the coast and that the station was in communication with German warships.

Edison's Telescribe Records Both Sides of 'Phone Conversation.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 22.—Edison's latest invention, the telescribe, which records both sides of a telephone conversation, was exhibited this afternoon. The principle of the machine is simple. The desk telephone is equipped with two transmitters and two receivers. The talker uses one set and the other set is hitched to a phonograph record which takes down every sound on the wire. The phonograph is started recording and stopped at will by pressing buttons.

LARGE PROPORTION IN GERMAN HEALTH RESORTS.

Minister Van Dyke at The Hague Believes That the Number of Refugees Is Still Very Large, Many of Them Students in Financial Trouble.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

THE HAGUE (via London) Sept. 22.—While there is a decided decrease in the number of Americans here in need of aid, Dr. Van Dyke, the American Minister, said today that the cases now before him were most difficult. In many instances persons applying for assistance are finding it hard to prove American citizenship, but only a few imposters have been discovered among the crowds that have sought assistance. Many of the applicants are unable to speak English, but investigation usually establishes that their claims are valid.

In view of the fact that Capt. Sunderland and other American army and navy officers have been recalled from relief work, it is believed here that congestion in the work may result and an effort is being made to divide the task of caring for Americans between Consul-General Leslie at Rotterdam and some civilians.

It is believed several thousands of Americans in Central Europe have been unable thus far to leave, owing to illness or to lack of funds. Recently many persons who had been unable to leave earlier passed through here. The majority of them had been at health resorts in Germany and Austria. Even Dr. Van Dyke is unable to give the number of Americans remaining in Central Europe. Estimates of the number of those still in Germany range from 8000 to 15,000. Several thousand of these are American students, many of whom have been unable to get away thus far, while others of them, having credit, refuse to interrupt their studies.

"I wish to acknowledge the courtesies shown Americans by the Dutch government," said Dr. Van Dyke today. "It has done everything possible to be of assistance to them and has shown an interest in the welfare of our people. On August 3 the Dutch government consented to have the state bank cash all drafts held by Americans, provided I indorsed them in the name of the American government, which authorization I secured. There has been no trouble here since then in getting cash, though we were obliged to limit persons to their actual needs."

From other sources it has been learned that Dr. Van Dyke has made representations on behalf of Dutch vessels detained by the French and English and succeeded in securing the release of silver bars and foodstuffs consigned to Dutch merchants.

REFUGEES CROWD DUTCH STEAMER.

ALLIES' BULL KILLS GERMANS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Sept. 22.—The Petit Parisienne prints a story of a bull, which it says killed eighteen Germans. It appears that when the peasants in the neighborhood of Sezanne were warned of the approach of the Germans they opened the gates of the cattle pens and endeavored to drive the cattle to a place of safety. One enormous bull, it is said, becoming enraged by the sound of the cannon fire, broke away and charged the Germans, who looked on in stupefaction, believing it some trick of the French. At the first dash the bull gored six, throwing them high in the air. Others shot and wounded the animal which, however, gored twelve more before succumbing.

JAPS ACCUSED BY MISSIONARY.

Declares Supplies Are Lost and Women Terrorized.

Western Section of Area in Way to Tsing-tau.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE]

PEKING, Sept. 22.—The correspondent here of the Associated Press has received a letter from Charles A. Leonard of the American Southern Baptist mission at Lai Chow, Shantung province, in which Chinese reports of ill treatment of the inhabitants by Japanese troops in the country are repeated.

Mr. Leonard relates the passage of the western section of the Japanese army, which he says was about 60,000 strong, composed of cavalry, infantry and artillery, and which went through Lai Chow.

The advance guard of the troops did not molest the Chinese populace and compensated them for what they took. But when the larger detachments arrived terrorizing were falling. For this reason the Japanese did not pitch their tents but entered the best Chinese houses and compelled local merchants and other Chinese to work for them. In many cases they dried their wet clothes by making fires of the furniture in the middle of the rooms. The men fed their horses on the ripening crops and the soldiers killed chickens and cattle for their own use, frequently with inadequate or no compensation.

Mr. Leonard declares that the Chinese women, terrorized, deserted their homes. Five, he said, committed suicide, either to escape attack by Japanese or after they had been attacked. The various Japanese proclamations posted in the war zone declaring friendship to the Chinese people and republic, explain the necessity of terminating Germany's military and naval activities in the Orient and exhort the people to continue their vocations unalarmed.

"But any one daring to interfere with our troops will immediately be arrested and punished with severity," these proclamations continued.

"All boats, carts, cattle, horses, fuel, grain and meat required will be immediately be supplied to our troops, for which will compensate for these supplies at equitable valuations."

Mr. Leonard said that many of the notes are being issued as in the Russo-Japanese War and that the repudiation of these notes began at Hankow, September 4.

"If the people were compensated it would not be so bad," Mr. Leonard wrote, "but although I made many inquiries, I was unable to learn of any compensation for chickens, grain and fuel obtained in Chinese homes; nor for coal and furniture burned or for the occupation of houses."

Mr. Leonard said that all the stories came from the surrounding countryside.

REWARD AIRMEN WITH IRON CROSS.

BERLIN, Sept. 22, 9:16 p.m.—Every member of the crew of a German dirigible balloon which destroyed the Russian fortress of Ivangorod, Russian Poland, on August 21, and Crown Prince Wilhelm II has been decorated with the Iron Cross for a brilliant reconnaissance.

The announcement given by the German headquarters under date of September 21 relates that in the fighting around Rheims the Germans have occupied the heights of Craonne, which is described as on fire, and occupied the village of Betheny. The Germans have attacked the French forts to the south of Verdun and have crossed victoriously the Meuse frontier of Lorraine, which was defended by eight French army corps. A French sortie from a point on the east of Verdun was repulsed.

RHEIMS IN LINE OF FRENCH BATTLE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The German Embassy today received the following wireless from Berlin:

"Headquarters reports that on Sept. 21 that the attack against the French and English army makes progress. Rheims lies in the French battle line and we regret being forced to shell their fire. The city suffers, but orders have been given to spare the cathedral.

"In middle Alsace the French attacks have been repulsed. The subscription to the German war loan up to the present time reaches 4,000,000 marks."

RUSSIAN GENERAL IS BEING TRIED.

THE HAGUE (via London) Sept. 22.—A special dispatch to the Amsterdam post from Berlin says that a report has been forthcoming of the recusations against the Russian general Martos, who is charged with the murder of non-combatants in East Prussian towns and villages occupied by Russian troops. His trial by court-martial is proceeding.

KAISER PRESENTS ROSES TO WOUNDED SOLDIERS

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 22.—Berlin papers just received give the story of the Kaiser's visit to a military hospital. He walked through rows of wounded soldiers, spoke to the men and grasped the outstretched hands of those unable to salute or to rise from their beds. Afterward he sent a rose to every wounded soldier who did not have the honor of a personal chat with him. Incidentally, he distributed iron crosses right and left.

A clergyman who had the care of the wounded addressed the Kaiser with a heavy heart:

"We have all to make sacrifices these times."

The Emperor reminded the clergyman he had six sons fighting.

"Yes, Your Majesty, that is a pride and happiness," responded the chaplain.

"I did all in my power to preserve peace," the Kaiser said, "but our enemies would not have peace, so we will have to crush them to the ground."

CHURCH APPEAL BY RED CROSS.

Asks Prayers for Peace and Money Contribution Also.

Women Inaugurate Move to Bring War to an End.

Socialists Predict Saber Rule if Germans Win.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—This appeal to the churches of the United States was issued tonight by the Executive Committee of the American Red Cross:

"Our President has by proclamation designated Sunday, October 4, as a day of prayer for peace. It has been suggested in many quarters that on this Sunday a collection be taken up in every church to relieve suffering in the war-ravaged countries of Europe. The Red Cross, which is charged with the special duty of aiding the sick and wounded in time of war, respectfully urges that opportunity be given in each church to every person who so desires to make a contribution to be given to the American Red Cross, which is impartially aiding in every country in a spirit of common humanity and which recognizes no distinction of race or nationality. However, every contributor who desires to designate any particular fund or country to which his or her contribution shall be applied may do so and such request will be respected."

WOMEN DISCUSS PEACE CONGRESS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Organization of a Women's Peace Congress to terminate the European war was discussed here today at a meeting of the Women's Peace Parade Committee.

"It is time to say that legalized murder is never right, whether it be done by the executioner or by the decisions of a President or an Emperor," said Mrs. Henry Villard, president of the Peace Parade Committee, in an address. "Too long have women been controlled by the teachings of men who demand of them that they permit their fathers, husbands and sons to perish on the field of battle."

Resolutions were adopted urging the women of America to oppose all plans based upon the military idea; to refrain from the purchase of any weapons, and to work against the importation from foreign countries and to see that nothing be placed in the hands of children to keep before them the idea of war.

SOCIALISTS FEAR RULE OF SABER.

BORDEAUX, Sept. 22.—The attitude of the French Socialists towards the war is defined in the newspaper, La France, by a Socialist who is described as "one of the highest authorities in Paris."

"Internationalism," he writes, "never meant the suppression of nationality, but an understanding between the nations which naturally presupposes their existence. Socialists realize that victory for Germany would be followed by a rule of saber and spurred heel in Europe, while a triumph for France would mean a German republic, a republic in Bohemia, a republic in Austria, and a republic in Hungary and an end to European militarism. It would mean peace assured and all roads to progress opened.

"The war for us is something more than a struggle for our sacred national independence; it is the barricade on which we fight for the progress of humanity. That is why we have abandoned everything for national defense."

Government Introduces Testimony at Buffalo Designed to Show Cost of Manufacturing Eastman Products.

BUFFALO, Sept. 22.—The government's suit for the dissolution of the Eastman Kodak Company, because of alleged violations of the Sherman anti-trust law, was adjourned today, until October 12.

The prosecution scored what is considered an important point, when, at the close of its case, Judge John R. Hazel admitted as evidence testimony designed to show the cost of manufacturing Eastman products.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Organization of a Women's Peace Congress to terminate the European war was launched here today at a meeting of Women's Peace Parade Committee.

"It is time to say that legalized murder is never right, whether it be done by the executioner or by the bullets of a President or an Emperor," said Mrs. Henry Villard, president of the Peace Parade Committee, in an address. "Too long have we been controlled by the teachings of men who demand of them that they permit their fathers, husbands and sons to perish on the field of battle."

Resolutions were adopted urging the women of America to oppose all plans based upon the military basis, a refrain from the purchase of munitions, and to work against the importation from foreign countries, and to see that nothing be placed in the hands of children to keep before them the idea of war.

ALISTS FEAR RULE OF SABER.

BORDEAUX, Sept. 22.—The attitude of the French Socialists towards war is defined in the newspaper, La Guerre, by a Socialist who is described as "one of the highest authorities in Paris."

"Internationalism," he writes, "never meant the suppression of nationality, but an understanding between the nations which naturally supposes their existence. Socialism realizes that victory for Germany would be followed by a rule of saber and spurred heel in Europe, while a victory for France would mean a democratic republic, a republic in Bohemia, a republic in Austria, and a republic in Hungary and an end to Prussian militarism. It would mean liberty secured and all roads to progress opened.

"The war for us is something more than a struggle for our sacred national independence; it is the barricade on which we fight for the progress of humanity. That is why we have sacrificed everything for national defense."

BAKER COMPANY SUIT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BUFFALO, Sept. 22.—The government's suit for the dissolution of the Eastman Kodak Company, because of alleged violations of the Sherman anti-trust law, was adjourned today, to October 12.

The prosecution scored what is considered an important point, when, at the close of its case, Judge John R. Hazel admitted as evidence testimony intended to show the cost of manufacturing Eastman products.

"A feature of this action, as of the previous fighting, is the use by the enemy of their numerous heavy howitzers, with which they are able to direct long-range fire all over the valley and right across it. Upon these they evidently place great reliance.

"When our men are holding the forward edges of the high ground on the north side they are now strongly intrenched. They are well fed, and, in spite of the wet weather of the past week, are cheerful and confident.

"The bombardment by both sides has been very heavy, and on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday was practically continuous. Nevertheless, in spite of the general din caused by the reports of the immense number of heavy guns in action along our front on Wednesday, the arrival of the French force acting against the German right flank was at once announced on the east of our front some miles away by the continuous roar of the quick-firing artillery with which the attack was opened.

"So far as the British are concerned, the greater part of this week has been passed in bombardment, in gaining ground by degrees and in beating back severe counter-attacks with heavy slaughter. Our casualties have been severe, but it is probable that those of the enemy are heavier.

"The rain has caused a great drop in the temperature and there is more than a distant feeling of autumn in the air, especially in the early morning.

"On our right and left the French have been fighting fiercely and have also been gradually gaining ground. One village already during this battle has been captured and recaptured twice by each side and at the time of writing remains in the hands of the Germans.

"The fighting has been at close quarters and of the most desperate nature, and the streets of the village are filled with dead of both sides.

"As an example of the spirit which is inspiring our allies, the following translation of an Ordre du Jour, published on September 9, after the battle of Montmirail, by the commander of the French fifth army, is given:

"'Soldiers: Upon the memorable fields of Montmirail, of Vauchamps, of Champaubert, which a century ago witnessed the victories of our ancestors over Blucher's Prussians, your vigorous offensive has triumphed over the resistance of the Germans. Held on his flanks, his center broken, the enemy now is retreating towards the east and north by forced marches. The most renowned army corps of old Prussia, the contingents of Westphalia, of Hanover, of Brandenburg, have retired in haste before you.

"'This first success is no more than the prelude. The enemy is shaken, but not yet decisively beaten. You have still to undergo severe hardships, to make long marches, to fight hard battles. May the image of our country, soiled by barbarians, always remain before your eyes! Never was it more necessary to sacrifice all for her.

"'Saluting the heroes who have fallen in the fighting of the last few days, my thoughts turn toward you, the victors in the next battle. Forward, soldiers, for France!

"'Montmirail, 9th September, 1914.

"'General commanding the Fifth Army.

"'FRANCHET D'ESPEREY.'

"The Germans are a formidable enemy, well trained, long prepared and brave. Their soldiers are carrying on the contest with skill and valor."

UNREFRESHING SLEEP

The woman who is tired out, who aches all over when she rises in the morning, who feels depressed most of the time, needs just the help that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can give her—new blood and stronger nerves.

The number of disorders that are caused by thin blood is amazing and most women are careless about the condition of their blood. Quickly the nerves are affected and the patient becomes irritable, worries over trifles, does not sleep as well as formerly and is not refreshed by rest. There may or may not be stomach trouble and headache. This is a condition that calls for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the non-alcoholic tonic.

Give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial and the first sign of new life will be noticed in your appetite. You will be hungry by meal time. As the blood becomes enriched it feeds and soothes the irritated nerves, sleep becomes sounder and more refreshing, your worries become less, your work lighter. These are some of the things that these tonic pills do. Try them for any trouble caused by thin blood.

The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., will mail free to any woman the booklet, "Plain Talks to Women." Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

ENGLAND EXPLAINS.

Declares Sir Edward Grey Never Said Germany Must Be Humbled Before Peace Comes.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The British Embassy issued this statement.

"Certain persons have been circulating in the press reports of speeches supposed to have been delivered by British statesmen, such, for instance, as that attributed to Mr. Burns, which is a pure fabrication.

"Recently a statement has been made as to a speech of Sir Edward Grey, in which he is quoted as saying that 'there shall be no peace until Germany is humbled to the earth, her territory divided between Russia and France, and her commerce definitely delivered to England.'

"Sir Edward Grey never delivered such a speech and the statement is obviously circulated with a view to mislead public opinion."

BOY CONFESSES MURDER.

Eighteen-Year-Old Youth Held in Alameda County Jail Breaks Down at Last.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OAKLAND, Sept. 22. — Emmett Coll, an 18-year-old youth, who, following his arrest a month ago in Reno, Nev., has been held in the Alameda County Jail, confessed tonight to the murder of an unidentified boy at Livermore late last July.

Coll is supposed to have been one of a party of five men who, after a spree, became involved in a free-for-all fight which terminated in the murder of the youth.

SHORTHAND IN ONE HOUR

Mrs. Lena A. White, author of the marvelously simple Human Voice Shorthand System, and the world's most successful shorthand teacher, is now located in the Human Voice Shorthand School, Suite 329 Marsh-Strong Building, Ninth and Main Streets, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Lena A. White's three specialties, shorthand, typewriting and expert training in English, have so greatly surpassed all like branches of study that she has been obliged to secure sworn statements from her Los Angeles students to properly convince the Los Angeles public of the true merit of her unprecedented methods.

AFFIDAVIT

"We, the undersigned, all being residents of Los Angeles County, California, and students of the Human Voice Shorthand School, Los Angeles, California, do hereby make affidavit that it is possible for anyone who possesses average intelligence, and who has a public school education, to become an expert stenographer in forty days with Mrs. Lena A. White's Human Voice Shorthand System; and we know it is possible for anyone with average intelligence to memorize Mrs. Lena A. White's Human Voice Shorthand System in one hour."

SIGNED

Miss Frances Musgrove	Mr. George H. Day
Miss Eunice B. Dorland	Mr. Robert C. La Barge
Miss Ida Pollard	Mr. C. C. Adams
Miss Lucile F. Willy	Mr. Edmund L. Smith
Mrs. B. V. Ressing	Mr. W. H. Bartlett
Miss Louise M. Fitzgerald	Mr. L. J. Ramirez
Miss Cora Krueger	Mr. Merrill Sturtevant
Miss Solidad Mallefert	Mr. A. Fredericks

From the Chicago Tribune, September 3, 1905

"The fact that George L. Gray, an 18-year-old boy, and one of Mrs. Lena A. White's graduates beat the world's record in a shorthand test, proves conclusively that Mrs. Lena A. White's Human Voice Shorthand System surpasses all other systems of shorthand. Mr. Gray's graduating speed record, after studying 35 days at White's College of Shorthand, was 275 words per minute. He could then read his shorthand notes as fluently as longhand. Another of Mrs. Lena A. White's graduates took the medal from the world's most rapid typewriter operators at the Business Appliance Show, held in the Chicago Coliseum last March."

WANTED—DO NOT READ THIS UNLESS YOU HAVE $5000 TO INVEST. Especially attractive; practically no hazard; profits enormous.
A sale of 25 "units," $5000 per "unit," is now being offered. Terms, 10 per cent. ($500) cash, subscription is accepted. The nine subsequent payments, each 10 per cent., or $500, scattered over a year, 30 days' notice given on each payment, 4 per cent. discount for all cash.
Local Los Angeles banks will gladly handle our reference. In ordinary times these "units" would be snapped up in a day.

Only 25 "units" all told to be placed, and six of these have already been taken by high-class, well-known Los Angeles men, after they had carefully investigated the splendid merits of this meritorious offering.
You owe it to yourself, if you have cash for a choice investment, to write us for an interview or personally call on

HARRY CHANDLER.
Assistant General Manager, The Times.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 2nd day of September, 1914.
[Seal] T. L. CHAPIN,
Notary Public in and for the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

The Times is the only newspaper in Los Angeles that does not make a practice of paneslizing agents, newsboys and dealers to return unsold copies in its issue. Neither does it misbrand or predate its editions, or inflate its circulation by printing more copies than are actually necessary to supply its patrons.

The Times' entire circulation is practically net, and it is more genuine and superior in every respect to that of any other newspaper.

PLAGUE RECURS.

Two Cases of the Bubonic Pest Unexpectedly Appear in New Orleans, One Fatal.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22.—Two new cases of bubonic plague were discovered here today. One of the victims, John J. Vath, was found dead. The other, Clarice Alexander, a negress, 40 years old, still lives. For ten days there have been no cases here.

Vath, who was a baker, died before the physician who attended him suspected he was afflicted with the plague. While health officers say there is no danger of infection from goods Vath may have sold while he was suffering with the plague, his shop has been closed temporarily. The Bourbon street section, from which the cases came today, is not a new focus of infection, but no new cases had developed there recently.

KILLS HIS CAPTOR.

Young Pennsylvania Man Shoots High Constable of Doylestown While Being Taken to Jail.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

DOYLESTOWN (Pa.) Sept. 22.—Henry A. Kolbe, high constable of Doylestown, was shot through the heart and killed today by William Miller, 18 years old, as he was taking the young man to jail on a charge of having forged a check. Miller tried to escape, but was captured by bystanders. Because of Wild West proclivities Miller had been nicknamed "Broncho Bill."

Submarines Sail.

SEATTLE, Sept. 22.—The submarine tender Cheyenne, convoying the submarines H-1 and H-2, sailed from the Puget Sound navy yard for San Pedro, Cal., via Bellingham, today, for a test of the submarines.

A NURSE TAKES DOCTOR'S ADVICE

Euphemia, Ohio.—"Because of total ignorance of how to care for myself when verging into womanhood, and from taking cold when going to school, I suffered from a displacement, and each month I had severe pains and nausea which always meant a lay-off from work for two to four days from the time I was 16 years old.

"I went to Kansas to live with my sister and while there a doctor told me of the Pinkham remedies but I did not use them then as my faith in patent medicines was limited. After my sister died I came home to Ohio to live and that has been my home for the last 18 years.

"The Change of Life came when I was 47 years old and about this time I saw my physical condition plainly described in one of your advertisements. Then I began using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot tell you or any one the relief it gave me in the first three months. It put me right where I need not lay off every month and during the last 18 years I have not paid out two dollars to a doctor, and have been blest with excellent health for a woman of my age and I can thank Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for it.

"Since the Change of Life is over I have been a maternity nurse and being wholly self-supporting I cannot over estimate the value of good health. I have now earned a comfortable little home just by sewing and nursing. I have recommended the Compound to many with good results, as it is excellent to take before and after childbirth."—Miss EVELYN ADELIA STEWART, Euphemia, Ohio.

BRITISH SEIZE GERMAN LINER.

Take the Spreewald Off North Atlantic Coast.

Steamship Fitted Out as an Armed Cruiser.

Two Colliers Loaded With Coal Also Captured.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 22.—The Hamburg-American Line steamer Spreewald has been captured by the British cruiser Berwick in the North Atlantic Ocean, according to an announcement by the Admiralty tonight. It was stated also that two colliers had been captured.

The Spreewald was fitted out as an armed cruiser. The two colliers carried 2600 tons of coal and 130 tons of provisions for the German cruisers in Atlantic waters. The Berwick is commanded by Capt. Lewis C. Baker.

CENSUS OF CAPTURES.

The total number of German vessels which, according to latest reports, have been captured by British vessels at sea or by British port authorities, is ninety-two. Ninety-five German vessels were detained in British ports at the outbreak of the war.

Seventy British vessels were held in German ports at the commencement of hostilities, and since then twelve British seagoing vessels out of the upwards of 4000 carrying an overseas trade have been captured and sunk at sea.

The Spreewald is a steamer of 2214 tons. She was last reported as having sailed from Antwerp July 12 for the West Indies and to have arrived at St. Thomas, D. W. I., August 4.

RESCUED BY DUTCH.

A dispatch received here from the Hook of Holland says the Dutch steamer Titon has arrived there, bringing twenty British wounded and some dead, picked up in the North Sea after the sinking of the British cruisers Aboukir, Hogue and Cressy.

The Admiralty has issued an official list of the casualties on the Carmania, which sank an armed German merchant steamer off the South American coast. It shows that nine men were killed and five seriously wounded. No officers' name appears among the dead or seriously wounded.

The German steamer Professor Woermann, of the Woermann line, with 300 German reservists on board, has been taken captive and brought into Sierra Leone, on the west coast of Africa, according to information which has reached London.

EASY VICTORY OVER PEGASUS.

CAPE TOWN (Union of South Africa) Sept. 22.—Further details have been obtained here of the naval action in the harbor of Zanzibar last Sunday morning when the British cruiser Pegasus, under command of Capt. John A. Inglish, was attacked and put out of action by the German cruiser Koenigsberg. It seems that the Koenigsberg approached Zanzibar Harbor at full speed. She disabled a patrol boat with three shots and then opened fire on the Pegasus. Her shooting was accurate. She commenced firing at 9000 yards, closing in to 7000. The Pegasus replied with all her guns, but her artillery was disabled in fifteen minutes. When her fire ceased there came a lull of five minutes, after which the Koenigsberg again opened fire for another quarter of an hour. The Pegasus was unable to reply.

Nearly all the casualties on board the British boat occurred around her guns and on her upper deck. She was badly injured on the water line and listed heavily. Her flag was shot away twice, but each time it was raised again and held up by her marines. Apparently little or no damage was sustained by the Koenigsberg.

SPOKANE DOCTOR REACHES NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The Red Star liner Zeeland came in today from Liverpool with 363 passengers from the war zone of Europe. All had stories to tell. Dr. H. H. McCarthy of Spokane, Wash., was in Berlin when a train containing several hundred wounded British prisoners passed through. A crowd of hoodlums attacked the train, crying "Kill the English." As the prisoners were shackled at the ankles and wrists they were helpless. A squad of German cavalry charged the mob and beat it off with the broad sides of their sabers.

Henry de Sibour, an American living in London, who was marooned at Belfort when the war broke out, on one field saw squares of dead German soldiers. Those on the outside had fallen, but the bodies toward the center of the squares were standing upright, leaning against each other. Officers told him machine guns were responsible for this wholesale killing.

Mrs. De Sibour declared a near relative of hers, who is an officer of an English railroad, had told her his line had transported 250,000 Russian troops across England.

The name Germania was stricken today from the list of vessels owned by the Fabre steamship line, a French company. It was announced that the Germania would henceforth be known as the Britannia. She sails between this port and Marseilles.

BRITISH STEAMER SUNK.

TREBISOND (Asia Minor) Sept. 22 (via London) Twenty-two persons lost their lives by drowning as a result of the sinking of the British steamer Belgian King near Cape Kureli yesterday.

The Belgian King carried 120 passengers and crew. Ninety-eight of them were saved by a Russian steamer. It is surmised this accident was due to a mine, but the real cause has not been revealed.

CRUISER'S LOSS CONFIRMED.

BERLIN, Sept. 22 (via Rotterdam and London)—The report of the sinking of the German armed merchant cruiser Cap Trafalgar September 14, off the east coast of South America by the Cunard line steamer Carmania, converted into a British auxiliary cruiser, has been confirmed in an official statement given out here today. This communication adds that the crew of the Cap Trafalgar was saved by the German steamer Elenore Woerman.

MUST STAND TRIAL.

Motion to Quash Indictments and Demurrer in Alleged Conspiracy Case Are Overruled.

Judge Wellborn, in the United States District Court, yesterday, denied the motion to quash the indictment against C. A. Elder and others in the Los Angeles Investment Company case, and also overruled the demurrer to the indictment.

Monday, October 5, was set for the plea of the defendants.

On the motion to quash, the defendants claimed the indictment had been found without proper evidence, but the court held the presumption was strong that the books of the company were correctly kept. It was also asserted that the books had not been legally identified, but on this point the court held that they had been produced by an officer of the company in response to a subpoena calling for their production.

On the demurrer proposition the indictment was challenged on the ground, among others, that it failed to allege an essential ingredient of the crime sought to be charged, namely, that the defendants, as a part of their conspiracy, intended to effect its object through the mails.

Northern Case.

SECURES HOTEL AND HIS MONEY.

SO SAN FRANCISCAN ACCUSES WOMAN OF DOING.

She Is Arrested Here on Telegraphic Warrant—Bay City Man Says He Gave Her Property on Marriage Promise and That She Traded It for Rooming-House.

Arrested on a telegraphic warrant from San Francisco, Miss Sadie L. Quigley, a prepossessing young woman, was arrested by Detectives Browning and Bowe at No. 652 South Spring street last night charged with felony embezzlement. She was taken to the Central Station, where she was locked up in the matron's department to await the arrival of an officer from the north.

According to a telegram received late last night, Miss Quigley is charged by Edward Preston of San Francisco with having swindled him out of a valuable piece of real estate and $500. Preston alleges that Miss Quigley, whom he claims to have been engaged to marry, persuaded him to deed over to her the Preston Hotel, Kearney and California streets, San Francisco, stating that immediately the property was in her name, she would become his bride. In addition to this, claims that the young woman induced him to deposit $500 to her credit in a local bank.

Upon securing the deed to the property and the certificate of deposit for the $500 Miss Quigley is said to have disappeared and Mr. Preston states that nothing further was heard of her by him until upon making an investigation of her disappearance a few days ago, he learned that she had exchanged the Preston Hotel for a Los Angeles rooming-house and drawing the money from the bank, had departed for the Southland.

HALF A DAY A WORD.

Youth Who Criticises Court's Decision in His Speeding Case Sent Up for Contempt.

F. G. Phellis, a young autoist, learned yesterday that criticism of a judge's verdict had best be reserved until one is safely out of the courtroom.

The young man was fined $25 by Police Judge White after Motorcycle Officer Finn had testified that the motorist had traveled twenty-six miles an hour on Flower street, between Tenth and Pico streets.

The sentence imposed, Phellis turned to sit down. As he did so he snapped:

"That's pretty damned tough for me."

An oath was thrown in for good measure. Justice White, hearing the remark, turned sharply toward Phellis.

"Young man, that remark will cost you three days in jail for contempt of court."

TO AVERT DISCLOSURES.

Elaborately Furnished Disorderly House Raided in Select Neighborhood—Girls Refused to Tell.

Charged with maintaining a magnificently furnished disorderly-house within the shadow of a church, at No. 2820 Budlong street, Helen Johnson and Daisy Harris were arrested by Detectives Sweetnam and O'Gara last night and locked up.

When the officers burst into the apartments they were astonished to find that the rooms were furnished in luxurious oriental style and that patrons had been in the habit of coming in through a rear door.

The girls simply smiled when asked to give the names of the men who had frequented the place and intimated that they would plead guilty to prevent scandalous disclosures.

s Separated Them, but Quiet End Unites.

Death bridged a domestic chasm and reunited in human sympathy two remarkable persons, when it ended the career of Mrs. Jeanne B. Jackling, whose funeral was held in this city yesterday. The chief mourner at the quiet and simple services was her former husband, Col. David C. Jackling, the mining multi-millionaire, who turned back from a trip to Alaska to hasten here for that purpose.

Mrs. Jackling, noted for her charities and philanthropies, with a great personal fortune at her disposal, died at her home, No. 1238 South Bonnie Brae street, last Friday. Two years ago she came here in Southern California after having been legally separated from her husband at Salt Lake City. Mrs. Jackling was a brilliant and accomplished woman, but the habit of leaning upon her husband for advice and counsel her after the separation seeking counsel from Mr. Jackling upon almost every important business deal in which she was interested.

A year ago she was operated upon and never rallied from the shock. She had been ill for many years. When death came every effort was made to reach Mr. Jackling, who had left Salt Lake and was on his way to Alaska. He revised his plans, telegraphed local undertakers to prepare the body for burial and provide the finest bronze coffin obtainable. He arrived here early yesterday morning and attended the funeral at the Cunningham and O'Connor chapel a few hours later.

Mrs. Jackling was 38 years old and was born at Keeseville, N. Y. She was teaching school at Victor, Colo., when she met Mr. Jackling, then a struggling mining engineer. They were married and soon after Mr. Jackling's meteoric rise in the mining world made Mrs. Jackling the mistress of one of the most beautiful homes in Salt Lake City.

It was while he was amassing his vast fortune that there came a misunderstanding, owing to Mr. Jackling's protracted trips in the interests of his expanding business, and two years ago it was mutually agreed by the Jacklings that they should sep-

MIGHTY MAN OF MINING.

Chief Mourner for Late Mrs. Jackling Also One of the Wealthiest.

Col. D. C. Jackling is one of the foremost mining men in the world and accounted one of the wealthiest men in the United States. The basis of his enormous fortune was a method he perfected for extracting copper from low-grade ores. He owns copper and other mining properties in many parts of the world and is connected with numerous other business enterprises. He is vice-president of the Chino, Ray Consolidated, Utah Copper, Nevada Consolidated and Alaska Gold companies, of whose properties he makes an annual tour in his private car or his luxurious yacht. In addition to his magnificent home he maintains a large suite at the Hotel Utah, in Salt Lake, and has recently engaged the entire top floor of the new wing of the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco for his private use during the Fair year.

Mrs. Jeanne B. Jackling,

Whose funeral services were held in this city yesterday. The chief mourner was Col. D. C. Jackling, multi-millionaire copper magnate, from whom Mrs. Jackling was legally separated about two years ago. He was on his way to Alaska when notified of her death and rushed here for the funeral.

From Gernon.

HEWLETT COUNTERS WITH SUIT FOR AN ACCOUNTING.

EUGENE E. HEWLETT, the promoter, filed suit yesterday through Attorney S. M. Salisbury for an accounting against Reginald H. Gernon, who recently caused his arrest on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Mr. Hewlett's complaint is a review of the contract entered into with Mr. Gernon in February, 1912, by the terms of which Mr. Gernon transferred to him real and personal property and in return was to receive an annuity of $250 a month during his life.

Under this agreement, Mr. Hewlett says, he paid Mr. Gernon large sums of money. In May, 1913, Mr. Hewlett asserts he reconveyed to Mr. Gernon the real property and later paid him money in accordance with the terms of the agreement. He further asserts that subsequent to February, 1912, he advanced Mr. Gernon large sums at the latter's request. These sums, he alleges, exceed the value of the property he now holds under the agreement.

In July, last, Mr. Hewlett says he assigned to Mr. Gernon ten promissory notes and accounts aggregating $6840. Certain of the notes and several accounts, Mr. Hewlett alleges, have been collected by Mr. Gernon, the total of which is unknown to the former. Last August Mr. Hewlett says he made Mr. Gernon his attorney-in-fact to convey and handle generally Mr. Hewlett's property.

Mr. Hewlett alleges that he is unable to ascertain what has been done by Mr. Gernon, the transactions between them being of a complicated nature, and asserts that Mr. Gernon refuses to make an accounting.

The value of the property which Mr. Hewlett is alleged to have obtained from Mr. Gernon and named in the complaint is $24,000. Mr. Hewlett is out on $5000 bonds. He was arrested at Deming, N. M., on the 15th inst.

Of Santa Barbara.

HEAD OF THE EDWARDS FAMILY HURT BY AUTO.

WHILE threading her way through the congested traffic on Broadway between First and Second streets last night, Mrs. Samuel Edwards, aged 71, one of the wealthiest women of Santa Barbara, was struck by an automobile and knocked down. She was taken to the Receiving Hospital suffering from brain concussion and a number of abrasions on the body.

Upon regaining consciousness Mrs. Edwards declined to allow the physicians to examine her in a police hospital, and ordered that she be taken to the Good Samaritan Hospital forthwith.

According to information obtained by the police, Mrs. Edwards came to Los Angeles several days ago to visit relatives and was staying at the Van Nuys Hotel.

Walking out last evening she started to cross the street just as a machine owned by Mrs. A. Woodbury of No. 1624 Van Ness avenue, turned the corner of First street. Joseph Mattice, the chauffeur, tried to avoid a collision, but was unable to do so. His fender struck the woman in the side and felled her.

She rode in a police ambulance for the first time in her life, she said, and was attended by Police Surgeon Roome. He was unable to diagnose the case as she declined to answer questions regarding her condition.

Mrs. Edwards is the widow of the pioneer hardware merchant of Santa Barbara, has a very large fortune, and for many years she has been recognized as one of the society leaders of the Channel City.

Her son, Francis, lives in Los Angeles, and another son, Harold, is the cashier of the Central National Bank of Santa Barbara. The third son, Roger, is a wealthy ranch owner at Ventura. Two nephews, George F. and Elfred Edwards, are, respectively, president and cashier of the Commercial National Bank of Santa Barbara. Mrs. Edwards is also prominent in club circles.

At midnight the doctors at the Good Samaritan Hospital announced that she was slowly recovering.

Purse Versus Heart.

BUSTED, NOT BROKEN, RETORTS THE COLONEL.

BY ACTION in the courts, Col. Frank C. Woodford, the Boise capitalist, knows of Mrs. Elva Fowler, but personally he knows of no person answering her description, unless it be Mrs. Elva Cloud. In an answer filed in the Superior Court yesterday by his attorney, A. C. Vaughan, Col. Woodford denies all the charges made by Mrs. Elva Fowler, who sues him for $50,000 for alleged breach of promise.

The answer makes the specific charge that Mrs. Fowler, alias Cloud, is attempting to secure money by questionable methods. In conclusion, the answer says: "The defendant is informed and believes that the plaintiff, at the time of the commencement of this action was, and is at the present time, in indigent circumstances, and sadly in need of funds and money for the common necessaries of life, and that this action is brought to levy upon the defendant an unjust toll."

If the case is carried to actual trial, it is understood that testimony will be produced purporting to show that many wealthy men under similar circumstances have been subjected to like actions.

Harriman's Socialist Colony Wants the Land.

Attack Old Soldier's Filing on Technical Grounds.

Job Harriman's Utopian and Socialistic co-operative water scheme is running the gauntlet in the local Land Office. The hearing will continue several days.

The official title of the contest is William A. Engle of 918 Higgins building (where Harriman has his office) against Lewis C. Tighlman of Valyermo, Cal., contesting the desert land right to 120 acres in what is known as the Big Rock Creek country, near Palmdale.

Associated with Harriman and Engle are E. P. McMahon, A. F. Snell, G. P. McCorkle, James A. Gray, A. F. Mooney and F. D. Howell, prime movers in the Harriman plan to furnish water from the waters of Big Creek to the subscribers to the funds of the co-operative association. It is alleged that there are already two small dams located on the property, but that no water to speak of has been delivered to ranchers for irrigation purposes.

On the part of Harriman it is alleged that the effort of Tighlman, who is an old soldier, to secure title to the land, claimed to be mineral in character, is under the provisions of the statutes providing for soldiers' additional entries; that the lands are solely valuable for building stone, limestone and granite. It is rened that the land is suitable in any way for agricultural purposes, but it is alleged that the colleagues of Engle, including Harriman and others, have an interest in it, and intend to acquire title under the provisions of the mineral laws.

On the part of Tighlman, who says he filed on the land in good faith, it is declared that the land is agricultural in character, that excellent crops of alfalfa and other grain have been raised on it. There is a general denial of each allegation of the contestant.

It is set out that on June 5, 1914, Frank Buren, then Register of the local Land Office, issued a notice requiring all persons claiming adversely the lands described or desiring to object to the disposal of the land to Tighlman to file their affidavit of such protest in the Land Office before July 18 of this year. It is declared the Harriman notice was filed six days after the expiration of the time limit set by the Register.

The attorneys for Tighlman say that the organization of what is known as the Mescal Land and Water Company is only for the purpose of this contest; that the two small dams now in existence are not adequate to the irrigation needs of the ranchers that might be furnished from the waters of Big Rock Creek; in a word, that the contest is a plan to get hold of 120 acres of fine agricultural land under the provisions of the mineral land law.

Harriman represents the co-operative colony doing business under the name of the Mescal Land and Water Company, while Dell Schweitzer appears in behalf of Tighlman, who is seeking the patent under the agricultural land laws. Harriman says the land is worth nothing for farming purposes, but that there might be a chance to develop the water power of Big Rock Creek. "So far we have done nothing in the way of furnishing water to ranchers," he said. Testimony was given yesterday by engineers to the effect that it would require from $50,000 to $75,000 to build an adequate dam for the conservation of the water.

It is expected that at the conclusion of the taking of testimony Register Roche and Receiver Mitchell will view the premises for the purpose of determining whether, in their opinion the land is mineral or agricultural in character. It has been estimated that the water power and arrigation water to be had with proper development would be worth hundreds of thousands of dollars, for the supply is unlimited. That would be very acceptable to the Harriman Co-operative Colony as a gift from the government.

JEROME WOULD GET PROBATION.

IS WILLING TO BE COMMITTED TO PATTON ON SUSPENDED SENTENCE, HE SAYS.

One night in the tank at Central Police Station led Lawrence Roscoe Jerome, who says he is a brother of William Travers Jerome, former District Attorney of New York, to announce that he would abandon the primrose path. At the age of 60, years crowded with riotous pleasures, Mr. Jerome says he is now ready for quieter scenes.

His attorney yesterday consulted in chambers with Police Judge White. Jerome is ready to sign a request to be admitted to Patton, his lawyer stated. Justice White agreed to sign a committment and suspend execution for a period of two years, during which time Jerome will be released into the custody of his wife. Any indulgence in liquor, which is said to have been the cause of his waywardness, will result in his committment to Patton. It is likely, Justice White said yesterday, that Jerome will be sent to the County Hospital for observation before final disposition of the case is made. He will be arraigned this afternoon. He was arrested Monday night for making a disturbance at Spring and Third streets.

UNVEILING OF FASHION SHOW.

At precisely 7 o'clock this evening the mysterious doings behind the curtained windows of the Broadway fashion shops will be revealed by the dropping of the canvases for the preliminary view of the Fashion Show, which formally begins tomorrow.

Southbound pedestrians on Broadway are requested to stay on the west side of the street, between Second and Ninth and on the east side going north from Ninth.

A special squad of patrolmen and plainclothes officers have been detailed to keep the crowd moving and to protect them from pickpockets.

It is predicted that this Fashion Show will surpass all former ones in the gorgeousness of the display and the crowds are expected to be great.

UPRIGHT RESIGNS; CONRAD IS NAMED.

CHANGE IN CITY TAX COLLECTOR EFFECTIVE OCTOBER FIRST IF COUNCIL APPROVES.

Mayor Rose accepted yesterday the resignation of Oscar Upright as City Tax and License Collector, to take effect October 1, and today will send to the City Council the name of A. B. Conrad as his appointee to fill this vacancy.

Mr. Upright was appointed by acting Mayor Whiffen to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Clarence M. Taggart. Upon the advice of the City Attorney, it was deemed advisable to have some responsible legal head to the Tax Collector's office, after the death of Mr. Taggart, to preserve its bonded status. Mayor Rose was absent in the north, and Mr. Upright was appointed and confirmed by the Council, upon the condition that his resignation should be filed with the Mayor upon his return to his official duties if the Mayor so desired.

Mr. Conrad for nineteen years has been serving the county and city in an official capacity. For ten years he was engaged in the service of the County Assessor, Auditor and Tax Collector. He then transferred his activities to the city, and for nine years has been with the City Assessor and Tax Collector.

He is a Native Son, born in Sacramento county. He has been a resident of Los Angeles for thirty years.

FIVE MEN FOR MAN-SIZE JOB.

Flint, Booth, Lindley, Gates and Windham.

Will Ask Five Millions from State and Nation.

Five men were appointed yesterday by the Board of Supervisors to ask both the Federal and State governments for $2,500,000 each for works to help Los Angeles county control and render harmless the floods in this county. Whether the comprehensive plans already formulated by the County Board of Flood Control Engineers to solve the storm water problem are carried to successful completion will depend in a large measure upon the efforts of the five men chosen for the big job. They are Willis H. Booth, ex-United States Senator Frank P. Flint, State Senator Lee C. Gates, ex-Mayor C. H. Windham of Long Beach and John T. Lindley of Azusa. The appointment of this committee was authorized at Saturday's meeting of the Los Angeles County Flood Control Association.

The five were selected from a list of fifteen prominent men in the city and county as the best fitted for the task.

It is agreed generally that the entire financial burden of the flood control works, which will cost about $10,000,000, should not fall upon the people of Los Angeles county alone. There is a precedent in the northern part of the State for the nation and State to contribute. The cost of flood control works in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys to date has been about $11,000,000, of which the nation and State each contributed $3,000,000. The citizens residing in those valleys paid the remainder.

One ground for Federal and State co-operation is the protection and improvement of navigable waters. Similar reason exists for joint aid in the improvement of the Los Angeles and San Gabriel rivers, which under present conditions deposit silt in the navigable waters of the San Pedro and Long Beach harbors to the injury of commerce.

According to County Counsel Hill, the nation's interests and powers extend beyond the harbor zone to non-navigable portions of the streams entering navigable waters. Mr. Hill pointed out yesterday that all the waters that bring about the destructive floods rise in the national forest reserves, which occupy 1520 square

FREDERICKS TO TOUR COUNTY.

Republicans Will Join in Three-Day Reception.

Makes His Opening Speech at Pomona Tomorrow.

Curtin Comes to Slam Hiram on Saturday.

Republicans of Los Angeles county are preparing for a three-day reception to Capt. Fredericks, beginning tomorrow, when the Republican candidate enters the county from a tour of Southern California. Tomorrow night Capt. Fredericks will speak at Pomona, where he is assured of a large crowd.

On Friday morning he will be met at Main street and Slauson avenue by committees of various clubs and organizations working for both his candidacy and the Republican ticket.

Mrs. O. P. Clark's "flying squadron" from the Woman's Fredericks Campaign Club of Los Angeles and a delegation from the Woman's Republican organization, of which Mrs. O. W. Richardson is president, and committees from the Los Angeles County Republican Central Committee will be among the delegations to greet the Republican candidate at that place.

Capt. Fredericks will be escorted by this big reception committee to San Pedro, where he arrives at 11 o'clock and makes a speech. He then goes to Torrance, Redondo and Inglewood, speaking in each of these places, and later driving to Venice, where he will address a crowd. Later on he will be guest of honor of the Santa Monica Chamber of Commerce at a banquet, and in the evening will make a night address there.

On Saturday Capt. Fredericks will be escorted by another large delegation, comprising the women's organizations, the County Central Committee and other clubs, to Whittier, leaving the Hotel Stowell at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The Republican nominee will spend two hours in Whittier addressing a meeting that will comprise, not only the people of that city, but people from many other towns in that part of the county. He then goes to Long Beach under escort of this same delegation, and there will make a night speech. This will end Capt. Fredericks's campaign in the south for the time being, and on Sunday night he will leave for San Francisco.

CURTIN COMING.

WILL FLAY JOHNSON.

Senator John B. Curtin, Democratic candidate for Governor, will speak in Los Angeles Saturday evening. He arrived yesterday from the north and spoke last night at San Bernardino. Tonight he speaks at Riverside, and will devote the rest of the time until Saturday to speeches and campaigning in other cities. He will return to Los Angeles Saturday morning.

The speech by Senator Curtin Saturday night will be delivered at the Blanchard Hall. This address will deal with and at the Johnson administration. Mr. Curtin is handing out some hot-shot to Gov. Johnson and the "Progressives" generally, and will be keyed up to a high pitch here Saturday, his friends assert.

Retains His Place.

T. L. O'Brien, former Councilman, won yesterday in the recount of primary election votes for the office of Police Judge. His vote was only a few more than Oscar E. Winburn, Socialist candidate. Judge Shenk yesterday concluded the contest by deciding for Mr. O'Brien after the ballots cast by Socialists in forty-nine precincts had showed a net gain of eight for Winburn and a gain of one for O'Brien. The revised vote was O'Brien, 10,008; Winburn, 9999.

GREEK LETTER.

"FRAT" FOR FREDERICKS.

The Southern California alumni chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma has indorsed the candidacy of Capt. John D. Fredericks for Governor, and sent formal announcement of this fact in a letter to W. M. Bowen, chairman of the County Republican Central Committee. The letter is signed by B. F. Kierulff, secretary. It follows:

Members of the Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity, of which Capt. John D. Fredericks is a member, he having joined at Washington and Jefferson University in 1888, have just held an enthusiastic luncheon at the University Club to organize a fraternity-booster for the captain.

We have about 150 alumni in the State and each one expects to influence a goodly number of votes. As college men and close personal acquaintances of Capt. Fredericks, we can appreciate the value of his executive ability, clear, straightforward thinking and sterling policy of honest, fearless, independent actions, and we know that as our next Governor he will not only be a credit to the Republican party, toward whose policies he so strongly leans, but that impartially he will act for the best interests of all parties and classes.

Riverside Organizers.

The Republican County Central Committee of Riverside has organized a campaign committee of 330 members, representing every precinct in the county on the basis of registration, and named a finance committee of five members. A platform indorsing and adopting the platform prepared by the Republican State convention, and pledging support to John D. Fredericks, candidate for Governor; Frank C. Jordan, candidate for Secretary of State; Frank E. Wright, for Surveyor-General; Joseph R. Knowland, for United States Senator, and James C. Needham, for Congress, was adopted for the guidance of Riverside county Republicans. A campaign of education is planned, to let loyal Republicans know who on the ticket are true Republicans and who are "interlopers" from another party.

Candidates Confer.

Republican candidates of Los Angeles county were closeted in a conference with Chairman Bowen of the Los Angeles County Republican Central Committee for two hours yesterday discussing the campaign organization and the work that is to be done in the various districts. Among the candidates attending this gathering were Capt. H. Z. Osborne, candidate for Congress from the Tenth District, and candidates for the Legislature: John W. Bullard, Thirty-eighth District; A. J. Bartlett, Sixty-third District; C. E. Scott, Sixty-fourth District; R. P. Benton, Sixty-sixth District; J. A. Rominger, Seventieth District; Fred M. Shepard, Seventy-first District; Harry Chamberlin, Seventy-second District; W. H. O'Connell, Seventy-third District, and Edwin Baker, Seventy-fifth District.

On Executive Committee.

Miss Mary Foy left last night for San Francisco to attend a conference of Democratic party leaders. She has been appointed a member of the Democratic State Executive Committee by Chairman Fred H. Hall.

INDIANA TO MANILA.

Youth on Parole for Burglary Runs Away—Is Finally Caught by Soldiers in Islands.

Tracked across the continent and over the Pacific to the Philippine Islands, where he had enlisted as a soldier, Frank Brown, 19 years old, wanted at the Indiana Reformatory at Jeffersonville, Ind., for violation of parole, was lodged in the City Jail last night to await his journey East, which will begin this morning.

Convicted and sentenced from one to fourteen years on the charge of grand larceny, Brown was given parole, but immediately departed for the West. Levi H. Scott, the superintendent of the Indiana institution, trailed the fugitive through St. Louis, Denver, San Francisco, to Manila, where he was taken into custody by the United States army officers, and subsequently was sent back to Ft. McDowell, where he was turned over to the civil authorities.

LOSES SIGHT OF AN EYE.

Crazed by drink, Charles Russ, 55 years old, and a carpenter, living at No. 747½ Central avenue, attempted to escape from the patrol wagon while being taken to the Central Station last night and struck his right eye against a projection.

When taken to the Receiving Hospital Dr. Roome found that the sight of the eye had been destroyed, but Russ refused to allow the surgeons to remove the optic.

Russ was creating a disturbance at First and Main streets when he was arrested by Officer Childers and was placed in the patrol wagon with a number of other prisoners. Without warning Russ tried to knock out the man next to him and fell when one of the prisoners resented his conduct and hit him.

He was taken immediately to the County Hospital, where his eye probably will be removed as soon as he becomes sober.

HELD ON SUSPICION.

William Perodie, 19 years old, was arrested early yesterday morning on suspicion of attempted burglary. He was arrested by Special Officer Nelson for having tried to cut the show window of the Westlake jewelry store at No. 2009 West Seventh street. He had a cheap glass-cutter in his possession when arrested. According to the detectives' report, Perodie said he was after a watch in the window which he hoped to sell to obtain food.

REPUBLICANISM ONLY SALVATION

So Capt. Fredericks Tells Thousands at Riverside.

Flays "Progressive" Party as Nation's Curse.

Gubernatorial Candidate Is Royally Greeted.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 22.—Capt. Fredericks was given a royal reception in Riverside county today. At Corona, where his party stopped for luncheon, the Republican standard-bearer addressed the largest political gathering which has assembled in that city during this campaign. There he was met by half a hundred prominent Riverside Republicans and escorted to this city in the van of an automobile parade, arriving at the Glenwood Mission Inn shortly after 4 o'clock.

At 6:30 o'clock, after a short rest, Capt. and Mrs. Fredericks were the honored guests at a reception and a dinner, participated in by prominent Republicans, men and women, from all parts of the county.

The Loring Theater, where he spoke this evening at 8:30 o'clock, was crowded long before the speaker took the platform. The band had paraded the streets for an hour before the meeting, and the members occupied seats on the platform behind Capt. Fredericks.

Dr. W. W. Roblee, representing the State Central Committee, and a close personal friend of Capt. Fredericks since the Spanish-American War, called the meeting to order and introduced C. W. Hickok, one of Riverside's most prominent citizens, as chairman.

In his introduction of Capt. Fredericks, Mr. Hickok said that voters were flocking to his support because he represented the party that was progressive but not rampant. "The leaders of the Republican party," he said, "are the younger Republicans and they were most wise in their choice of a man so broad, so fearless, so able as Capt. John D. Fredericks as their candidate for Governor."

Capt. Fredericks appeared as fresh as though this was his first speech he had made in months, and his splendid address was punctuated and interrupted by frequent outbursts of applause. In opening he paid a beautiful tribute to Riverside and her famous hostelry. "As I lay there resting this afternoon," he said, "and heard in the distance the notes of that beautiful organ, I hesitated to decide whether it was playing "Onward Christian Soldier" or "Abide with Me." I was tempted to make it the latter—but I knew I couldn't pay the bill."

FLAYS "PROGRESSIVES."

Capt. Fredericks took up the tariff issues, crediting the present business depression in California, resulting from the Democratic tariff, to the "Progressives," who through their split of the Republican party after the Chicago convention, threw the control of the national government into the hands of the minority party. "My firm and solemn belief," he said, "is that the patriotic love of humanity demands that every man and woman in California who loves this great State should go out now and do all that is in his power to bring back the happiness, that tranquility, that prosperity that has been lost to us now for over a year, by returning the Republican party to power in this State and nation.

"No Californian can argue that prosperity of this State does not depend absolutely upon the great Republican principle of protection. You people here in Riverside know better than I do that you would never have been able to create this beautiful garden spot without that protection. I am satisfied that over half of the Democrats in California believe in a protective tariff, and it would appear that those who were revising the tariff under our present law had taken a list of the products of the State of California and gone right down the line, taking the tariff off every industry that we have. I've told you how we lost it, let's look to the future and see that we get it back."

ONLY SUCKERS.

The speaker cited election returns from other States in the Union to show how the "Progressive" party is passing as other parties have passed in the days gone by. "You people who cultivate orange trees know that occasionally a young, strong shoot takes all the sap of the tree and shoots off into a worthless sucker. The 'Progressive' party is only a sucker. But now in this year of 1914 we have dug a new-made grave, and over it we have erected a tombstone, chiseled deep with these words, 'Here lies the "Progressive" party. Let it lie in death as it lied in life. Let it lie.'"

He consumed in scathing ridicule the plank in the "Progressive" platform which declares for non-partisan State government.

He denounced Gov. Johnson as one of the most consistent party men in the history of the State until he found that he could not win again without the votes of other parties. "This non-partisan idea is such a patent makeshift for securing votes that it will fool no one," said Capt. Fredericks. "All of history shows that party government is the only kind which will prevail. And when the Republican party comes back into power in 1916 it behooves California to be in line for the replacement of her great industries, as well as those of other States which stand true to the party under the banner of protection.

"Investors fear California now, for the Socialistic tendencies of the party in office, and the golden flood of dollars will not start again until those officials are replaced by men in whom the capitalists and investors have confidence."

Capt. Fredericks then took up in rapid succession some of the laws that Gov. Johnson and his crew of self-righteous followers are claiming as measures of their own, citing the woman's suffrage amendment, the direct primary, pure food, child labor and race-track gambling laws; the highway idea, eight-hour law for women, full train crew and workmen's compensation law—all enacted before Hiram ever reached the Governor's chair.

"These are laws which an enlightened civilization has brought to us, yet Johnson and his followers are claiming personal credit for them all. The Republican party is sound on the tariff, in harmony with these policies and principles of humanity. Why should you follow this disintegrating, non-partisan mix-up that has no head nor tail to it?"

ADVANCES REFORMS.

Capt. Fredericks then took up some of the new measures of government which he favored, among them the need of prison reform and the need of some better system to relieve the eternal struggle between capital and labor.

Finally, and in conclusion, he spoke as a citizen of the great section of the State south of the Tehachepi, with its third of the assessed valuation of the State and 43 per cent. of its voters, which has not had a representative in the Governor's chair in sixteen years. "The north came down to the Tehachepi and assured my nomination at the primaries by 5000 plurality. The north is going to elect me, and all that I ask of you good people of Southern California is to swell the majority and to return to its rightful place in this great State the Republican party, of which I am only the representative. If you want my services for the best four years of my life it is for you to say, and I leave my case confidently in your hands."

Capt. Fredericks will leave in the morning for the trip through San Bernardino county, speaking first at Colton, then going to Redlands for luncheon and a noon meeting there, and reaching San Bernardino in time for a rousing evening meeting.

PLENTY OF MUSIC.

Five bands have donated their services for the peace parade today, besides the employees' band of the Pacific Electric Railway. Two are local organizations and there is one each from Long Beach, Ocean Park and Venice.

CAN You Spare Half-an-Hour?

The SECURITY suggests that you give a half-hour of your time to the consideration of what you should do to safeguard your family in the event of your death.

It may take more than that time to work out the details of the plan you hit upon, but the important thing is to give the initial half-hour to a talk with the officers of this bank. They are in a position to show you how urgent it is that you make your Will NOW, so that no matter what befalls you tomorrow there will be a responsible party in control of your affairs and authorized to carry out your plans.

They will further explain to you how the SECURITY, through its Trust Department, can administer your estate more wisely, more economically and more certainly than can any individual, and how you may permanently protect those dependent upon you from their own inexperience with business detail, and insure their always having a competency. There are many other things which that half-hour's talk will bring out.

Can you imagine a subject more deserving of half an hour of your time?

WAR AIDS MINING.

Stimulation Given to Digging of Products Heretofore Imported From Europe, Mineralogist Says.

Benefits to the mineral industry of California, through the stimulation of exploitation of products which have heretofore generally been imported from Europe, is a result which W. W. Thayer, secretary of the California State Mining Bureau, believes will come from the war on the other side of the Atlantic. Mr. Thayer is spending several days in Los Angeles and vicinity in the interests of the bureau. He is at the Van Nuys.

"With imports of various mineral substances cut off as a result of the war conditions in Europe, development along many lines which have lain dormant to date is practically forced on California. With few exceptions every metal and industrial material which has a commercial demand is to be found here.

"Opportunities abound, especially in Southern California. Great has been the showing of this section of the State in mineral production during the last few years, and even a cursory study of conditions will show that possible development is almost unlimited."

Mr. Thayer also stated that the State Mining Bureau, under the direction of State Mineralogist F. McN. Hamilton, is preparing a number of valuable reports covering individual counties in the State. These will be ready for distribution about the first of 1915.

RECOMMEND LONGER HOURS.

The Efficiency Board of the county yesterday sent a communication to the Board of Supervisors recommending that the hours of employees of the county offices be increased from seven to eight hours a day. The board asks that time clocks be installed to see that the employees work full time.

Death Eraser.

arate. The legal proceedings were taken in Salt Lake. It is said that Mr. Jackling gave his wife nearly $1,000,000 in cash and property as a settlement. Always interested in charities, she contributed liberally to worthy causes.

Last night Col. Jackling resumed his trip to Alaska and will return to Los Angeles during October to accompany the remains of his wife to Salt Lake for burial. They are now in the vault at Calvary.

Mrs. Jackling leaves the following sisters: Mrs. Anna Wolters of Denver, Mrs. T. J. McCarthy, Acacia Hotel, Los Angeles; Mrs. Mary Fox, No. 1228 South Bonnie Brae street; Mrs. R. A. Brines, Mrs. James McDermott and Mrs. Leffert of New York City. One brother, Patrick Sullivan of Salt Lake City, also survives.

OBSTRUCTIONISTS ARE STILL AT IT.

REFUSE TO VOTE APPROPRIATION FOR MAKING SURVEY OF CITY SCHOOLS.

At last night's meeting of the Board of Education the majority members made an effort to secure action looking to carrying out the decision taken some time ago to have a survey of the city schools, but it was blocked by the three obstructionists, Scott, Guinn and Mrs. Craig. Mr. Blight moved that the board appropriate $5000 for the survey, that Dr. David Starr Jordan be requested to nominate a man to direct the survey, and that the latter name his own assistants. The vote was a tie, Blight, Frank and Steadman voting in the affirmative, Mr. Bean not yet having returned from his vacation in the East.

County Superintendent Keppel again swooped down upon the board with a communication, warning the members that they are paying some of the city teachers salaries not warranted by the school law. The point is raised against the salaries of the teachers of special subjects, who come in a class by themselves, the inference being that they are entitled by law to receive only such pay as teachers in the grammar schools. There are 130 of them in the city schools, and a number of them were on hand with an attorney, who stated that he was prepared to show that the law does not prohibit the employment of special teachers. The matter will be taken up in committee of the whole on Friday afternoon.

No action was taken on the Highland Park-Garvanza High School site. A strong committee made a favorable impression in favor of a high school site on Thirty-eighth street, in the district east of Main street, which is in the hands of the Building Committee.

A contract was awarded to N. B. Plummer for $1971, to convert the roof of the Lincoln High School into a study hall.

SEEKS REFUGE HERE.

Former Governor of Lower California Does Not Believe Mexican Troubles Are Near Their End.

Driven from his home by the change in Mexican politics, Dr. Federico Ceta, formerly Governor of Lower California, arrived in this city last night direct from La Paz, where he owns some of the largest estates in the peninsula.

Dr. Cota has obtained apartments at the Hotel Broadway and will remain here until conditions in his native land become more settled, after which he expects to return to practice his profession.

In speaking of the future outlook of his country the physician said that he felt that the trouble was not over, and that difficulties would arise which could not be anticipated at this time.

LAY DYING ON SANDS.

Police Officers While Using Proposed Police Boat Find Man in Serious Condition.

Disemboweled by a deep cut across the abdomen, Julio Santelanz, a laborer, was discovered in a supposed dying condition on the shore of the inner harbor when the proposed new police boat impressed into service yesterday morning by Lieut. Spellman was making its rounds in an effort to capture some of the thieves who have been preying on the shipping interests in the last few months.

When taken to the Receiving Hospital at the harbor, Santelans said that he had been wounded during a fight with Pedro Pacilla and that he had crawled out on the sand to die.

He was subsequently sent to the County Hospital. His condition is considered dangerous.

FRESNOANS IN FRAUD CASE.

Government Alleges They Obtained Title to Public Land That Was Fraudulently Secured.

In the trial of the case of the government against George Schwinn and Mattie A. Kearns on the allegation that the defendants had fraudulently secured patent to two quarter-sections of public land in Fresno county, at the close of the evidence on the part of the complainant a motion was made for non-suit as to C. C. Goodell, Herman Levy, Leon Hart, W. A. Bean, Matias Erro, H. A. Pratt, O. B. Kimberlin and W. O. Miles, who, since patent was secured, purchased the undivided eight-tenths of the original tract of land secured by Schwinn. The original entryman, Schwinn, only owns one-fifth, or two-tenths, of the land.

The motion was made on the ground that the government asserted that the eight persons named had not purchased the land in good faith, but no evidence had been adduced to prove that contention.

It was also stated that if the court allowed the non-suit a motion would be made to dismiss as to Schwinn, because the government could not legally sue to obtain possession of an undivided interest in the property.

The question will be decided by Judge Wellborn this morning.

Readiness for Emergency

In determining who shall take up the management of your property at your decease, it would be reassuring to know that the appointee will never be absent, ill or too engrossed in personal affairs or anxieties to be ready for any emergency which may confront your estate.

Title Insurance and Trust Company is on duty every hour of every business day. The absence or illness of any individual on its staff will not affect the performance of its functions.

This alone gives it a special advantage over an individual appointee.

Tartan weaves in Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes

You know what "tartans" are; the characteristic plaids of the old Scottish clans. Some of them rich colorings, some more quiet and subdued.

Tartan colorings, in very small plaids and stripes, are now much used in our fabrics for men's clothing; they come from English and Scotch weavers, and from the best American mills; very beautiful patterns in blues, greens, dark reds; plaids and stripes.

Look especially at suits in tartan colors at $25; that price represents extreme value for you. We make some as low as $18; and others up to $50.

Ask for our goods by name; find our label in them; a small thing to look for, a big thing to find.

Reliability

is what a doctor must be assured of in recommending a food or drink. He must know that it is honest, efficient, pure and wholesome.

In cases of nervousness, heart flutter, headache, biliousness, indigestion, etc., where the patient is a coffee drinker, most doctors order: "Quit coffee and use Postum."

Doctors recommend Postum because they know that it is a pure food-drink—absolutely free from the drug, caffeine, which makes coffee injurious to most users.

It is significant that thousands of physicians not only recommend, but themselves use

POSTUM

—its worth having been fully demonstrated, not only in the home, but in Sanitariums, Hospitals and Colleges.

Postum now comes in two forms:

Instant Postum—soluble—no boiling—made in the cup with hot water, instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are delicious—cost per cup about the same—sold by Grocers everywhere.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF DEVELOPMENTS YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) While the oversubscribing of the New York City $100,000,000 loan showed the strength of American financial conditions, the big cut in the dividend of the Anaconda Copper Company was taken as an indication of the way local industries were affected by the European war. Attention was drawn to the fact that copper was offered at 12 cents a pound, the lowest price in some years. Exchange on London ruled slightly higher and money displayed a harder tendency.

(Abroad:) The government of Brazil is considering ways and means to meet the crisis in the coffee situation, which is aggravated by the closing of European markets.

CHINA DISTURBED.

Mutterings come from China and a new revolution is said to be brewing there. The President is too much of a dictator to please the multitude, who expected a greater change under the new regime. This is not entirely the fault of the administration, yet Yuan Shi Kai has undoubtedly been too brittle and unsympathetic. The new order was almost lightly established. Such great changes do not come cheaply and they cannot be nourished too tenderly. The Chinese had as well have it out first as last. They cannot expect to adjust themselves within a year.

HANDICAPPING AMERICAN BUSINESS.

Most objectionable in the Clayton anti-trust bill as passed by the Senate is its tendency to destroy America's greatest weapon for conquering world trade; for to smash a concern merely because it is big inflicts upon American business a fearful handicap.

In the eyes of this law a company which has built up its business to the extent of controlling a large portion of the total at once becomes a public menace and a malefactor. No industry can be good if at the same time it is big enough to constitute a monopoly as construed by the all-embracing definition of this act.

Size is made the measure of guilt. It happens, however, that in furthering the foreign trade of the United States the largest exporters bring home the most gold.

So at this particular moment when every atom of business genius should be enlisted in the grand plan, with aid of ships bought, borrowed and built, of capturing the markets of the world, this handicap which Congress lays upon trade is devoid of reason and business sense.

AN EASTERN BOOSTER.

As boosters of our incomparable climate, our fertile acres, and our matchless opportunities to gain wealth, health and happiness, we have something to learn from writers who dwell in the effete East.

A. E. Wingate, in an eastern exchange, is quoted as saying:

"A California man has the most profitable cherry orchard in the New World. He not only raised a third of a million pounds of cherries a year, but he sells only to those who know how to appreciate the best cherries in the world and appreciate having them the first of anybody in their community. More than once he has received $10 a pound for the first box of elegant cherries in the market. He sells hundreds of boxes every season at from 50 cents to $1 a pound. He rarely sells for less than 20 cents a pound. He seeks an appreciative market. Another California man sells nearly $100,000 worth of milk a year from 250 cows because he has sought out appreciative purchasers—families that will pay 15 cents a quart for his milk. He gets 10 cents net for every quart of milk he produces, and the men who have found the appreciative purchasers get the other 5 cents."

GOOD ROADS.

Our splendid system of good roads, connecting all the chief cities in Southern California, has attracted to the Southland thousands of devotees of the automobile. It has increased our fame as a pleasure resort. But it has done far more than this. It has promoted business, facilitated farming and added to the material prosperity of every community.

The citrus growers certainly owe a big debt to the enterprising citizens who have engineered and completed our present matchless system of good roads. When the shipping of oranges and lemons via the Panama Canal has become the general practice, the many smooth, hard and graded avenues to our harbors will immensely facilitate the moving of the crops.

From Riverside, San Bernardino and the foothills of Los Angeles county large motor trucks can be run direct from the packing-houses to the boats, waiting to take on their precious cargoes at the various docks and wharves. So the Citrus Union will be independent of the railroad companies. The growers can, if necessary, own their trucks to haul the fruit in ten or twelve-ton lots over our splendid highways to our ports and harbors.

The traffic via the canal and the good roads of California thus becomes parts of a harmonious whole. Next to production, transportation is the greatest of economical problems. California seems to have solved both. All we need now to make the work complete is a California owned fleet of merchantmen.

The Interstate Commerce Commission will reopen the eastern advance rate case, and it is hoped a decision will be reached before the Millerite date for the end of the world will have arrived.

OVERSEAS—THE SITUATION TO DATE.

The battle is still on and will last two or three days longer. The fact that it is still on is attested by the news dispatches received last night. That it will last two or three days longer is the opinion of the Temps of Paris. But what battle? The one on French soil between the Germans on one side and the French and English allies on the other.

Neither the French, who are adepts at nomenclature, nor the English have thus far found a suitable name for the battle. Perhaps they have not had time. The American correspondents persist in calling it the "battle between the Oise and the Meuse," as if these two rivers had got out of bounds and were at each other's throats, which is impossible.

The Temps thinks that the Germans are weakening a little, but as Maupassant was wont to say in every other one of his short stories, "Who knows?"

The dispatches from the front are silent on the subject. The most they had to say last night was that the "situation is unchanged."

But England has been stirred to the core by the sinking of three of her cruisers by German submarines. The people of Great Britain are represented to be amazed by the feat as it was "performed so easily, while the German fleet has been able to remain in safety in its harbors protected by mines and forts."

The Russians have followed up their successes in Galicia by capturing Jaroslaw and a third battle between the Austrians and Russians has begun or is about to begin.

The Servians also report another victory over the Austrians near Kroupani on the Drina River, where the Austrians were trying to invade Servia and were driven back.

WAR AND SOBRIETY.

One redeeming feature deserves to be set against the hundred horrors of the present ruinous and bloody European war. The attitude of both the governments and peoples of the belligerent nations is a marked tribute to the advance of temperance principles during the last decade. This war is teaching the whole world the necessity of sobriety.

Indeed, the rigid enforcement of temperance principles by the British War Minister, Lord Kitchener, is even stricter than the official censorship of news. Very little information is allowed to filter through the soldiers in action to the folks at home; no strong liquor is permitted to filter back from friends at home to the men on the firing line.

While other implements of destruction and death-dealing devices have been improved and multiplied, one menace at least has been removed from the European battlefields. The whisky bottle. Troops may be flushed with victory, but not with drink; reverses cannot be drowned in alcohol. Perhaps very rightly war has been considered sufficiently intoxicating without any artificial stimulant. At least the authorities have recognized the powerful weapon of sobriety, when the fate of a nation depends on the stamina and steadiness of the men at the front.

The German Emperor is well known for his abstemious habits and his discouragement of private or public drinking. The French are fighting on a little light claret, the vin ordinaire of the restaurants, diluted with water. But perhaps the attitude of Russia on the liquor question is the most amazing feature of the campaign. Not only is the supply of alcoholic beverages to the troops absolutely forbidden, but every dramshop and vodka dispensary throughout the whole Russian empire has been closed by official proclamation as long as the war lasts.

This is all the more remarkable since nearly a third of the revenue of Russia is raised by the sale of vodka, which has for long been a government monopoly. When a nation voluntarily cuts off a large portion of its revenue at a time when it needs every penny it can raise, as a tribute to discipline, the value of temperance is brought forcibly home to the public conscience. Russia has learned her lesson. The reverses she suffered at the hands of the Japanese were to a great extent the result of indiscriminate vodka. If Russia is beaten again it will be a sober, not a drunken Russia. She will be beaten by the bullets of others, not by her own bottles.

The hard lesson of war has taught temperance to millions in Europe. Not only the soldiers, but the masses of the people are thinking more and drinking less. Samuel G. Blythe has described graphically the temperate and sober manner in which the British people are facing the present trial. Other correspondents on the spot corroborate his views. The bars are not patronized as they were, the liquor bill is decreasing. Kitchener's adamant stand on temperance for the army has affected the whole nation.

Every friend of humanity will hope to see this spirit continue to animate Europe after peace has once more been restored and when perhaps harder tasks will present themselves to the crippled nations. If so, the bloody appeal to arms will have produced one grain of good for the homes it is at present desolating. Sobriety is a necessity in the conduct of war. Is it not then equally essential in the larger operations of peace?

DEMOCRATIC "TARIFF-BLUNDER" TAXES, NOT "WAR TAXES."

It is because greatly increased imports have produced greatly lessened revenue under the present Democratic low tariff (practically free trade in this country of enormous natural resources of almost everything,) that immediate imposition of $100,000,000 more internal taxes has become necessary. That is one of the prices we are paying for tariff revision downward. What they are calling "war taxes" should be called "Democratic tariff blunder taxes."

Had there been the revenue which the former Republican tariff law would have made those imports, or even a smaller amount, yield, the government would be in position to adopt a waiting policy in regard to its finances, for a time, at least, until it could be seen whether the war was likely to be prolonged.

As it is, there is at once need of $100,000,000 more internal taxation, to be piled on top of the income tax which was to have been reserved for contingencies.

Even if the war had not broken out, the diminished revenue from customs duties and the extravagance of the present Democratic Congress and Democratic administration would have made some extra internal taxation necessary before the end of this fiscal year, especially as the income tax to be levied next year will suffer severely from the shrunken incomes of this year.

Having solemnly declared a policy of tariff for revenue only, the Democratic party, through its controlled Congress, made a tariff law productive of insufficient revenue.

To try to make the public believe, as President Wilson did and is trying, that the reason for additional taxation is to be found wholly in the war, is the best political dodge that the Democratic administration and Democratic party can make to cover up its tariff blunder, but the attempt will not succeed. That will become more clearly apparent than it can be at this time when the war is ended and international commerce is again free to move.

It is significant that the President did not state in his "war taxes" speech to Congress that the imposition of $100,000,000 additional taxation should be for a limited time only. The law which he recommends (demands, rather,) should be made to expire by specified limitation. If the war (or the Democratic wasteful policies) should be prolonged beyond the term of the law, Congress could re-enact the "war-taxes-in-time-of-peace" law for another limited term, to the further loss of American citizens.

Unless the life of the law is limited there will be grave suspicion that there is intent to leave its taxes as a permanent burden upon the American people.

A MODERN THERSITES.

Both Dean Swift and Doctor Johnson were haters of men and their gibes at those who loved them not are preserved in literature. Now the popular and prized blackguard of the day is Bernard Shaw.

The popular British author, A. C. Gardiner, in his "Prophets, Priests and Kings," says of Shaw: "He is the lash laid across the back of his generation. He whips us with the scorpions of his bitter pen. He flings his withering gibes in our faces and we laugh. He lampoons us in plays and we fight at the pay box. We love him as Bill Sykes's dog loved that hero—because he beats us."

Mr. Shaw has in an unrivaled degree the gift of being unpleasant. It is a rare gift. Most of us, even the worst of us, are full of tenderness for the susceptibilities of others. We cultivate the art of polite falsity, because to give pain to others is so great a pain to ourselves. We lack the courage to be openly unkind. If we feel that we must stab we prefer to do it in the back.

"Mr. Shaw," says Gardiner, "is careless about having a beautiful home; he wants a beautiful city. He is indifferent about his wife's diamonds; he wants to see the charwoman and the sempstress well dressed. If they are not he would send them to prison. His philosophy is that poverty and illness are the only punishable crimes. "If the poor were given penal servitude instead of sympathy there would soon be an alteration for the better," he says.

Shaw is a preacher in cap and bells. He calls the crowd together with the jingle of jest, and then preaches his sermon in extravagant satire. He is so terribly in earnest that he cannot be serious. Least of all is he serious about himself. He is himself his own gayest comedy.

"At 20," relates Mr. Gardiner, "Shaw came to London. 'I haven't a penny in the world,' said a beggar to him one night. 'Neither have I,' said Shaw with cheerful comradeship. He lived on his parents, who found it difficult to live on themselves. He was not ashamed of it. He boasted of it. 'I did not throw myself into the struggle for life; I threw my mother into it,' said he. Shaw wrote novels which nobody read, scintillated in the newspapers as a musical critic, wrote plays on the top of omnibuses and 'married for money' as he says with engaging raillery."

OLD FURNITURE.

WALT MASON IN "THE TIMES."

The women are hunting for antique mahogany, old junk of that sort in our households is piled; the prices, once low, are no longer toboggany, but higher they soar, as the women grow wild. Beds, for a century wabbly and rickety, dressers and chairs that are all on the blink; the owner of these is so proud and peranickety! She asks a big price, and we cough up the chink. Those creaking old beds that are wide and commodious, fitted with ropes or the old-fashioned slats! Always they seem to me wretched and odious, but when I say so, the women cry "rats!" Bureaus so punk that they make a man serious, wapperjawed things, an offense to the eye, send the wild dames into spasms delirious; "oh, what a sumptuous relic," they cry. How you would like to destroy all the furniture gathered from junk piles in country and town! But if you heap it around you and burn it you're apt to retire with a dent in your crown. Rosewood, mahogany, walnut and hickory, anything handed from ages of yore! Sadly I'm drinking my flagon of chicory, wishing the women were lucid once more.

Germany's Housing Problem.

[Boston Transcript:] Germany has vigorously taken in hand her great housing problem. It is a troublesome task. Bad housing, says former Minister of the Interior, Count Posadowsky, is the reason why the national birth rate has fallen from forty-two to twenty-nine per 1000 in the last forty years. The absence of imperial housing legislation is one source of the evil. Other social problems have been beneficially regulated by the Bundesrath and Reichstag; but housing has been left to the State Legislatures and these have done very little. Their neglect has caused friction. A year ago, Dr. Delbruck, who now holds Posadowsky's portfolio, threatened that if Prussia did not improve her housing, the empire would intervene. This threat made the reformers hurry up. The Prussian and other state governments set to preparing bills; and private organizations and individuals began to compete with them in proposing plans for betterment.

Mainly the reformers are fighting the specific evils which spring from a brand-new urban civilization. Every fifth German lives in a town of over 100,000 population. Housing on the land is fairly satisfactory, but in the great cities it is worse than in America, England, Belgium, Holland, and, in some respects, France. Germany's broad, straight streets and imposing facades which arouse foreign admiration are a rich source of evil, for they have brought terrifically high rents, unhygienic construction and unexampled overcrowding. This is the fault of the town planners, who copied the concentrated building system of Paris and Vienna, a system devised for medieval fortified towns and useless for Berlin, which has no fortifications. By planning broad streets and deep blocks, the town planners compelled the construction of five-storied apartment-houses instead of the dispersed one-family house of America, England, Holland and Belgium. The so-called "flat-barracks" dominates. The average Berlin house shelters eighty-two persons, as against seven persons per house in London and Antwerp. Crown Prince William, afterward William I, agitated against this system, but the town planners won.

A SICK MAN GOES TO WAR.

Stretched on a bed of languishing and weakness I go to war like an emperor in his chariot of iron or a little princeling in his military Ford. In comfort and at my ease I go forth pawing in the valley, smelling the battle like a war correspondent—afar off, neither turn I back from the sword, which has become an obsolete weapon, dangerous only to the warrior who wears it.

As for the battle in my front, I lie like a refugee. I never knew of a war in which so many army corps were "annihilated" by small groups of unarmed workingmen.

A peculiarity about this destruction consists in the fact that after "annihilation," the annihilated army corps continues its march en route to Paris. This deliberate disregard of the rules of war has been severely censored by the Belgians, and King Albert has sent a commission to President Wilson to protest against it.

The Innocent Bystander.

Just what the United States has to say about it, I do not know. So far, the President hasn't said anything about it. That is, he did say something, but a second commission will have to be appointed to find out what he meant by it. It is a model speech for a neutral nation.

Compulsory Patriotism.

As I watch the raging battles through the field glasses of the war correspondents, I am amazed at the furious fighting of the nations who were forced into the war, most unwilling combatants. Not one of them, Czar, Emperor, King or President, wanted to fight. Every man was forced into it by his combative neighbor. So far as I can understand through the smoke of battle, everybody is deploring war and clamoring for peace. Each power also wants some of the pieces. And there hardly seems to be enough to go around. The United States is willing to take her share in ships, and will gladly pay the highest market price for them, but the allies, who are waging a holy war—the holiest, I learn from the foreign papers, that was ever waged by any Christian nation, refuse to permit any transactions whose incredible greed leaves them out. It takes a heap of money to mobilize a holy war.

How Holy Is Any War?

In fact, all this war appears to be holy. It is not a peculiar characteristic of Christian peoples to take the God of peace into close and exclusive alliance in war time. All nations that go to war do that. But as a rule the heathen nations only enter into alliance with their own gods—Japanese, Chinese, Hindus, Turcos, etc.—although when they battle for the cross as allies of most Christian kings they sink their religious differences until after the war.

A Big, Rare Word.

"Annihilation" is a very big word, and whenever I come across the word in the war dispatches I quit reading, skipping all the rest of that article. Leonidas at Thermopylae came within one of furnishing a truthful example of it. The Alamo supplied a perfect instance of it, as is told in its epitaph—"Thermopylae had its messenger of defeat—the Alamo had none."

The "Get-Together Movement."

The advocates of church unity must be greatly encouraged when they see that it not only brings the different Christian denominations together, but locks in the closest fellowship in the ranks of the allies almost every kind of heathen that can be raked out of India and Africa and the islands of the seas.

Allies That Don't Last.

Well, that in general is the sort of a Christian mob our fathers had to fight when they fought to establish this republic. Our bitterest and bloodthirstiest enemies were the Indian allies of His Most Christian Majesty. Oh, well, what was the result of having such allies?

Oh, nothing much, only that the Indians are about all gone, and the sons of our fathers occupy the land.

The Multitudes of Spies.

Another thing which amazes me as I put another pillow under my head and pray the god of Munchausen to support me while I read the war news morning by morning—and I need divine support—is why the warring powers do not mobilize the spies. They surely outnumber the rank and file of the armies. The streets of the European capitals swarm with them. I wonder, as I read the war news—I have to call it "news"—what there is left for them to spy. England alone seems to pay no attention whatever to the "spies." But on the continent any man who does not speak the language of the country is promptly denounced as a "spy." And yet they complain of a scarcity of laborers. Why not put the spies to work?

Only a little while ago I saw the arrest in Germany of two Russian spies. They were two girls from Spokane, U.S.A., 14 and 17 years old. How the Germans dared go to war with such terrible enemies in their midst I cannot understand. In fact, they didn't. The Kaiser had the desperate creatures deported to the U.S.A., where they are now running at large, "spying."

The Great Wars.

One thing the correspondents are agreed upon—this is the biggest war ever. Sometimes they say it is "the greatest." Well, maybe so not. Napoleon Bonaparte, an expert in wars, said contemptuously, speaking of the war of the American revolution, that it was "fought with a corporal's guard." Maybe so; but a corporal's guard that can put up a fight for eight years, losing more battles than it wins, is a great army. The Napoleonic wars built up an empire that fell to pieces when the hand of Napoleon ceased to steady it. The war waged by the corporal's guard founded a republic that has grown richer and mightier with every year that has passed since it was established. The Old Guard—the Imperial Guard—builded a palace of cards, builded it of Marengo, Lodi, Arcola, Austerlitz, and the hot breath of Waterloo blew it to fragments. The half-armed, undrilled "corporal's guard," in a few skirmishes, planted an acorn in the wilderness, and the mighty oak, its shadow falling from the Atlantic to the distant islands of the farthest Pacific, is still growing. The magnitude of a war is not measured by what it destroys, but by what it creates. And rarely enough does any war create anything.

Pen Points: By the Staff

Speaking of the tie that binds—since the proposed purchase by the owner of the city's cement plant at Monolith.

The backers of the Tigers and Angels talk of a pennant for either of the clubs. Do the players propose to use brass knuckles?

As we understand it the hearing now at the Federal building is an effort on the part of the government to tie the end to the alleged tin trust.

Our idea of having nothing [illegible] do is shown in the campaign tour of "Constitutional John" Curtin, the Democratic candidate for Governor of California.

But just suppose for the purpose of argument that Gen. Carranza should refuse to step down and out before the Mexican election? Would that mean more [illegible] waiting?

Fred H. Hall has been given a [illegible] heart balm by his selection as chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee. Fred belongs to the little White Worker band.

Is the steam roller working? The revenue bill is before the House. Is every Democrat who doesn't want his name to adorn the Wilson black list [illegible] for it, willy nilly.

The Encke comet has been discovered again. Even the trailers of the sky are fighting for the real Republicans this time. Nobody ever heard of the opposition running during comet year.

Texans are protesting against [illegible] cotton warehouse receipts in the new war tax measure. They need not worry, as nothing will be done that is likely to cost the South anything worth mentioning.

Democratic papers say with glee that the pending war tax measure is drawn on the lines laid down in the McKinley bill during the Spanish-American war. Sure, that was during a war. We are in a state of profound peace now.

The frightful loss of life by the sinking of the Francis H. Leggett recalls the dangers of the deep and the line of the poet: "They that go down to the sea in ships that do business in great waters." The Church of England's prayer for the safety of those at sea is built on that verse.

If the continental bankers put their shoulders to the peace wheel, there is sure to be something doing. It is money that "makes the mare go," and it is a necessary ingredient in the war game. But you don't think that cash is needed in most any business, drop in on your banker and try to arrange a loan.

The Bull Moosers of New York have nominated Frederick Davenport, for acting State Committee, for Governor. Davenport says he doesn't want to run, as he doesn't believe in the Bull Moose platform, and that he has no faith in his own ability to land a winner this fall. Why was he nominated at the primary? Oh, no, the Bull Moose State Committee. They were afraid to trust the people.

DYING IN HARNESS.

Stretched in the broken shafts, and cut by the heavy load;
Only a fallen horse, and a circle of waiting eyes

See the poor neck outstretched, and patient eyes grow dim;
See on the friendly stones how pillowed rests the head—
Thinking, if dumb beasts think, how good it is to be dead;
After the weary journey how restful to lie
With the broken shafts and the straps—waiting only to die.

Watchers, he died in harness—died in shafts and straps—
Fell, and the burden killed him; 'twas the day's mishaps—

Passers, crowding the pathway, stop steps awhile,
What is the symbol? Only should we cease to smile
At death for a beast of burden through the busy street
That is ever and ever echoing the hurrying feet.

What was the sign? A symbol to us tireless will?
Does He who taught in parables speak parables still?
The seed on the rock is wasted—on less hearts of men.
That gather and sow and grease and labor and sleep—and then—
Then for the prize!—A crown in the city of ever-echoing tread—
The toiler, crushed by the heavy load there in his harness—dead.

Nuts for Progressives.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have noted with much interest your eighty-five reasons why Holy Hiram should be defeated. To have increased his own salary and added other salaries to bring the price of a Governor up from $50,000 to $85,000 a year is certainly going some; yet I defy any Progressive (?) to point to a single instance in which his party or any one of its leaders has ever reduced public expenses or the tax rate. I go further, I defy any one of them to show a single case in which any one of them has not multiplied the taxeaters and increased the cost of public service as soon as he acquired power to do so. From the leading Bull Moose down, not one of them has ever advocated economy in the public service, but all of them, on the contrary, have been moved by the one purpose to abuse and plunder the revenue-bearing animals.

That this turn toward an extravagance, which is really merciless in a time of war and stress, has tempted and seduced the Democratic national administration is a highly significant fact. Nobody marvels when even the neutral nations of Europe refuse stoutly to cut the salaries of the official classes as much as a dollar or dime in their efforts to keep things going. That the officials over there would suffer no reduction and would [illegible] the increase upon the taxpaying [illegible] was to be expected. But in our own country it is a perfectly new thing for Presidents and Governors to stand out against the people for their full pound of flesh even when the patient was about to bleed to death.

A member of Congress from Oklahoma insists that the extra $100,000,000 of revenue should be met by a reduction in the appropriations; that, if necessary, the salaries should be cut and some of the useless employees be let out. He insists that all the penalty of the misfortune should not be avoided by the fat and fortunate official class by fastening it upon the backs of the people. Of course, his [illegible] paid associates disagree with him. They want the money! Like-wise the beneficiaries of Holy Hi's extravagance in California, as well as hundreds of others who hope to fasten themselves on later, would despise anyone who suggests that now is an opportune time to advocate economy in public as well as in private life. They despise the accuser who has exposed the taxeaters. Still I am sure that thousands of others see such evidences of selfishness in the proper light and realize the serious danger that there is in them.

To leave men in public offices free to take what they desire, exempt from sacrifices of all kinds, is to destroy all power and liberty of the people and to bring them to slavery in due time!

We now have in Washington as well as in California a striking illustration of the fact that the official class in the country has come to regard as [illegible] its right to demand more and more and more and to regard its exorbitant exactions as sacred funds, never to be reduced but to be constantly increased. "Two Stories Mixed."

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] At a "dry" love feast in Los Angeles Senator Brown is reported to have said that crime in California cost the taxpayer $29,000,000 in one year—caused by the drink habit alone. Can it be possible that the Senator confused this sum with the fine of $29,000,000 imposed upon the Standard Oil Company by Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis? or that of the noted story told by a celebrated hunter, when telling his audience of a wheat field that grew so solidly that he killed a monster gobbler walking on the heads of the wheat, and that when carrying it home he held it by the feet and the head dragged in the snow? He wriggled out of his dilemma by claiming that he got "two stories mixed."

Senator Brown, Mr. St. John and Mr. Chafin must be familiar with the fact that President Lincoln approved a revenue act passed unanimously by Congress in 1861, levying an [illegible] tax on two commercial commodities—liquor and cigars—and a very moderate tax on all other commodities listed for taxation, for the purpose of raising finances with which to preserve the Union from dissolution. Each one of these men is now engaged in an ignoble attempt to force a fanatical prohibition upon a law-abiding people, in face of the fact that the revenue act of 1861 has been in full force and effect fifty-four years, working seven days in the week on three shifts of eight hours each, the collections amounting to $13,000,000,000, from which appropriations have been flowing for all manner of expenditures.

If President Lincoln had known, when he approved that continuous revenue act, that within half a century any number of citizens would dare to repudiate the Federal Constitution, and, as far as they are able, annul the revenue laws, he would have insisted upon Congress putting a "rider" on the act that would have averted the cataclysm into which these men seem determined to plunge the country.

Mr. Lincoln's "private opinion publicly expressed" in 1858, that no man has the right of ownership in another man, applies equally to the "prohibition" enslavement of another man's liberty of conscience, as well as it does to the slavery of another man's person.

Why? Third-street Tunnel.

COVINA, Sept. 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Ever since the Third-street tunnel was finished it has been afflicted a disease, which we might call Symptoms: leaking through the roof and walls, foul smell at all times, dripping of the walls and floor, immense crack near west portal.

Remedy: the city has employed the best expert engineers to patch it up with cement, water-proofing and other tinkering jobs.

Result: the tunnel still has the symptoms, and all other tunnels built through the hill will have the same disease, and the only permanent remedy will be to abandon all ideas of tunnels and cut the hill down entirely.

Why? If the City Engineer will dig up the old profiles of the original lines of the streets on top of the hill he will find that all of the streets as now graded have had cuts made in them. After they were cut and filled, water mains and gas mains and laterals were laid in them. Everyone knows that filled ground settles for years, and the sewers show it now. Consequently the sewers and possibly some of the water mains have settled and are broken.

Some of the lots have been filled and built on, and those pipes are leaking. That is where all the water and filth is coming from.

In proof of this I will say that before the hill was built on, if you dug down a hundred feet you would not get water or mud enough to fill a teaspoon. Now if you did the same you would find it a mass of mud and bog, and that is the cause of the disease, colapsitis, and the only remedy is to stop the cause or cut down the hill.

The people who are in favor of the First and Second-street cuts are on the right track. Boost it along. The increase in value will more than pay the expense.

Is War "Hell," or Something Else?

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] After the occupation of Atlanta, Ga., by the Federal army, September 1, 1864, Gen. Sherman forwarded a communication by two citizens to Gen. J. B. Hood, commanding the Confederate army then in camp south of the city, proposing that the noncombatants be removed from Atlanta; those who desired to be sent North, and the remainder South. In the proposed removal Gen. Sherman offered to provide transportation to Rough and Ready, where they might be received by Gen. Hood—an armistice to be declared for that purpose. The Confederate general replied that "the unprecedented measure you propose transcends, in studied and ingenious cruelty, all acts ever before brought to my attention in the dark history of the war. In the name of God and humanity, I protest," etc. In the long and acrimonious correspondence which followed, Gen. Sherman proved more than a match for his adversary, who, as is well known, was bold even to rashness as a leader of men, as evidenced later at the battle of Franklin, but in scholarship ranked below the average officers of the old army, who graduated from the same class at West Point.

Under date of September 11 the Mayor of Atlanta and two members of the City Council sent a protest to Gen. Sherman, and it was the general's reply to this which has been distorted and misquoted in newspapers of the country from the death of Gen. Sherman to the present day. The general was greatly irritated by the bitter accusations of the Confederates, and from his reply I quote the following: "You might as well appeal against the thunderstorms as against these terrible hardships of war. They are inevitable. You cannot qualify war in harsher terms than I will. WAR IS CRUELTY, and you cannot define it, and those who brought war into our country deserve all the curses and maledictions a people can pour out."

The writer was born near the birthplace and home of Gen. Sherman, at Lancaster, O., and was under him at Atlanta. I believe that I represent the sentiment of the veterans of the armies of the Ohio, the Cumberland and the Tennessee in expressing the belief that our great commander was the "greatest Roman of them all," as applied to the leaders in our Civil War. It is a travesty on justice and a reflection on the high Christian character of Gen. Sherman to alter his sentence of "War is cruelty" to "War is hell."

For the Triplets.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am writing to ask you a favor, if you will be so kind as to give me a little space in your valuable paper for my triplet sons. They are a year old on the 22nd of September, and I would be so thankful if you would be so kind as to write up a little story for their birthday anniversary, as they are not overblessed with this world's good things.

I have a dollar each sent to me for them by a lady who signs herself "A Friend of the Triplets," no address, to start a banking account for them. I only trust I can keep it for them, but there is so much to do for three husky boys, such as they are getting to be, and my husband's weekly wage is $14. I have also a little girl 4 years old. Your paper has been very kind to me in the past, and the pictures of the children have been so successful, for which I thank you very much. Would you like to take their pictures for their first birthday? Thanking you.

Yours very sincerely,
MRS. R. A. LOVELL,

THE PATHOS OF WAR.

Heart-broken Mother, Whose Son Went to Mexico, Fears He Numbers Among the Dead.

Mrs. Charles Bower of Watts, a heart-broken mother, called on Inspector Connell in the Federal Building yesterday inquiring of her 16-year-old son, Charles Thompson Bower. When heard from in June he was a member of the Villa army of Constitutionalists, on the eve of the battle of Zacatecas. In that engagement 8000 lives were lost. Since that time she has not had a word from him, and she fears that he is among the dead. He wrote her that after the pending engagement he would go with the army to the City of Mexico, and he was looking forward with much pleasure to the visit.

Young Bower, with seven other boys, left Los Angeles last September as a member of the Constitutional forces, having been recruited by an agent of the Villa government on the Plaza. He ran away from home. He joined the Mexican forces, and later on was discharged from the army, given $35 and sent across the line. He got as far as El Paso on his way home, when he was picked up again by a Constitutionalist recruiting officer and taken back to the Mexican army.

SYMPATHY TALE WORKS.

But Mexican Paroled Once for Smuggling Is on Trial Again for Same Offense.

The Federal grand jury yesterday heard the evidence in the case of Jose Gonzales, charged with smuggling three Chinese across the boundary line, for which he was to receive $110 each if he walked them as far as Riverside.

Last April Gonzales and Young Sing pleaded guilty to bringing eight Chinese across the line. Young Sing was given two years in San Quentin and Gonzales was sentenced to eight months in the County Jail in San Diego. He had served only two months when his friends and himself put up a sympathy story that he wanted to reform, lead a new life, and consequently he was pardoned by the President at the instigation of Capt. Connell.

On August 22 three Chinese were picked up at Otay, San Diego county, but the guide had fled. Later on Immigration Officer Weddle picked up Gonzales in San Diego, as being the fleeing guide. Gonzales at first denied the charge, but upon being faced by the aliens, confessed and is again in jail.

Flood Control.

miles of the total 4067 square miles area of Los Angeles county.

"The State is also interested in navigation," said Mr. Hill, "and certainly cannot be indifferent to the reduction of assessable values which follow in the wake of destructive floods."

New laws must be enacted by the next Legislature before anything of a definite nature can be done in the way of carrying out the ideas of the engineers. This legislation, according to Mr. Hill, will concern the methods for the condemnation of extensive stretches of land. Without such enactment the county must expect to be held up for amounts of money far in excess of the value of the land.

It will be the principal duty of the committee appointed to see that the necessary legislation is whipped into shape and passed. Also to provide measures for the raising of the sums needed to carry on the project. If this legislation is enacted it will be next August before it becomes effective. This will mean a long delay in the actual work of construction, but it is the best that can be done under the circumstances, according to the Supervisors.

The entire membership of the Board of Supervisors, Board of Flood Control Engineers, and the new Legislative Committee for State and National Aid will attend the meeting of the Inland Waterways Association, which opens in Stockton tomorrow and adjourns Saturday. The representatives from this county will attend this meeting with an object of furthering the interests of this county in the work it has undertaken of harnessing disatrous floods, so that damage will be reduced to a minimum. County Counsel Hill will accompany the party.

ADVOCATES FREE SHIPPING.

Declared to Be Boon for Los Angeles by Jurist at Home Rule Taxation League.

Declaring it would be a great boon to Los Angeles Harbor, Judge Hewitt advocated passage of the constitutional amendment providing for free shipping in an address before the Home Rule Taxation League yesterday noon at the Hollenbeck Cafe.

Judge Hewitt declared the commerce of other States has been greatly benefited by such a privilege. He presented figures to prove that the amount now derived from taxing shipping of our ports is almost a negligible quantity. Judge Hewitt said, in part:

Nearly every American ship which comes into Los Angeles Harbor has "New York" under its name, indicating that the home of the company is New York and that the ship is registered there. The ship may never touch New York, as is the case with many of our Pacific Coast vessels. The ships themselves cannot be taxed here, because they are not owned here.

The situation is due to the fact that the State of New York exempts its shipping from taxation. This has had a great tendency to build up the commerce of that city. The same has been done in the State of Washington. Duluth exempts its shipping.

The amount of money collected from shipping in California is comparatively infinitesimal. In 1912, the latest figures I have, the total of taxes from all shipping sources was $153,950. Of this amount, the port of San Francisco collected $149,000; Los Angeles county, $2800; Humboldt, $700; San Diego, $687.

If in California we were to exempt our vessels, it would have a tendency to build up the commerce of our ports. Many boats now making New York their home undoubtedly would show "Los Angeles" under the name on the stern. It would mean more commerce, more business and more advertising for Los Angeles.

New Skin Peeler In Great Demand

Since the discovery that mercolized wax possesses remarkable absorbent powers when applied to the skin, the demand for it as a complexion renewer has been tremendous. Druggists in every section report sales as far exceeding those of anything similar they have ever had on their shelves.

Ordinary mercolized wax, according to Prof. Hoffman, gently peels off the devitalized cuticle, in minute particles, so that the user gradually loses her old, worn-out complexion, the more youthful under-skin taking its place. Cutaneous eruptions, blotches, moth patches, tan and freckles are of course removed at the same time. As the wax is entirely harmless, and easy to use, women all over the country are purchasing it in original packages and using it to quickly rejuvenate their complexions. The wax is applied to face, neck or hands the same as cold cream, allowed to remain over night, then washed off with warm water.—National Drug Review.

TALENTED LOS ANGELES MUSICIAN SAYS AKOZ CURED HER STOMACH

Mrs. Lillian Bell Regains Appetite and Ends Hyperacidity

Mrs. Lillian Bell

Mrs. Lillian Bell, a talented musician residing at the Green Hotel, 525½ South Main Street, Los Angeles, has ended stomach trouble of two years' standing by taking Akoz, the California medicinal mineral. Hyperacidity, impaired appetite, nervousness and loss of sleep were the conditions that distressed her. She tried various remedies, but nothing did her any appreciable good until she tried Akoz.

"I was surprised at the prompt relief I secured when I began taking Akoz for a serious case of stomach trouble," said Mrs. Bell. "I had suffered for two years and had tried different remedies in an effort to correct the hyperacidity responsible for my distressed condition. It was not until I began taking Akoz that I got satisfactory results.

"In a few days I found that the excess of acid in my stomach was controlled. My appetite returned, I overcame my serious nervous condition and I was again able to sleep as well as ever. After taking the Akoz internal treatment for one month I felt fully restored to my health and I cannot say too much in praise of the harmless and tasteless mineral that corrected my stomach. I do not lose an opportunity to recommend it to my friends."

Such is the expression of but one of the thousands who have ended rheumatism, diabetes, Bright's disease, stomach, kidney, bladder and liver troubles, catarrh, eczema, piles and other ailments. Akoz is sold by all leading drug stores, where further information may be had regarding this advertisement.

The Drama.

REELISMS AND REALITIES.

Joe Knowles, Nature Man, at Republic.

"Man from Italy," Welcomed by Empress.

Clune's Movies Prove to Be Crackerjacks.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY.

There is a rare bit of color and faithful portrayal of type in the headline attraction at Loew's Empress this week. Murry Livingston, who has occupied one of the top-notch places among character comedians of vaudeville for many years, brings a one-act tabloid comedy-drama entitled "The Man from Italy," portraying an incident of New York's busy East Side. Mr. Livingston plays "Tony Baciagalupi," capably supported by Gladys Crolius in the hole of an East Side waif, and Harry Tyler.

The rest of the bill is a laugh from start to finish. Firstly there is Valdo, the mystery man, who is a humorist as well as a magician, doing all his stunts to an obligato of amusing patter. Helen Stuart and Fred Hall are pleasing in a song-dance-chatter act. Yvonne is a wizardess on the accordion. Also she is a looker. Buch Bros. put the giggles in their faces with a jolly tar act; Jones & Johnson, colored comedians, give each other droll backfire, and some excellent photo plays finish up a good bill.

Republic.

Joe Knowles, the famous "nature man," is the headliner at the Republic, and he has the house packed, listening to his graphic recital of wilderness experience in a Klamath forest, where he spent thirty days without the ordinary food or clothing of civilization. He tells how he obtained food and fashioned clothing and shelter. He also shows some striking moving pictures taken before, during and after his near-to-nature life.

Besides Joe Knowles, the current Republic show includes James & Prior in a comedy skit, "At the Depot;" the Olmsteads, athletes of exceptional cleverness; Snowie Maybelle, a comedienne with a routine of good stories; Capt. Brunswick & Co., sharpshooters and lariat-throwers; Trask & Montgomery in a singing and dancing act, some new pictures of the European war, and the Hearst-Selig motion news pictures.

Clune's Auditorium.

Russian court life and the many exciting incidents which are participated in by the nobles of the war-stricken continent are depicted at the Auditorium this week.

To Clara Young's remarkable impersonation of Helene, a young nihilist of lofty aspirations of unconquered will, of spirited rebellion against injustice, is due a very large proportion of the fascination of "My Official Wife."

The musical programme is also attractive.

A tremendous lion is the principal character in the transformation scene, a two-reel "Beasts of the Jungle" film following the play. A reproduction of Frederick Thomas Smith's famous picture, "The Challenge," is another feature of the bill.

Clune's Broadway.

"Jime," another Selig number, will commence Thursday.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY AGNES THURNAU.

A little more than a half a century ago there was no such thing in this world as a woman's club. Woman was not a factor in political and industrial life. Today women's club organizations exist in every civilized country on the earth, and the activities of women cover nearly every department of human endeavor. They have gained a foothold in the professions, in the industries, in art, and have come to be recognized in the field of scientific research.

In the United States the club membership in the social and culture clubs alone is more than 2,000,000. Los Angeles district has 15,000.

And these 15,000 women expect the greatest club year they have ever experienced.

The power and dignity and strength of the woman's club movement in the United States was fully attested at the biennial convention held in June in Chicago, and the California delegates returned inspired to more splendid endeavor and better work.

In the United States, where the woman's club had its birth, its influence is of course strongest. It created the demand for higher education of women; with the higher education of women came the increased efficiency of women, the demand for equal recognition with men, and the opening of the professions to women. The invasion of the industries by women was the next logical step and it followed, and thus a new social order was established, bringing with it tremendous new economic and social problems. Women themselves have been potential factors in settling many of these problems, and those that remain unsettled the women's clubs, political, social and civic, are studying thoroughly with a view to ultimate wise and equitable settlement.

This work in women's clubs is not localized. It is carried on in every State in the Union where women's clubs are organized at all. Nine of the fourteen California State Federation departments are peace, civics, conservation, philanthropy, public health, country life, civil service reform, industrial conditions. The predominance of interest in public welfare in the California State Federation is representative of club work all over the United States.

This note of kinship with the world, this recognition of the unity of the human family, so dominant in the activities of women, will make itself felt in the industries in time, and this will do more to eliminate friction between employer and employee than all the trades unions in the world.

The study of industrial conditions and relations will form a large part of the civic and political club work for the coming year. Several clubs have already opened the year's work, with promise of exceptional results. Among these are the Tuesday Afternoon Club, Glendale, Laurel Canyon Woman's Club, the Business Woman's Civic Club and the Los Angeles Teachers' Club.

Miss Lloy Galpin, teacher of civics and history in the Los Angeles High School, is the new president of the Business Woman's Civic Club, to which business women only are eligible. The club has for its object the promotion and advancement of the interests of women in every occupation and profession. Under the auspices of women representatives of all political parties, the club will give a candidates' reception in Choral Hall, Auditorium building, Monday evening, September 28. Misses Marion Israels, Helen Wisler and Mary Foy have arranged the programme. Following are the speakers: J. B. Curtin, Fred F. Wheeler, W. J. Ford, T. L. Woolwine, Charles W. Bell, Capt. H. Z. Osborne, Estelle Lawton Lindsey, John C. Cline, William A. Hammel.

The public affairs section of the Los Angeles Teachers' Club will meet Thursday, September 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the club parlor, Trinity Auditorium building, Grand avenue and Ninth street.

Coleman House Association will hold its regular board meeting today at 10 o'clock at the Settlement House, at No. 402 Buchet street. The meeting will be followed by a luncheon to which all members are invited to be present. The secretary of the association, No. 1938 Bonsallo avenue, is mailing the new year book to all members who request it.

The women of Nevada are making a valiant fight for suffrage, and have sent grateful expressions to the California women who are aiding them in financing their campaign. The club membership of Nevada is small, and the suffrage workers are depending largely on the women in other States to aid them. The aid has been freely given.

Jewelry and money to the value of $900 have been sent by Los Angeles women to Mrs. Medill McCormick, Chicago, to aid in the Montana and Nevada campaign for suffrage. The amount was raised at the suffrage garden party at the Hooker-Jones gardens, August 22. Mrs. Seward Simons gave a full report of the affair after the regular meeting of the Woman's City Club held at Blanchard Hall, September 21.

The Los Angeles Public Library held its examinations for entrance to the training school yesterday. With the growth of the library movement in California and the development of the county library system, the demand for trained workers has greatly increased. Although a number of those who have taken the course in the library training school are now holding good positions in other libraries, the Los Angeles Public Library has found it necessary until now to limit the training class to the number likely to be needed in the Los Angeles Public Library. But the better facilities of the new library quarters make it possible to accept a limited number of women wishing to prepare for library work elsewhere.

All departments of instruction in the Y.W.C.A. will be fully organized and open to students October 1. Twenty-six hundred students were enrolled in the department of physical culture alone last year, and this course is proving equally popular this year. In no other woman's organization in Los Angeles can scientific instruction in athletics be had. The gymnasium of the Y.W.C.A. is fully equipped and the training in athletics is one of the strongest features of the work of this organization.

AT TRINITY TONIGHT.

The following programme has been arranged for the interdenominational meeting tonight at Trinity Auditorium. Dean William MacCormack will speak of "Our One Mission," Dr. John Balcom Shaw on "The Attitude of the Church to the Community," Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher on "The Popular Church," and Rev. J. C. Pinkerton will give a Bible reading.

LAURA JEAN LIBBEY TALKS HEART TOPICS.

Announcing the Engagement Too Soon.

"No one could tell, for nobody knew,
Why love was made to gladden a few
And hearts that would forever be true,
Go lone and starved the whole way through."

Quite as soon as a young couple become engaged to marry, the good relatives on both sides are anxious to spread the joyous tidings to their dear 400 friends. Ninety-nine times out of a hundred everything turns out as scheduled. But it is that one time in a hundred where the plans miscarry. The result is consternation, and the wish from the depth of the heart that the engagement had not been announced so soon.

There is a world of wide reasoning in that conclusion. The pity is that it came too late. A young man falls in love with a girl at their first meeting. Rapid courtship follows, and the engagement ring is placed upon her finger. The betrothed couple see each other every afternoon possible, aye, and every evening. Constant companionship does not always, like old wine, improve with time. Little differences arise on trivial subjects. He finds she has a temper, and she learns he is stubborn. She likes housekeeping; he doesn't see why a man should be saddled with a home when there's only two of them and they can board for less money.

It all comes out while they sit planning, that she expects a weekly cash allowance to run a home while he is of the opinion that the average young wife is not a money-saver and cannot be trusted with it. He coolly informs her that he will look over the bills to see what ought to be paid, that she will be expected to trade with the cheapest tradesmen, no matter how far she must go to look for bargains.

The dissension that arises between the two chills the love that blossomed too quickly to last. The girl declares that she will not wed unless she is to have her way. The young man declares that he who earns the money has a right to say how it shall be used. A coolness springs up between them.

She petulantly asserts that she is sorry that the engagement was announced; letting him come to what conclusion he pleased by that remark.

The discussion goes from bad to worse. The upshot of the matter is that they part. Their friends gossip late about it with much curiosity, blaming, as usual, the wrong party. Each Mrs. Grundy has her own version of the story, until at last it is twisted out of all semblance of the truth. It is a lesson to the girl and other would-be lovers come sooner not to fall in love and become engaged on a too short acquaintance. She has learned, too, that the nature of both should be met with consideration. Returning from the Wedding.

Dear Miss Libbey—I am a very perplexed bride, asking you to help me by giving me advice, please. I am a very happy marriage, six weeks ago. I returned from the Lakeside [illegible] my little cottage in town. Bert and I had planned, bought and worked day and night fixing up our little abode just too sweet for anything. Key was turned in the door and in we walked on our return to find that husband's aunt, who lived with before marriage, had most of the furniture in her home. We found her letter there, saying to live with her and make her home and she possibly might leave the bungalow she owns. She has a temper. I'd rather live by myself.

UNHAPPY MINNIE.

It is safe to advise all married couples to live by themselves, if it is in any way possible to do so. You could sell and buy a home in future, be more happy. If she finds you do not care in this step, the furniture will be returned. All's well that ends well.

used. A coolness springs up between them.

She petulantly asserts that she is sorry that the engagement was announced; letting him come to what conclusion he pleased by that remark.

The discussion goes from bad to worse. The upshot of the matter is that they part. Their friends speculate about it with much curiosity, blaming, as usual, the wrong one. Each Mrs. Grundy has her own version of the story, until at last it is twisted out of all semblance of the truth. It is a lesson to the girl who other would-be lovers come a-wooing not to fall in love and become engaged on a too short acquaintance. She has learned, too, that the wishes of both should be met with consideration. ONE RUN WINS FOR HOWARD.

Hughes and Pernoll Are in Rare Form.

Ball Goes in Pail Ruining Drinking Water.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Confronted with a fine chance to mount into the rarer atmosphere of second place, Papa's athletes suddenly concluded that third is not such a bad location after all, and today they can be found doing business at the same old place.

They concluded not to move as early as the first inning, when Del Howard's cold storage athletes made two hits and Charley Moore threw the ball into the water bucket. Not only did these things spill the beans, but, as Long Tom Hughes had previously expectorated on the ball, all the water in the bucket was spoiled. Naturally, the boys soon became weak and thirsty. In fact, their condition become so bad that they made but four hits, while only two of them were able to stagger as far as third base. What a fine thing it would have been had the visitors invited the home boys to drink out of their untainted bucket. This would have shown them to be true sportsmen.

DEL HAS AN EYE.

But Howard is not overlooking any bets, and when he noted the weak and famished condition of the Angels he advised Dillon to sell his ball team and buy a flock of camels.

San Francisco won, 1 to 0, and the game, every dinged bit of it, in fact, was played in the first round.

After the disastrous first Hughes settled down and attended strictly to his knitting, and Corhan, with a lonely single in the second, was the only man to touch him in the next seven innings. In other words, Long Tom went untouched from the second to the eighth, when he was yanked for a pinch hitter. Cheek got ruffled for a single and a triple in the ninth, but was saved by a frisky double play.

PORBOISE IN FORM.

Hub Pernoll, the only stall-fed pitcher in the league, had his crossfire sputtering and coming up to the plate from unexpected sources. He would act as though to start the ball from down near San Diego, and the batter would be surprised, even baffled at times, to see it come sailing in from the direction of Oxnard.

The big porpoise allowed only four hits, and these were unrelated. Moore gathered two of them, Abstein one and Metzger the residue. George also drew two of three passes which Pernoll peddled.

Wolter lugged his sore foot into the fray in the eighth as a pinch hitter and drew a walk. But just as things were beginning to look up, Gedeon, after a couple of unsuccessful attempt to bunt, smashed the sphere to

GIBBONS AND CLABBY SIGN?

CHICAGO SAYS THEY HAVE, BUT FRISCO SAYS THEY HAVEN'T.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Mike Gibbons and Jimmy Clabby today signed for a twenty-round bout at San Francisco on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—The only two promoters holding permits to stage a twenty-round boxing bout here on Thanksgiving Day knew nothing of a report from Chicago that Mike Gibbons and Jimmy Clabby had been matched to fight twenty rounds on the afternoon of that day. Although Clabby has not signed, he is informally under agreement to meet the winner of the approaching twenty-round bout between George Chip of Newcastle, Pa., and Billy Murray of Petaluma, which is to be held on September 30. Neither Clabby nor his manager could be found this afternoon.

BAN PROHIBITS EMERY BALL.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Use of the "emery ball," or the sandpaper ball, in the American League is prohibited in a ruling by President B. B. Johnson.

Managers of clubs were notified that the first offenders will be suspended for thirty days and fined $100. In addition, the games in which the ball is used will be cast out of the records, providing it is won by the team violating the rule.

JOHN KILBANE BREAKS HAND.

Riding Horseback, the Nag Stumbled.

Thumb Narrowly Escaped Amputation.

Bout With Abe Attell Is Postponed.

Another million-dollar hand went out of commission yesterday and Abe Attell is saved.

While riding horseback yesterday near Doyle's training camp, Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion of the world, was badly hurt. His horse stumbled. Instinctively putting out one hand to save himself, as he fell, the champion broke his left hand.

The left thumb was so badly splintered that the surgeons were at first of the opinion that amputation would be necessary. On thinking it over again, however, they discovered that, owing to their marvelous skill, the thumb might be saved. Wherefore the champion's left or larboard thumb is in splints instead of a premature grave.

All of which was tough on Kilbane but heavenly mercy to Abe Attell who was matched to fight Kilbane October 15. The fight will now be postponed for at least two weeks.

P. S. No Irishman has any business on horseback anyhow.

During the time that M. E. McLoughlin is not playing lawn tennis he is a real estate agent. He is connected with an Oakland (Cal.) realty company, and it is on the electric-lighted court of Wickham Havens, the head of the company, that the ex-champion gets most of his practice.

Washington Americans may train in Cuba next spring.

Johnny Schiff, war correspondent.

Our lively little friend, the featherweight, is coming home from Australia by way of Suez Canal and the letters he has written to The Times are considerably more interesting than the finished product of most professional war writers.

WHAT A PRIZE FIGHTER SAW OF THE GREAT WAR.

WAR is not ordinarily the one best bet of a pink sheet; but we have received three letters from Johnny Schiff, the featherweight, which we think match for interest any of the war correspondence appearing anywhere. He went to Australia with Jimmy Clabby, and, after fighting several ring battles, started for home by way of Europe. While he was at sea, the war broke and the rest of his voyage was filled with exciting little encounters on the raw edges of war. He saw all that a lively, smart young boy would be likely to, and, furthermore, he knows how to tell it. What appears below is just as Johnny wrote it:

Snappy Stuff.

JOHNNY SCHIFF CLEARS UP SOME WAR MYSTERIES.

Coming Home from Australia, He Sees the French Fleets Whose Whereabouts Have Been a Puzzle—He Also Witnesses a Sea Fight and Sees the Indian Troops Landed to Support the Allies.

"R. M. S., Orsova, at Sea.

"Dear Friend: It is the first day of August, the day that I am leaving for England. For the past three months I have been living in Australia, where I am leaving behind a heap of friends. There are 1100 passengers booked for passage, so you can see how many there were down on the docks to see us off. There were more tears shed that day than a rainstorm.

"There are two other boxers on board beside me—Joe Brooks, an English featherweight, and Nat Williams, also of England."

Johnny describes the big steamer with its moving-picture theater and luxurious appointments, and adds, naively: "There is a musical comedy company with thirty pretty damsels aboard bound for Colombo, India, so I guess I will not get lonesome."

The War Is Declared.

"Melbourne, Aug. 3.

"Arriving at Melbourne, we are informed that England has declared war against Germany. I strolled up to the business center of town and was surprised to find people shouting, marching through the streets. It seems that the whole country is in an uproar. All the German merchant ships that are in the local harbor have been seized by the Australian authorities. There are several French steamers here, and as the French sailors strolled around the town they were cordially received by everyone.

"We have on board this steamer a shipment of mutton; also a fortune in gold, so I would not be surprised to get held up by a German warship. The captain does not know what route he is going yet, but maybe we might go round by Africa to dodge them. We have the government mail on board, so we have to finish our trip to England.

"The ship is getting ready to steam out. The people are singing the national anthem, 'God Save the King,' crying like little children. I have now begun to realize it will not be the safest voyage in the world.

"We were steaming out of the harbor, bound for Adelaide, when we noticed a big German merchant steamer coming in toward the harbor, flying a German flag. Alongside of her was an Australian gunboat. I found out later that they had captured the German steamer outside the harbor.

"The captain has instructed the passengers that all lights must be put out by 10 o'clock. The ship must be in darkness in case we run onto a German cruiser."

Discovered!

Johnny's next letter is written from Adelaide, which he tells all about. Coming back to the ship, he writes:

"We had a nice programme of movies last night. Among others was a Majestic film in which I took part while I was working for the movies in Los Angeles. When that reel was shown the doll I had with me let out a yell, 'Why, look at Johnny Schiff!'

"Well, I had to own up it was me and you know the taking of moving pictures is so strange to all these people. Well, it kept me busy describing the ways and the life of a moving-picture actor."

Johnny tells many interesting incidents of the life on board ship; then tells an incident of two German passengers being searched by the ship's officers—both were armed. According to Johnny's excited description, both must have been carrying German siege guns; but maybe they were only revolvers.

Escorted by a Cruiser.

"Colombo, Aug. 20.

"Before telling about Colombo I must tell you about seeing a German merchant liner get captured just before entering Colombo harbor.

"The name of the cruiser was the Fox, and a speedy little vessel she was. It seems that the German had been ordered to stop, but refused, taking a chance by going full speed ahead. The cruiser fired two shots at her. The German ship was fully five miles in advance, but she still refused to halt. If it had been an ordinary sea vessel instead of a passenger liner with about 600 passengers aboard, it was said that the captain of the cruiser would have sent her to the bottom. The third shot fired from the cruiser took effect on the liner, reaping down her wireless. The captain of the German vessel knew it was time to quit, so he just gave in.

"Landing at Colombo, I found that the military people had a thousand German prisoners under guard and had captured nine German ships."

Johnny goes on to give an interesting account of his visit to the native city, where they made him take off his shoes before entering the temples; about the Lipton tea plantations, etc. The ship then proceeded on her way to Port Said. Then an incident that outraged Johnny.

"The first night out from Colombo, about a hundred miles, we encountered another funny experience. We were stopped by a Japanese gunboat. Now, can you tell me what Japan is monkeying around up here for? She must have something up her sleeve. After they found who we were, we proceeded on our journey.

"It was August 25, night time, when the moving pictures were going on, when all of a sudden a stream of lights brightened up on the port side of the ship. It was the English cruiser Chasper. She had been dispatched from the Gulf of Aden to escort us to Suez. After showing us who she was, all her lights went out and she threw a powerful searchlight on us; then she

GREENWICH (Ct.) Sept. 22.—Today was one of surprises in the invitation golf tournament of the Greenwich Country Club. In the morning round Francis Ouimet of Auburndale, Mass., amateur golf champion of the United States and France, was defeated by a Princeton student, Grant Peacock of Pittsburgh.

Peacock was beaten in the afternoon round by W. Parker Seeley, the Connecticut State champion, while John G. Anderson of Boston, who was the runner-up in the national championship last year, was put out by Max F. Marston, Baltusrol, N. J., in the second round of match play.

TIGERS BEGIN WORK TODAY.

Forty-five Men to Report to Pipal.

Glaze Scrimmages Varsity and Freshmen.

"Napoleon" D'Aule Highly Excited.

BY HOWARD W. ANGUS.

It is the Tigers who do the hurrahing today.

Bulletins, which have passed the official censor, have it that the new Occidental opens with chapel exercises at 11 o'clock. But they are merely to mislead the enemy. They deceive nobody.

The real Tiger year begins this afternoon when Coach Pipal gathers his jungle men together for the first practice of the year.

At 3 o'clock the Tigers will herd in little groups down to the temporary training quarters, scramble wildly for suits and hurry out on the field to punt the ball around until Coach Pipal assumes command. Then all the kidding and child play will cease and work will begin.

It is estimated that at least forty men will be out for the initial workout with Capt. Sid Foster, the man of the hour. Of these, twenty-five will be blushing freshmen, afraid to turn around lest they step on an upperclassman's toes—a heinous crime, to say nothing of the pain.

The veterans, of course, will hog the limelight. Promising freshmen will receive as much attention as a hod-carrier at a society ball. They cannot be used because of the freshman rule, and are therefore creatures to be put in their proper place. In other words, they must be messenger boys with the demeanor of butlers.

The veterans will be the whole show. Along the sidelines will gather the students watching every action with critical eyes, their faces beaming.

They will wax enthusiastic over the physical appearance of this man and that. They will cross their hearts and swear that McClung is punting farther than ever; that Foster is shiftier, faster and more sensational; that there never lived a man built along the mountain lines of Shipke.

As everybody knows, there will be eight members of the championship varsity back at Occidental. The famous backfield is intact.

The line from tackle to tackle promises to be very stonewally, in spite of the loss of Tad Jones and Tubby Wieman. Shipke, Deams, Stearn and Doig are names to be conjured with. The ends may give trouble.

There only was one Harry Kirkpatrick. It will be many a moon before there is another sensation such as he. Chick Hill, impregnable on the defense, will leave a ragged hole. But Coffeen, Batz and Lewis are ready and willing to do their utmost, which is some effort.

As they begin work, the Tigers have reasons to feel proud of themselves and gloat a little, but they have none to get overconfident on.

Those Quakers have a terrible fight in store for them. The clubmen have sworn secret vows to beat them at all costs. While nothing but tears trinkle down from Pomona, Stanton has always maintained that he laughs best who laughs last. The Trojans are not saying much, but they are sawing wood with a vengeance.

The Occidental field stretches out in the open with the valley at its feet and the hills behind it. A sweep of breeze blows across it continually from a direction that will not interfere with punting. As far as the heat is concerned, the Tigers need not worry. The field is ideal.

But Coach Pipal is wondering how he is going to get away with secret practices. It will be remembered that secret practices are the Tiger coach's long suits. He fears that the enemies' scouts will prowl continually along the skyline with spyglasses. He knows that he could learn everything about a team that way, so he trembles.

It is lucky for Barnum & Bailey's treasure that the circus pulled out when it did, or Coach Pipal and his Tigers might have swooped down under cover of darkness and made off with the tent and spread it over the Oxy field.

Trojans Scrimmage.

The Trojan varsity and freshman team put up a strenuous scrimmage on Bovard Field yesterday afternoon. Coach Glaze was after his varsity men every down and some of the things he said did not flatter the Trojans' vanity.

The varsity and freshmen alternated in forcing the ball up and down the gridiron. They went at each other as if they hated each other's hide. The varsity held it a high outrage every time the freshies made a yard. They were outraged often.

The freshmen were humiliated every time a yard was made on them. They were humbled often. While Coach Glaze and Irvine were not satisfied with anything. They told the men they held the ball like a cabbage, ordered them to forget that "fool English game" and found more faults to the down than the Trojans thought it was possible for an irate driver to find in a balky mule.

The freshman team is strong. It gave the varsity a thorough scrimmage. It was a long, hard, gruelling practice. No quarter was shown.

The Trojans are still tackling high and have not learned the trick of cutting in when dashing at the end. But Coach Glaze is rapidly teaching them the art of spilling the interference, of dodging an end and of knocking a tackler three ways for breakfast.

On Saturday the Trojans play the clubmen. The clubmen threaten to give them a beating, which they are dead against. Besides, the players on both teams have a few bumps to even up with the other fellow.

Athletic Club's Secret Drill.

As the first game draws near, "Napoleon" D'Aule is getting highly excited. He can hardly wait for Saturday to roll around. He does little besides think out plays, give the men pointers and hold secret conferences with Bird that are mysterious, to say the least.

"Napoleon" will not admit that he expects the clubmen to win the game. But if they lose he will be a disappointed man. He gave his men a secret drilling in the club last night. Who knows what went on behind those closed doors? The plot is getting as thick as molasses in January.

The Missions bunched three hits off Krause in the seventh, scoring their lone run. Both teams played errorless ball in the field, the Missions pulling off three fast double plays. The score:

ANNA BRADFORD LOWERS RECORD.

COLUMBUS (O.) Sept. 22.—At the Columbus Grand Circuit races today a time average better than any ever known was made by four sets of trotters and pacers. Thirteen heats were raced to an average of 2:07 1-5. The principal contributor to this exhibition of extreme speed were champions Anna Bradford and Etawah.

Anna Bradford lowered her own world's record of 2:03¼ for three-year-old pacers to 2:01½, and took away from William the record of 2:05¼ and 2:05 for a two-heat three-year-old pacing performance. Squantum, the contender against the filly, was timed separately in 2:04 and 2:03¼.

Etawah made a break in the first heat of the Capital City stake trot, and it was taken by Omar in 2:05¼. The Geers horse then won two heats in the same time, and ended the race with a fourth heat in 2:04½, making the total time 8:20¼ and breaking the previous four-heat record of 8:20¾, made by Dudie Archdale. The final heat's time took from Soprano the record of 2:05¼ for a fast and fourth heat.

Margaret Druien, a pronounced favorite, won the card's richest event, the $10,000 Hoster Columbus trotting stake, in straight heats. In the middle heat she equaled her record, 2:05½, made at Grand Rapids early this season.

Carna G. won the 2:08 pace, the first heat going to Little Alfred, which in heavy betting was a strong second choice. Cleo B. was the favorite, but acted badly, barely escaping being distanced in the third heat.

Up Against It.

CARDS AND BEARS SEARCH FOR BIG GAME REFEREE.

Bill Hill of Australia Gives Satisfaction but Costs Too Much Money—War Puts Damper on Hopes of Getting Vancouver Man—Southerner May Be Honored With Position.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Sept. 21.—Once again the perennial question comes up, who is to referee the big game? Both Stanford and California are agreed upon one man, W. W. Hill of Australia, but the expense of bringing "Bill" Hill to these shores again will gouge the net returns rather hard. Hill's trip to California last year to referee the 1913 game cost over $1000 and it is doubtful if either Stroud or Wilcox will want to incur the expense again. The "gate" of the big game is the great revenue producer of college athletics and the managers of both institutions are out for keeping down expenses.

WHERE, OH, WHERE?

The bay country boasts a good number of Rugby referees, but where to find a man who knows the game and is not partisan is a problem. Many of the referees who handle the practice games are graduates of either California or Stanford and to allow one of them to control the big games would be manifestly improper. Either Palmer Fuller or Lou Watts is competent to referee the contest. The two are the best local judges of Rugby that are available, but one is from Stanford and the other from California.

The student bodies would never hear to a proposition of securing a referee from one of the local educational institutions, such as Santa Clara or St. Marys. All of the smaller institutions hereabouts are prejudiced either in favor of California or Stanford.

FIND A CANADIAN.

Unless a referee appears from some now unknown source in California, the only solution seems to be to find a Rugger in British Columbia, who is able to handle the game. Jenkison used to be the "old reliable" for such emergencies. He refereed all of the big games prior to 1910. But now Stanford will have naught to do with him, while Burns, who handled the 1911 game, is not in the good graces of California. One of two other Canadians might be able to do the work. Patterson or Morsly of Vancouver, are considered experts in the north. Both have handled big club matches and their qualifications seem good. Some are of the opinion, however, that because of certain troubles arising of the present war that neither of these men would be available.

A SOUTHERN REFEREE.

If a Canadian cannot be obtained the natural thing seems to be to look to Southern California for a referee. Los Angeles has among its club players and officials men who could handle the big game to the satisfaction of all concerned. Managerial eyes will very likely be cast toward the south if the Vancouver referees do not fulfill qualifications.

An Extra Frame.

OAKS GET TO DECANNIERE IN TENTH, BEATING HAPS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—The Oaks presented a stubborn and stone wall resistance to Happy Hogan's efforts to climb after the pennant leaders and after ten innings of nip-and-tuck battle today, emerged winners by a 3-to-2 score. The winning run glided over after two were out. Rube Gardner beat out a slow roller along third and after stealing second scored on Quinlan's Texas leaguer back of second. Dickie Bayless made a gallant try for the ball, but just failed to scoop it up.

Handsome Jack Killilay and Deck Decanniere hooked up in a hurling contest and the honors were with the right-hander, although he was not as steady. Jack gave five bases on balls and cut loose two wild pitches, but only one of the slips figured in the run-getting. He also scattered six bingles, Bill Leard grabbing three of them. Deck was found for nine hits, but it was his own wild heave to first and a base on balls that aided the Oaks.

SCORING BEGINS.

Both sides started from the first inning to score. Wilhoit sliced a single to center, stole second, and continued to third on Mitze's low peg. Leard banged a single to center for a tally. Dowling followed with an error, but with second and third occupied and only one down, the Tigers failed to connect.

Daniels used his speed in the Oaks' half to beat out an infield tap to Leard. He raced all the way to third on Decanniere's wild throw to first. Guest grounded out, but Zacher raised a short fly in back of second which went for a hit when Bayless and Leard got mixed up on the play.

In the fourth Borton walked, went to second on a sacrifice to third, after Quinlan took McArdle's long fly, and scored on Elliott's drive to center.

The score was tied in the fifth. Mitze walked and advanced on a sacrifice and an infield hit. Guest's out to McArdle sent him home.

HOT WATER.

The following innings saw many runners on the bases, but without result. Killilay's wildness was continually getting him into hot water. In the seventh a walk and single put a runner on third, but two were out and Meloan lined to center. A single and another walk in the eighth again put the Tigers in scoring position. The tenth was a shaky frame for Killilay. Jack walked two in a row and then cut loose his second wild pitch. Carlisle went in as pinch hitter, but failed, and the side was promptly retired.

Decanniere was getting into some jams himself in the closing innings and the finish was staged in the tenth.

CARD SENIORS BEAT SOPHS.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Sept. 22.—"Break his neck" was the keynote of the class championship Rugby game between the seniors and the sophomores in which the seniors won by a 17-to-5 score today. Play was confined chiefly to the forward division of the seniors, whose only chance lay in keeping the ball from the sophomore backfield. The contest was scientific and was exciting in the extreme.

FOOTBALL CLANS ARE GATHERING.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Three hundred and eighty-four football players responded to the first call of practice issued yesterday by Coaches of "Big Nine" elevens, according to statistics gathered here today.

Unusually large squads reported to all of the western conference universities. Purdue topped the list with 65, with Iowa second, with 60. Minnesota had 50; Ohio, 45; Illinois, 40; Chicago, 35; Wisconsin, 34; Indiana, 30, and Northwestern, 25.

One Run Wins.

GENT FAINTS.

A gent in the right-field bleachers fainted when Hughes walked Schaller in the seventh. This didn't seem to do any good, for Long Tom walked another right away. These were the only passes that he emitted, and he quickly pitched himself away from the mess.

Pernoll was flanked on all sides by fine fielding, Mundorff, Tobin and Schaller all nipping numerous long and promising drives. But for the fact that San Francisco had three men in the outfield, the result undoubtedly would have been different. But as we said before, Howard isn't overlooking anything.

Rabbit Mundorff, so called for various reasons, was the arch villain. Rabbit, unfortunately, tops the batting order. He took advantage of this to hit a Hughes humdinger to center for a line single almost before the game had started. O'Leary fooled around a bit, Hughes finally throwing him out at first. Mundorff took second on this, and sailed along to third when Biff Schaller slapped a single to left. Rube's well-known aptitude for throwing runners out at the plate discouraged any attempt to score just at that time.

HARD ON SOCKET.

Downs drove to Abstein, who threw to Moore, forcing Schaller at second. Mundorff flashed along to the plate, and Moore almost tore his arm out of its socket trying for a double on Downs. His heave was two wide for even the large Mr. Abstein to reach, and Jerry went to second while they were fishing for the ball. Hughes retired the side by fanning Tobin.

Whether a perfect throw by Moore would have doubled Downs and cut off this run is a question on which a number of more or less bright intellects are divided. Several of the fatheads in the press box seemed to think it would, while others, whose heads are just as fat, argued to the contrary. No error attaches to a wide throw to first in an effort to complete a double play, unless the runner gains an extra base. Moore gets a black mark solely because Jerry went to second, so technically, the error did not figure in the run.

Corhan singled in the second with one down, but Sepulveda and Pernoll were easy victims. For the next four innings the Seals were one-two-three as fast as they could come up and be accommodated.

Hughes opened the seventh by walking Downs. Tobin sacrificed, and Cartwright popped to Abstein. Corhan was passed, possibly, with deliberation. Sepulveda grounded to Page. Only the usual three men faced Hughes in the eighth.

ALMOST, BUT NOT QUITE.

Metzger walked for the Angels in the first, and was forced by Abstein. Our boys made their best bids in the second and third, getting a man to third in each of these innings.

With one down in the second, Moore beat out a high bounder to Downs, and stole second on Page's third strike. Boles drove to Corhan, whose throw pulled Cartwright off the base. This put Moore on third. Hughes was unable to aid his own cause, grounding to Pernoll.

Gedeon opened the sixth with an out at first. Metzger followed with his second pass. Maggert flied to Tobin. Abstein dropped a fly in neutral territory between Downs and Tobin, Metzger beating it to third. Whereupon Ellis forced Bill.

Pernoll then plastered us with four innings of no-hit ball. Schaller aided him with a shoestring catch of Abstein's fly in the sixth, and Tobin robbed Page with a deep catch in the seventh.

HUB EXCITED.

By the eighth, Dillon had begun to scheme and started the inning by having Wolter bat for Hughes. This so excited Hub that he walked Harry. Gedeon tried unsuccessfully to sacrifice, and then lined to Corhan, who doubled Wolter at first. Had the sacrifice worked the score would have been tied, as Metzger followed with a fine single to left. Maggert retired the side with a fly to Mundorff. Moore singled with two down in the ninth, but O'Leary got in the way of Page's smash.

San Francisco showered a few unexpected attentions on Cheeh in the ninth. Schaller singled, but was doubled on a line fly by Downs to Page. Tobin tripled to right. He died at third when Cartwright flied to Ellis.

Finney and Hayes did the umpiring. This is an entirely new combination in these parts. It worked successfully yesterday.

EXPLORING THE PALMDALE ROAD.

Chairman Leon Shettler of the Los Angeles-Phoenix road race made the trip over the Palmdale route to Victorville yesterday in the Paige Pathfinder. The party left here at 5 in the morning and made the entire trip before darkness.

The Paige averaged twenty-five miles an hour for the run, which embraced boulevard, mountain and desert travel. A portion of this run lies over the Mojave Desert road that is not frequently used by local motorists. The road cuts across from Palmdale and connects with the Victorville road a short distance from the town.

The object of the trip was to ascertain if any of the road on this section of the route would be the race financial success. Should a checking station at the desert it is claimed, would be brought into the limelight and the attention of the transcontinental motor fans of eastern motor tracks. A number of Commerce boosters will support the race.

Yale University crews only engage in two races a year, the usual Yale-vs.-Harvard and New London in June, the other an angular event against Cornell.

ENOUGH baseball idols have been shattered this year to satisfy the most violent iconoclast.

Where is the Hans Wagner, the Napoleon Lajoie or the Walter Johnson of yesterday?

The best way to answer this question is to place the forefinger of your best hand at the top of the percentage column, and follow it downward with the reading eye until you encounter the names sought. Absent from their customary positions of honor, they will be found mingling with the common herd and under hirelings.

Joe Wood, sometimes mentioned in the same breath with Walter Johnson, when the latter was at top speed, and Frank Chance, once Peerless leader of the Cubs, have dropped from the headlines. Wood has been of little use to Boston, while Chance regained his reputation trying to do a Red Cross stunt for the Yanks. Frank tried the impossible. The relief of his New York venture has not lent his prestige in the eye of baseball men familiar with the conditions under which he worked, but it probably has dimmed his luster in the eyes of rank and file of fandom.

Never has youth been so well-served in the majors as this season, at least in recent years.

The elderly gentleman with the scythe and face foliage has been swinging his harvester from the hip up. Old idols are being kicked off their pedestal by young and frisky idols of a recent vintage.

Giants Tottering.

The New York Giants, decadent and honeycombed with age, are falling before one of the youngest major league clubs that ever made a bid for the pennant.

But for the development of Mack's second string pitchers, the Athletics would not now be claiming the American League pennant. The bulk of the burden has been borne by the younger boxmen.

The youthful Leonard hardly recovered from his rah-rah habits, has been the mainstay of the Boston Red Sox, who have caused Philadelphia more concern than any other club. Wood, the loud noise of 1912, has won but eight games. Being a high-salaried cuss, it is estimated that each victory by Wood has cost the club $1000. Pennants come high in these days. Joe's slump is not due to accumulating years, but is the result of having been sliced open that his appendix might be investigated. Shore, another youngster, has been Leonard's leading assistant.

Ed Walsh, whose equal as a spitball pitcher probably never will be seen again, in spite of his vaunted "comeback," has but two wins and three defeats to show for his season's work.

Wagner, whom we have grown accustomed to seeing in the .300 class for the better part of two decades, is no longer viable in that locality. The once great Teuton is floundering around below the .250 mark. The great Lajoie is no longer killing off infielders. He has hit .256 in 108 games—a pathetic mark for the famous Franchman.

Ranks Growing Thin.

There is a significantly small sprinkling of veterans among the leading pitchers of the American League.

Bender and Plank are among the number. But these have been nursed as never before. Between them they have won thirty games—fifteen each to be exact. The second strong pitchers of the Athletics have borne the brunt of 113 battles. Bressler, Pennock, Wykoff, Shawkey and Bush all have won more than half their games.

A dozen pitchers are found outranking Walter Johnson. Johnson has been showing some of his old time lately, but the fact remains that he is now in his eighth year of major league baseball, which is in reality a long career for a speed ball pitcher. Johnson is a veteran as ball players go. Being superlatively endowed by nature, he may regain his effectiveness, but there are many who believe that the edge has been permanently taken off of the dazzling speed, which was his chief reliance.

Johnson has won twenty-two and lost seventeen games. A lot of pitchers would be proud of a record like that, but Walt isn't. Boehling, his mate aside, has won twelve and lost ten, and outranks Johnson in percentage, and outranks Johnson in percentage.

Bender and Plank are among the number. But these have been nursed as never before. Between them they have won thirty games—fifteen each, to be exact. The second strong pitchers of the Athletics have borne the brunt of 119 battles. Bressler, Wyckoff, Shawkey and Bush, it will have won more than half their games.

Aging pitchers are found outstanding Walter Johnson. Johnson has been showing some of his old time speed, but the fact remains that he is now in his eighth year of major league baseball, which is in reality a long career for a speed ball pitcher. Johnson is a veteran as ball players go. Being superlatively endowed by nature, he may regain his effectiveness, but there are many who believe that the edge has been permanently taken off of the dazzling speed, which was his chief reliance.

Johnson has won twenty-two and lost seventeen games. A lot of pitchers would be proud of a record like that, but Walt isn't. Boehling, his fellow state, has won twelve and lost nine, and outranks Johnson in percentage.

"St. Louis" Bill James and "Night Cap" Wellmann, both but recently mainstays of the minors, have been the leading moundsmen of the St. Louis Nationals who for several months kicked up such a muss in the American League.

Youngsters Lead.

Youth is found festooning the top of the National League pitching percentages. "Boston" Bill James is first, with Rudolph second, Doak third, and Tesreau fourth. Three of them practically unknown until this season, and Tesreau two years ago regarded as little better than a big willing bungler.

James and Rudolph have practically pitched Boston into the pennant. Without Doak's wonderful pitching the Cardinals would not have figured.

Matty is still a pitching savant, and one of the wonders of baseball, but it was the development of Tesreau that saved the Giants from utter rout.

Braves Look Like Cinch.

Five full games now separate the youthful Braves from the aged and tottering Giants, and the next step will be to bill the town of Boston for the world's series.

While no pennant is won until it can be proven by the percentage figures, it would seem that about the only way for the Braves to lose would be to get mixed up in a train-wreck or be overtaken by an epidemic of the measles.

In fact, the way the clubs have been going, Boston should have little difficulty in maintaining this five-game lead down to the finish, or perchance, widen the gap.

The Giants have seventeen games to play, and the Braves eighteen. Even should Boston win but five of the remaining games, New York would have to do better than break even to beat them out.

This wonderful spurt of the Boston club, carrying it from last place to within a stride of the pennant, has done much to waken a waning interest in baseball by demonstrating the wonderful possibilities of the game. It goes to prove that no club is invincible, and that the pennant is not beyond the reach of the rankest outsider.

There will be a shift of scenery today, Cincinnati opening at Boston and the tough St. Louis bunch invading New York.

Boston plays five games with Cincinnati, four with Chicago, five with New York, and four with Brooklyn, finishing the season in the latter city.

New York's remaining schedule consists of four games with St. Louis, five with Pittsburgh, five with Boston and three with Philadelphia, winding up the season on its home grounds.

The five-game series between the contending clubs at the Polo Grounds, starting on September 30, should decide the dispute, providing it is not settled before.

MANY SECURE TROPHIES.

Partial Reports Received of Number of Deer Killed This Season Indicate More Than Last.

Partial returns made to the supervisor of the Angeles National Forest indicate that 183 buck deer were killed in the big woods of the local reserve during the recent season. Some of the large deer-producing sections that have not been heard from are San Dimas, Lytle Creek, Beaumont and Banning, Cajon, Little Bear Valley, City Creek and the upper San Gabriel sections of the deer hunting country.

The returns, so far as received, follow: Big Creek and Dalton, 22; Mt. Wilson, 6; Prairie and Fish Forks of the San Gabriel, 12; Camp Baldy, in San Antonio Canyon, 6; Upper Santa Ana, 18; upper Arroyo Seco and its tributaries, 19; Little Mohave River Canyon, 4; Monrovia Canyon, 3; Tehunga country, 20; Camp Rincon, on the San Gabriel, 5; West Fork of the San Gabriel and Devil's Canyon, 21; Big Bear Valley and vicinity, 35.

It is believed that the total number killed will be much larger than the last season, although no official figures were collected that year. The most of the deer were killed during the dark of the moon.

Bantamweight Boxing Champion Kid Williams of Baltimore wanted $2500 to box ten rounds in New York and he was not engaged.

John M. Ward, business manager of the Brooklyn Federal League baseball team, says the present will be his last year in baseball, as he intends to give his time to the practice of law.

BOSTON, Sept. 22.—Today's game resulted in an easy victory for Boston over Pittsburgh, 8 to 2. As New York lost to Chicago, the local team now has a five-game lead in the pennant race.

The visitors secured their only runs through a base on balls, a double, a wild throw by Smith, and Konetchy's single. Schmidt's triple in Boston's half of the opening inning tied the score. Connelly's two-bagger in the fourth sent three men home. Pittsburgh was unable to do much with Tyler's delivery, after the opening innings. Score:

BROOKLYN, Sept. 22.—Cincinnati lost its eighteenth straight game here today and Brooklyn made a season's record for itself by securing a whole series of five games.

Daubert won the game with a single in the tenth with the bases full, one out and one run needed to win. McCarty's home run in the seventh after Egan had singled with two out caused the retirement of Yingling. Douglass suddenly became wild and ineffective in the tenth.

Aitchison was ineffective in the fourth and the Reds scored three runs on him. His wildness in the ninth let in Killifer with the tying run. Score:

ST. LOUIS TAKES COMEDY BATTLE.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—Errors and passes played a big part in today's game, which St. Louis won from Philadelphia, 5 to 4. WHITE SOX TAKE DOUBLE-HEADER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Chicago won both games of a double-header from Washington today, 9 to 1 and 7 to 4, winding up the series with the visitors for the season. The first game went to the locals by bunching hits. Bentley weakened in the seventh inning of the second game, and Chicago came from behind, driving him out of the box. Ayres was kild and the locals continued their rally, scoring six runs in the inning on four hits, a base on balls, a hit by pitched ball and an error. The second game was called at the end of the seventh inning on account of darkness. Scores:

BY GRACE KINGSLEY.

The new home of the Bosworth Company, Inc., on West First street, is nearly completed, and is a credit to the art of photoplay production.

All the buildings, including the huge stage and the dressing-rooms adjoining, are of reinforced concrete and fireproof. A big vault will house the library of films; the perforating-rooms and developing-rooms are painted black, and are approached by dark, winding passages, so that no door is opened into them admitting light. The drying-room is very large, and 20,000 feet of film can be dried in an hour.

In connection with the stage is a large tank covered by a trap door. The Dressing-rooms are a movie actor's dreams come true, for there is running water in each and connecting shower baths. The prop-room contains a splendid collection of Alaskan furs, several outfits for trappers and other trophies.

Hobart Bosworth stated yesterday that the company will shortly stage a number of Charles Van Loan's pictures, including his famous moving-picture stories recently told in the "Saturday Evening Post;" also some of his baseball stories, among them "Little Sunset and the Terrible Swede."

Within a couple of months the company will go to the Hawaiian Islands to stage some of Jack London's South Sea Island stories. Miss Helen Wolcott, noted swimmer, and the Hawaiian Duke Kahanamoku will do some thrilling "water stuff" for the company. Kahanamoku has, indeed, just finished work in a picture known as "The Beach Comber."

Mr. Bosworth himself has recently written several photoplays for himself and Courtenay Foote. Among them are "The Pursuit of the Phantom" and "The Derelict," which is taken largely at sea, and involves the use of three vessels. He has also finished "The Country Mouse," in which Adele Farrington (in private life Mrs. Bosworth) will appear.

The Lasky Company is busy with "The Rose of the Rancho," with Bessie Barriscale in the leading role.

Nearly a thousand miles by auto have been covered by the company in traveling to the different locations.

Among the scenes that will be shown are the old Pala mission, between here and San Diego, at the foot of the Palams Mountains, Ramona's home, at Old Town, San Diego, and the old customhouse at Monterey.

The ancient Spanish dances and fiestas will be shown in the pictures.

The company is next to stage "The Girl of the Golden West," up in the Sierra Nevada Mountains.

Cecil de Mille, director, has written a screen version of Booth Tarkington's "The Man from Home," in which William Hodge made his big success. The piece will be produced in November, with Charles Richmond in the leading role. Among others, the piece will have scenes showing the Siberian wilderness, lines of convicts, and the famous Farewell Post between Russia and the Siberian frontier.

Dustin Farnum will return to California this winter to play some of the leading Lasky roles.

"The Warrens of Virginia" is another piece shortly to be staged, Mr. De Mille being at present engaged on the scenario.

"Wonderful the exigencies you run up against in the photoplay business," said Mr. De Mille. "Do you know how we got that deep-water scene in 'The Virginian?' Scooped the stream out with a contraption rigged up from the camp stove!"

"The Rose of the Ring," by George Barr McCutcheon, will shortly be staged by the Lasky Company, with Theodore Roberts in the lead.

The Oz Film Company has just finished the dramatization of Frank Baum's "The Patchwork Girl of Oz," to be shown at one of Tally's houses in the near future.

The Oz company will continue to produce the fairy stories of Mr. Baum, among them being "The Magic Cloak of Oz," to be shown next week at the athletic club, and "His Majesty, the Scare-Crow."

There is a big demand for fairy stories for the children, and Mr. Tally states he will show one about every two months.

The little girl known as "Happy," who doubles for Cleo Madison of the Universal Film Company, was very severely injured yesterday out at the ranch, when the horse she was riding ran away. She was doing a furious riding scene in "The Trey o' Hearts" when, her horse becoming frightened, she was thrown and her hip broken. It is said she bore the long trip to the hospital very bravely.

Surely this is bad luck week in Filmland, for a very serious accident also befell Adele Lane of the Selig Company, heroine of several wild-animal plays, whose hand was fearfully mutilated by a bear, taken in a moving picture scene when the company was working at the rear of an apartment-house near Angels' Flight. Miss Lane was stationed on the fire-escape landing, the bear was supposed to follow her, and there was to be a mimic wrestling scene. But it turned out to be no fake, for the bear reared and attempted to seize her; she managed to elude him, but the huge creature seized her hand in his mouth and tore it badly before help could reach the actress.

The "brow" midweek concert at Tally's will not be given today; instead of which, in concession to the hot weather, a concert of popular music will be given.

Interiors in moving pictures have heretofore been taken, paradoxically, out of doors. An invention destined to revolutionize this important phase of moving picture production has just been made by Ed Winfield. Lighted by a system of his arc lights, he claims that interiors may be as readily photographed as scenes taken out of doors. Director King of the Usona Company is trying out the invention at a private residence in this city, and says he is getting good results.

The Majestic-Mutual people had a hot old time getting up that Petersberg battle scene in "The Clansman." They called out a lot of old soldiers from the Soldiers' Home to coach them; but the old soldiers quarreled so hard among themselves as to how they actually did perform that big battle stunt, that they had to be sent home, and the company resorted to pictures and printed history.

BOAT CARNIVAL AT OCEAN PARK.

George Freeth and Fred Teschke of L.A.A.C. to Row in Professional Race—Hard to Take Boat Through Breakers and Back Without Upsetting Which Puts Boat Out of It.

The list of entries for the big boating carnival to be held at Ocean Park next Sunday afternoon is increasing every day and the prospects for one of the most interesting and successful events ever held in the south at this early date are fine.

The entry of Duke Kahanamoku and Eugene Fishburn in the L.A.A.C. boat against Cliff Bowes and Pete Condee in the Ocean Park boat in the amateur event will make a race well worth going miles to see. There will probably be several other entries in the amateur event.

The professional race will see George Freeth and Fred Teschke in the club boat, George Watkins and partner in the Ocean Park boat, and at least five other outside entries from the fishing village near Santa Monica hooked up against each other and this should certainly be some race.

The course will be from the beach, out through the surf to a flag opposite the end of the pier and return to the beach. If the breakers are at all high the fun for the spectators will be when the boats hit them on the way out and also on the way back. It takes a world of nerve and a great deal of science to take a boat out through the surf on some days and the best of them are tipped over at times.

The reason more boats are not used in the surf at the local beaches is that it is a very difficult matter to go out and back safely, and at times it is very dangerous. The life crews seem to have the better of the events scheduled as they have the knack of riding the breakers the same as those on surf boards, but they are not always successful, and at times turn turtle in the breakers.

The rules of the meet are that a man cannot leave his boat. If the boat is tipped over he is out of the race unless he goes back and starts over from the starting point.

There is a cash prize of $10 to the winners in the professional race and $5 to the second boat. The members of the winning crew in the amateur race will leach receive a handsome trophy cup.

The entries are slow in the mixed crew race in coming in, but it is certain that at least two crews will line up for the starters gun. This sport is considered too dangerous for the fair sex to participate in and this is one reason that there are so few women competitors for this event.

The first of the annual junior lawn tennis championships under the auspices of the national association, to develop schoolboy talent, attracted ninety-six competitors. The events were run off on the West Side Tennis Club courts, Forest Hills, L. I.

SACRAMENTO WANTS CLUB.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 21.—Al Baum, president of the Pacific Coast League, Cal Ewing of the San Francisco club, and Hen Berry of the Los Angeles club were in this city tonight with a proposition to local business men for the return of a club to Sacramento next season. The Coast League directors said that they wanted assurance that the city would support a club. President Baum declared that the plan for a return of a club here is on the basis of a six-club league and that there is no plan on foot for an eight-club organization. The local conference adjourned until tomorrow and no definite announcement of its outcome was given.

THE big swimming meet between the Los Angeles Athletic Club team and that from the San Diego Rowing Club set for next Friday and Saturday nights looks, from present prospects like a San Diego victory. Sol Tuttle has been unable to get in the water for the past month and cannot possibly be in shape to compete this week. His foot has been troubling him for some time and he has been under the doctor's care some several weeks.

With Langer, Tuttle and Kahanamoku out of the club team, all the hard work falls on Sylvester, Field, Rivas, William Henry, Bowes, Burns, Fishburn, Pete Lenz and Condee. Langer is at the University of California, Tuttle sick and Kahanamoku cannot compete until next month for the L.A.A.C. on account of the residence rule of the A.A.U.

The events that will be run are as follows: Friday, 440-yard dash, 50-yard dash, 50-yard juvenile race, 50-yard back stroke race, ladies' exhibition diving, swimming exhibitions by Duke Kahanamoku and the 220-yard dash. Saturday night's events, 880-yard dash, boys' diving competitions, 100-yard dash, 50-yard breast stroke, plunge for distance, men's diving competition, 226-yard relay race, teams of four men each, swimming two lengths of the club tank.

This meet will be open to the public and it is an assured fact that an immense crowd will be present both nights as the interest already aroused among local enthusiasts is intense and also it is the first big meet of the strenuous winter season mapped out for the L.A.A.C. team.

It is the intention of the Swimming Committee to have as many meets this winter as possible to try and develop some real contestants for the national championships to be held at San Francisco next July.

The L.A.A.C. has the nucleus of one of the most wonderful swimming teams ever organized in the United States with Langer, Kahanamoku and Bowes. Langer is the undisputed champion of the world in the 440-yard event, and Kahanamoku holds the world's records in the fifty and 100-yard events and the 100-meter race, which he won at the Olympic games at Stockholm in 1912. It appears at this early date that the best contests at San Francisco next year will be between the Los Angeles Athletic Club team and the Illinois Athletic Club team, who are the undisputed champions of the United States as a team.

The programme of events and the Los Angeles Athletic Club entries in them have been announced by Chairman Les Henry, and are as follows:

Friday night—440-yard dash, Frank Rivas, Pete Lenz and Tod Burns; 50-yard dash, Guy Sylvester, Eugene Field and Cliff Bowes; 50-yard boys' exhibition race, Ray Kegris, Gerald Witt and Tommy Witt; ladies' exhibition diving by members of the Bimini Ladies' Club; swimming exhibitions by Duke Kahanamoku; 50-yard back stroke, Clyde Swendson, Pete Lenz and Tom Brinker; 220-yard dash, Guy Sylvester, Frank Rivas and Eugene Field.

Saturday night—880-yard dash, Pete Lenz, Frank Rivas and Tod Burns; juvenile diving exhibitions, Ray Kegris, Paul Lyle, Tommy Witt and Gerald Witt; 100-yard dash, Guy Sylvester, Eugene Field, Clin Bowes, Harold Harrell; 50-yard breast stroke, Tom Brinker and Pete Lenz; plunge for distance, Guy Sylvester, William Henry and Frank Rivas; men's diving competitions, Cliff Bowes, Clyde Swendson, Pete Condee, Eugene Fishburn, Billy Gilbert, Ray Kegris; exhibitions by Duke Kahanamoku; 668-yard relay race, teams of four men, each man swimming two lengths of the pool, Guy Sylvester, Harold Harrell, Eugene Field, Cliff Bowes, Frank Rivas and William Henry.

BURNS WINS ON A FOUL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Frankie Burns was given the decision over Joe Azevedo tonight in the seventh round of what was scheduled to be a fifteen-round contest. Burns was declared the winner by Referee Jim Griffin on a foul. Azevedo, from almost the start of the battle to the finish, was guilty of nearly every manner of illegal action.

Referee Griffin warned Azevedo repeatedly, but his words were not heeded.

Despite his being returned the victor, Burns was a sorry spectacle when he left the ring. Bleeding from countless contusions on the face and neck, and weakened by the terrible punishment inflicted on him, the Oakland lightweight surely could not have lasted much longer.

On the other hand, Azevedo seemed as powerful as an ox, and his blows were surely punishing. Had he not resorted to the foul tactics he was adjudged guilty of by Referee Griffin, undoubtedly he would have been returned the winner via the knockout route.

Up until September 8 motorists in New York State paid in fees for the registration of motor vehicles and chauffeurs' licenses a total of $1,462,-963.86, which is nearly $200,000 in excess of the amount contributed for the same purpose during the whole of last year.

War Mysteries Clear.

He understood a little of the code, so it was through him we gained a little war news. The cruiser promptly turned around and went astern of us. I woke the next morning and it was still following, about a mile away. She escorted us until this morning, when she turned around at the entrance of the Suez Canal and proceeded back to where she started."

Johnny was surprised to find the canal so narrow and so hot. He says several passengers were overcome by the heat on deck. "As we steamed by we could see the Arabs cooking their food like American tramps cooking up a mulligan stew. Tomorrow we are due at Port Said, which I hear from passengers aboard is the lowest, rankest place in the world."

A Mined Harbor.

"On Board the Orsova, Off Toulon.

"Nearing Toulon, we are stopped by a French gunboat. The captain of the gunboat comes on board and we proceed into the harbor. We are informed that Toulon harbor is full of submarine mines. That was the reason the captain of the gunboat came aboard to direct us into a safe passage over the mines. As we were steaming into the harbor we noticed a large fort on one side of the harbor, and I am told that was Napoleon's headquarters when he was general of the French forces. Toulon is the naval headquarters of France, just as Vallejo is to the Pacific Coast.

"There are, at the present time, sixty warships of all descriptions here—mostly all coaling, then hastily going out to sea for duty. We are not allowed to land unless we get a permit from the captain of the French army. Only passengers going to Naples can get a permit.

"I intended to leave and go over to London by way of Paris by rail, but we are informed that the German army of 300,000 is within sixty miles of Paris. I am not ready to die just yet, so I guess I will just go along with the ship through Gibraltar.

"We got several French papers at Toulon, which said that the Russians were defeated by the Germans and the prisoners taken were tortured. The sinews of both hands were cut so they would not be able to hold a gun again.

"At Toulon we disbarked two regiments of Hindu soldiers and officers. The officers are sent ahead to make arrangements for the coming of 25,000 Hindu soldiers from India, which will follow in about two days.

"As we are not allowed to land, the passengers pass away the time singing songs of courage to the French soldiers aboard the warships around waiting to be coaled.

"On one side of the ships a terrible sight still remains in the midst of the waters—a grotesquely-twisted and mangled mass of iron. It is the wreck of the battleship La Liberte, which, owing to the decomposition of her ammunition, blew up, slaying almost all on board of her and scattering death and destruction on the ships lying near her."

BROADWAY AT FIFTH

THE discriminating traveling public of Los Angeles and Southern California have responded nobly to our belief that there was an urgent need for an exclusive luggage shop, and we wish to extend our thanks for the wonderful success that has come to us in the first four months of business. For our fall and holiday opening we have extended every effort to make this showing even more complete. We have secured many European importations, styles that cannot be duplicated in America. The prices will not advance. The Indestructo factories have produced many new designs in trunks, bags and suit cases, exclusive and not duplicated in any other shop.

Today of fashion, party cases are absolutely essential to your morning and afternoon frocks, and we are showing the most extensive display in the entire West. One may find most of the best shades for matching garments and all of best imported leathers. Exclusive designs not found in ordinary shops selected from best American and European manufacturers. Prices considering quality most reasonable.

Hundreds of Imported Handbags with prices not advanced account of exclusive designs and leathers not to be found elsewhere in the city. It is absolutely impossible to describe in any way the wonderful variation of our display.

The mark Indestructo on a bag or suit case stamps indelibly the utmost in style and quality. The very fact that most of the leading factories are attempting to imitate our different numbers proves conclusively that Indestructo bags and suit cases are the safest to buy. We have set a quality standard that goes into every piece; whether you spend $7.50 or $100 you may be sure that it is best money can buy.

The Indestructo Trunk, the ultimate trunk proven by every possible test and more of every possible abuse a trunk may get. But to prove our faith, we insure each trunk against all breakage, fire, or loss in transit. A policy issued at time of sale and redeemable in any country in the world where the Indestructo is sold. A scale of prices so broad that anyone may own one. Let your next trunk be an Indestructo.

CLARE JONES IS A TRAITOR.

Corporation Commissioners Are in a Snarl.

Davis Asks Recount Because of His Name.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
PHOENIX, (Ariz.) Sept. 18.—Considerable interest even a bit more important than the Governorship in Arizona is the race for Corporation Commissioners. There are three commissioners, E. Geary, A. W. Cole and F. A. Jones. The last named has herded by himself for about a year, and the commission has been split, 2 to 1, on almost every question. Jones is a high-grade railway rate expert and was employed by the Maricopa County Commercial Club after he had left the traffic department of the Santa Fe Railroad.

Jones wasn't going to run for office at the primary, but his name was put forth by the Commercial Club and he was nominated with little effort, though consistently opposed by the two other commissioners and considered not particularly acceptable to the State administration generally. Jones is alleged to have said that under no circumstances would he take office again with Geary and Cole, who again are his running mates on the Democratic ticket. On this basis, it is told that Geary and Cole will appear before the Democratic party council in Phoenix, September 29, and demand that Jones be thrown off the ticket as a traitor to the party. They have a lot of other charges against him and he has at least an equal number against his allied colleagues. It is understood that the commercial organizations of the State propose to get behind Jones and to favor Republican and Progressive candidates for the other commissionerships.

ELECTION EXPENSES.

According to the post-election statement just filed by Reese M. Ling, unsuccessful in the race for Senator, he spent more money than any other candidate, his total being $1205, Gov. Hunt paid out $424.26, mainly postage, while Parker Woodman, the Republican candidate for State Mine Inspector, swears he spent only $5.

POSITION OF DR. HUGHES.

Dr. H. A. Hughes has denied the request of friends to come out as an independent or Prohibition candidate for Governor, following his defeat in the primaries. It is claimed that his downfall was due largely to the votes of other than Democrats, and so he and his faction propose to move the next Legislature for a change in the primary laws.

TWO MEN NAMED DAVIS.

State Senator Harry A. Davis, defeated for nomination in the Democratic primary, has asked a recount, in order to eliminate, if possible, a plurality of fifty-six votes in favor of Sam F. Webb. Davis believes he was defeated because voters mixed him up with Bert Davis, a local labor leader, who is the Socialist nominee for United States Senator.

MIAMI PETITION.

The State Supreme Court has affirmed a Superior Court decision determining that the initiative petition of residents of Miami for the construction of a new county out of the county of Gila must be placed upon the ballot in the November election. It has been determined by the courts that they have no power to inquire into the legality of an initiated measure which is still in the embryotic stage.

"MEDIA PARK" IS HALF-WAY POINT.

MAN GETS A WORLD TRIP FOR A NAME TO PLOT AT CULVER CITY.

The name of "Media Park" was bestowed yesterday upon the sightly and inviting little triangle of green lawn and clustered trees that lies at the eastern approach to Culver City, and which, both for the residents of the place and the daily travelers over the Short Line route, constitutes one of the principal charms of the new and thriving seaward town. As a reward for naming the hitherto-unnamed park, the Harry H. Culver Company, projector and backer of the townsite, will pay all the expenses of Ross M. Mason, a Palms druggist, on a trip around the world.

The selection of a name was made from a list of many hundreds written on cards and dropped into a ballot box by visitors to Culver City during the ten months of its existence. The Committee of Award comprised representatives from four Los Angeles daily newspapers.

The judges, in an explanatory statement, announced that the name "Media" was selected because it suggested the idea of "middle or central point," the significance of the word lying in the fact that the Culver City park is situated at a spot almost exactly halfway between Los Angeles and Venice. The name, it was explained, also had the virtue of being unusual, short and easy to remember. Many interesting combinations of letters and words, many of them meritorious and a number laughable, were submitted.

WATER FOR VACANT LOTS.

City Council and Public Service Commission Will Confer on Proposed Measure This Afternoon.

Representatives of the Public Service Commission will today confer with the committee appointed by the City Council on the question of the extension of water mains to users on vacant lots. The City Council took up the matter upon receipt of a letter from the Public Service Commission requesting that such extensions be arranged for, and the committee appointed by the Council now desires to obtain from the members of the commission and Chief Engineer Mulholland a presentation of their side of the case. Councilman Betkouski, chairman of the committee, appeared before the Public Service Commission yesterday to request representatives of that body to attend the meeting, which will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the City Hall. One of the aims of the commission in asking for the enactment of an ordinance covering the case of extensions to vacant lots is to avoid tearing up of sidewalks.

PLAN CELEBRATION.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
ANAHEIM, Sept. 22.—Preparations are being made by a committee from the local Board of Trade for the biggest celebration in the history of the mother colony city. It will be during the last week in October, and will be called 'pioneer week,' in honor of the fifty-seventh anniversary of the founding of Anaheim. There will be $3000 collected to properly finance the affair. The carnival will open on Tuesday night with the coronation of the queen. A ball will follow, the dance to be upon the street. Four days of festivities will follow.

NECK CRUSHED BY AUTO.

FRESNO, Sept. 22.—With the back of the seat of his automobile resting on his neck, the body of M. Ashurst, a Stratford ranchman, was found near Laton this afternoon by E. L. Hughes and W. E. Roundtree of the Holt Manufacturing Company of Stockton. Mr. Ashurst's car skidded in the sand at the side of the road and the machine turned turtle. He had been to Fresno for medical treatment.

PULITZER ESTATE.

Publisher of New York World and St. Louis Post-Dispatch Leaves Many Millions.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The supplemental report of tax appraisers reappraising the estate of Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of the New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, at the time of his death, made public this afternoon, fixes the gross value of the estate at $20,355,985 and the net value at $18,637,545.

Pasadena.

PEDDLING HOAX "HAMS" WIDELY.

Police Look for Pair With Pigs' Shoulders.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Sept. 23.—Since the publication in The Times Sunday of an article in regard to the men who have been selling unsuspecting housewives in Pasadena what they represented to be "home-cured" hams, but which turned out to be shoulders, Chief McIntyre of the local police has received numerous communications from other towns saying that the "farmers" had been there and been quite successful in their misrepresentations. Not only do they palm off on the unsuspecting woman a packing-house shoulder, but give her short weight, as well.

Monday the Chief had a telephone call from the Sheriff of Orange county saying that the men had been in Santa Ana. Here they were more ambitious in their way of traveling, carrying the "hams" about in an automobile. In Pasadena and in Redondo Beach, where they were yesterday, they peddled shoulders from a light farm wagon drawn by an old gray horse. The police are watching for the men.

MISFORTUNES.

Touched by the story of Mrs. Roscoe M. Nicholls, No. 680 Elizabeth street, who lost her purse containing $30, all the money she had in the world and which she was to have given as August and September payments on her little home, Herman R. Hertel, a prominent Pasadena merchant, has offered to help the Nicholls family.

He says that he is willing to be one of six giving $5 each toward the donation. He thinks it would be most unkind for Pasadenans to allow them to lose the place, under present conditions.

He went out to see the little woman yesterday and found her in the garden gathering fruit and a few tomatoes, which she hoped to sell that she might raise funds sufficient to keep her and her 21-months-old baby until she goes to Los Angeles Saturday to accept a position.

Her husband, who is not strong, had been out of work for nearly two years until a week ago, when he secured employment in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Nicholls says that the family has just managed to exist after meeting the payments on the home and the last two months were hardest of all.

She sold her chickens Monday and with the help of her husband's salary and money which she borrowed from a friend, she managed to raise sufficient funds with which to meet her obligations.

ARRESTED AS SPY.

Because he has achieved the right envious distinction of having been arrested as a spy while in the war zone of Europe, 14-year-old Kenneth Lumsted, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lumsted of Pasadena, who have just returned from Denmark, entered school yesterday with the near-laurels of a hero.

While on their trip home, Kenneth and a Chicago boy took some pictures of a warship which they saw from their steamer. They were watched by a wireless operator who reported the fact to England, and when the boat landed on English shores, the boys were arrested and searched for war documents, death staring them in the face. They were put through a regular third-degree investigation, but finally convinced the officers of their innocence and were allowed to go.

Several nations are said to be employing young boys as spies.

BUS MUSS.

At a meeting of the Commissioners and the drivers of 5-cent automobile busses yesterday, the talk grew loud and animated, if not eloquent.

The Board of Commissioners are determined that the busses shall not operate in the congested part of Colorado street between Fair Oaks and Raymond, but the bus drivers are just as determined they will, and even suggested that other vehicles except theirs be kept off Colorado street. This suggestion, however, did not meet with the ideas of the Commission, which insists that the bus men keep off this street and loop around the congested center.

No agreement was reached at this meeting and another will be held Friday, when both sides hope to settle the question.

NEWS NOTES.

With its acquisition yesterday of the remaining eight acres of ground in Tournament Park, belonging to the Tournament of Roses Association, the city of Pasadena now owns the immense Tournament Park with all its various interests. The association will deed the property to the city at once.

Capt. L. N. O'Dell is suffering so severely from the effects of poison oak that he may have to be taken to the hospital for treatment. He was poisoned last week in the Arroyo Seco, where he was called when James H. Gaut, the real estate broker, was dashed 200 feet to his death.

MISSING BALLOTS AREN'T FOR HIM.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 22.—The hailing into court today of the election officials of Cherry Valley precinct, and the subpoenas issued by Judge McCormick ordering a like appearance of the officials of the El Casco precinct, featured the election contests which are on in this county.

When the election returns of the Cherry Valley precinct were opened yesterday afternoon, fourteen of the ballots were missing. When the election officials, brought in by Sheriff Wilson, were questioned by the court this morning, it was found that the missing ballots were in another envelope, in which the spoiled ballots of the county freeholders' election had been placed. Judge McCormick, convinced by the testimony that ignorance of the election laws and not intention to defraud, was responsible for the irregularities, admitted the fourteen ballots for consideration.

The lead of thirty-four votes credited to C. D. Hamilton of Banning over J. A. Crane of Elsinore, the contestant, was thereby increased three votes.

The irregularity charged to the El Casco officials is the failure to include in the returns the roster of voters.

FORESHADOWS DAMAGE SUIT.

The forecast of a heavy damage suit against the Southern Pacific Company, on the ground of negligence which resulted in the death of H. E. Gard of Indio, postmaster and prominent merchant of that city, who was fatally burned in April by the explosion of an oil tank car, was given here when the widow, Elizabeth J. Gard, petitioned for the guardianship ad litem of her minor daughter, Margaret E. Gard. The petition sets forth that the daughter "has a cause for action against the Southern Pacific Company," and prays that the petitioner be appointed "to prosecute such action in her behalf."

POMONA COLLEGE.

BIG FRESHMAN CLASS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CLAREMONT, Sept. 22.—Twice as many freshmen registered at Pomona College yesterday, during the first day for the enrollment of new students, as on any corresponding day in the history of the institution. One hundred and thirty-three new students had already matriculated last evening, as against sixty for the first day of registration last year.

By noon today the figures passed the 150 mark, and the total was still piling up.

The 1913-14 freshman figures for the entire year were just over 180. There is every indication that this year's enrollment on the three days before college opens will far surpass that figure.

While the indications are that Pomona is about to enter upon a year of record-breaking prosperity, the college authorities are confining themselves to exceedingly conservative statements. They admit that they expect a total registration in the college proper of more than 500 students as against 481 last year, but beyond that will not commit themselves.

It is pointed out in the registrar's office that the enrollment of freshmen this year is much more rapid than in preceding years, owing to a change in the method of handling the names, and that the large showing early this fall is partly attributable to this fact. All agree, however, that the incoming class is to be a record-breaker.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week are given over to registration, old and new students being enrolled during this time, and complete figures will not be available until Wednesday evening.

ARTIST'S HOME HOSPITAL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 22.—Word has been received from France to the effect that the Paris home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Macmonnies, in the suburbs of the capital, has been turned over to the Red Cross Society and is being used as a hospital. Mr. Macmonnies, who is a sculptor, was married in Switzerland recently to Miss Georgina Jones, the youngest daughter of the late Nevada silver Senator, John P. Jones.

While the municipal pier was not designed for commercial uses, it will tomorrow handle its first shipment, which will consist of a ton of seed wheat, to be taken on the launch Kalem to the Malibu coast. It is consigned to W. A. Hoffman, a Santa Monica Mountain rancher.

Frank W. Conn, a civil and mining engineer, whose home is in Concord, N. H., died last night at his temporary home, No. 554 Fourth street. He was 51 years of age and leaves a widow.

A deal was concluded today whereby Thomas W. Prior and associates of Venice will take possession of all interests of the State Investment Company on the Windward-avenue, Fraser and Hollister-avenue pleasure piers. Improvements of a permanent nature, including new and novel amusement features, are in contemplation, but no positive announcement as to the nature of any of these has been made.

Ambitious Men

A TRUTH

This "ad" is written only for ambitious men, who really want to make good. I have men who have earned $1000 a month with me. I have many more who have earned $500 a month with me. You have often wondered why other men succeed when you do not, and you have often thought that if you were given a chance to make a real success that you would make the most of that opportunity. Now, without the cost of a cent in money to you, I will teach you patiently and thoroughly how other men are making the above amounts in the selling of real estate for me. You can make good money while you are learning, and if you will apply yourself as these men have done, you can make just as much money as they have, provided you have better than average personality, appearance, good manners, and can and will at all times stick strictly to the truth, I will guide you to that success you have so long desired, and which will mean to you perhaps a better home, better clothes, more money in the bank, more happiness, and a better social standing—all of those things you have so long desired. I only want a few men, and I am not accepting one-half of those who answer my "ad." But if you believe in yourself, and will work for a big success if given the opportunity, see me after 9 a.m., Room 323, Los Angeles Investment Bldg.

Talks on Clothes

You've seen many new Fall Suits on the street. And, seeing them, you may ask "will this be a freak year in men's clothes?"

No! Nor will any other year. Gentlemen's clothes as always will be in good taste—not extreme.

True, they'll be cut rather "form fitting," but that doesn't mean "skin sticking."

"Gordan made" clothes follow the fashions but avoid the fads. Made of Domestic woolens they cost $40 and $45. Of the best Foreign Fabrics $50 and more.

FIND MUMMIES IN AN ATTIC.

History of Egyptian Relics Dark Mystery.

Heads Genuine, but Bodies Wood Frames.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Sept. 22.—Residents of East Broadway were agitated today by the discovery of two Egyptian mummies in an attic over an empty store formerly kept by A. J. Horner at No. 237 East Broadway. At first it appeared that they were two shriveled bodies which hid a crime, but when they were taken to the Police Station the nature of the "bodies" was discovered. Whence came the mummies in the East Broadway store is a question still puzzling the owner and the police.

Wesley Powell, an employee of a local electrical concern, was wiring the store at No. 237 East Broadway when he came across what he thought were two skeletons, over which human skin was tightly drawn. He made all haste in getting down from the attic, and notified the police. Motorcycle Officer Lancaster responded, and, after a hasty survey, was of the opinion that the "remains" hid a crime. He called Officer Chorn, who pulled the mummies from their hiding place.

At the Police Station this evening the "remains" were dissected. It was found that the only genuine portions of the mummies were the skulls, with teeth and lower jaw intact, the remainder of the frame being wood, coarse cloth and glue. Police Surgeon Terry was interested in the skulls, and the officers are still endeavoring to find the man who owned the mummies.

PRESBYTERY MEETS.

Almost 200 clergymen and church officials attended the opening session of the Los Angeles Presbytery, which began tonight at the First Presbyterian Church. Practically every church in Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego counties, comprising the district, was represented. The session will continue tomorrow and Thursday.

EAGLES HOSTS.

Long Beach Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will be host to lodges in other Southern California cities tomorrow, when the new home of Long Beach Aerie No. 791, at No. 315 East Broadway, is dedicated. In the afternoon the new lodgerooms will be thrown open to the public, and from 2 until 4 p.m. there will be speeches and exercises in the forum. The guests of honor will be entertained at a banquet at Hotel Virginia in the early evening, and a street parade will be followed by the celebration of the opening of the lodgerooms at the hall.

BRIEF NEWS.

Dr. E. A. Somner of Los Angeles, member of the State Medical Board, today attested to complaints charging David Dack, a local chiropractic, with a violation of the State medical laws. This is the third time Dack has been arrested on this charge. He succeeded in knocking out the other two complaints on the ground that they were faulty.

Ernest H. Waller, who lives at No. 321 East First street, was terribly burned this afternoon while working in his delicatessen store at No. 14 Elm avenue. A sixty-foot gas oven exploded, throwing scalding water over him. Second-degree burns seared both his arms. He will be confined to his home for several weeks and may lose the use of the members.

THREE SERIOUSLY HURT IN WRECK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 22.—Fred W. Weaver, City Marshal; A. H. Haines and G. Cruger, all of Colton, were seriously injured today when the automobile in which they were riding from Colton to San Diego turned turtle at Delmar. H. Faxon was with the party, but was not seriously hurt.

All were to be witnesses in the Maretta Dixon case in the Superior Court here.

Mr. Weaver suffered a fractured skull and the other two broken ribs and internal injuries.

MAY SUE MAYOR.

The seven boxing promoters who were arrested Saturday on order of Mayor O'Neall for staging boxing matches may bring suits for $10,000 each against the Mayor for false arrest, it is alleged by their attorney.

As Dist.-Atty. Utley refused to issue warrants against the men on the grounds that they had not violated the boxing law, the promoters consider they have won their fight and will hold boxing matches here. A card of boxing bouts will be staged Friday evening at the San Diego Athletic Club by Promoters Don Gritton and C. M. Stetson. "Soldier" Leckie and Louis Rees, lightweights, will box the main event and a number of other bouts will be arranged for.

ROBBER FELLS WOMEN VICTIMS.

FRESNO, Sept. 22.—Using a quart bottle full of beer as a weapon, a drunken robber attacked Mrs. J. H. Burnett, wife of the proprietor of the Burnett Iron Foundry, and Mrs. Oceola Mills, secretary of the County Hospital, early this morning.

He dealt Mrs. Burnett a crushing blow on the forehead and knocked her to the ground. Almost at the same instant he struck Mrs. Mills with his left fist and prostrated her also. Before he could accomplish his object of robbery the screams of the women attracted the attention of two men and the robber made his escape.

DEEPLY SLASH THE TAX RATE.

Probably Highest Artesian Well in the World, With Fine Flow, Will Mean Much for Future of Resort District at Bear Valley—Other News in Brief.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 22.—Cutting last year's tax rate 25½ cents inside cities and 20 cents outside cities, the Board of Supervisors has fixed the rates which govern the county revenues for the coming year. The tax rate in cities will be $1.43, while outside of the municipalities there will be a rate of $2.

In preparing the totals the item for an expert farm adviser, which had been agitated throughout the county, was left out. The board did not favor the idea.

Following are the various items as apportioned:

State tax for exposition fund, .039; county general fund, 77 cents; county salary fund, .125; County Hospital fund, .19; county immigration fund, .009; county exposition fund, .027; county school fund, .27—a total of $1.43. Outside the cities there is added 55 cents for the road fund and 2 cents for the county library fund.

Bear Valley, where several resorts in the San Bernardino mountains are situated, claims the highest artesian well in the world. A splendid flow of sparkling, ice-cold water has been struck at the 180-foot level on Gus Knight's property in the valley. The elevation is close to 7000 feet. The striking of this great underground flow is regarded as having the greatest significance to future development of the mountains. It means that resorts now located there and many which will spring up in the future will not be forced to depend upon open streams for a water supply. It is estimated that close to 120 inches is flowing from the eight-inch casing.

RIDE FOR SCRIBES.

The Supervisors have sent out invitations to representatives of every newspaper in Southern California to drive on the new San Bernardino Mountain Crest highway over the crest to Bear Valley and return.

The crowd will leave this city Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock in automobile trucks and in the afternoon a run will be made through Redlands to Mill Creek and thence over the new road to Seven Oaks, in the Santa Ana Canyon. Next morning the party will proceed to the Filaree Flats and the Bear Valley road, up the Clark grade into the valley, expecting to arrive about noon. A run will be made after dinner to Gold Mountain and the return via the crest road will begin Sunday morning, with a stop at noon at Pinecrest.

The trip is a courtesy to the newspaper people for the fine publicity given the local mountains and especially the new roads during the past few months.

EXPENSE APPORTIONED.

A tentative apportionment has been made of the expense to be incurred in the gigantic protection and conservation project in the upper Lytle Creek basin, in which the railroads and other corporation property and the city and county are joining. The cost of the erection of protection dykes, which will also serve to spread the water so that it can sink in the sands and be conserved in the underground basins, will be approximately $84,000, and the expense is divided according to the present plan as follows: Water companies, $20,000; Santa Fe, $15,000; Southern Pacific and Pacific Electric, $15,000; county, $10,000; San Bernardino, $10,000; Colton, $10,000; Rialto, $4000.

San Bernardino is preparing for its impending suit with Riverside over water rights in the San Bernardino Valley. Tomorrow Mayor Catick, accompanied by Attorneys R. E. Swing, C. C. Haskell and William Guthrie and Expert F. C. Finkle, who has been retained by the city, will make a trip of the valley inspecting various points which will figure in the litigation. The city is preparing to spend $125 a day on the suit, to settle for all time the ancient differences between the two municipalities.

BUNKS IN CHURCH.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

COLTON, Sept. 22.—Following a search through thirteen rooms and all the halls and basement of the Methodist Church Sunday night after services, an intruder in the person of a burly drunk was located in the fourteenth room. Thinking it a good place to spend the night, the fellow had hidden under a table and piled chairs around him for a screen.

The quartette includes Mrs. Palmer Willets, formerly Helen Garner; Mrs. Richard Ellery, formerly Leila Stark; Mrs. Robert Kimbrough, formerly Marian Martin, and Mrs. Van Arsdale Smith, formerly Irene Boynton.

All are enrolled in the domestic science course.

One of the young grooms, Palmer Willets, has also returned to his school books, and, with his wife, will graduate with the class of 1915.

TOUCH ON GIRL'S ARM IS BATTERY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, Sept. 22.—According to law, when a young man enthusiastically presses his attentions upon an unwilling girl to the extent that he takes hold of her arm he becomes guilty of battery. Justice Cox today fined H. S. Peterson, a salesman, $25 for taking hold of Miss Ruth Weller's arm.

The girl is 17 years old. She came here five weeks ago from Riverside and has been staying with her cousin, Mrs. F. E. Worley, at the Clinton Apartments.

She testified that Peterson began talking to her one evening while she was waiting to use a telephone at a store. At that time he invited her to take a ride to Balboa, and she declined, she says, because she did not know him.

A few evenings later while going along the street, she says, Peterson took hold of her arm and attempted to engage her in conversation.

Mrs. Worley testified that when Miss Weller told her what had occurred, she became angry. She met Peterson, and Peterson essayed a remark, with the quick result that Mrs. Worley said to him:

"Don't you open your mouth, or I will smash your face."

Peterson's attorney gave notice of appeal.

BRIEF ITEMS.

Construction work upon a portion of the State highway between Santa Ana and the San Diego county line was commenced yesterday by the B. R. Davisson Construction Company of Monrovia, which has a contract from the State Highway Commission to build eight and four-tenths miles of road near El Toro.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday fixed the new county tax rate at $1.05 in incorporated cities, and $1.45 outside cities. Exclusive of the road fund, the tax rate will raise $501,000.

The Supervisors let a contract to the Mercereau Bridge and Construction Company of Los Angeles for building a concrete bridge across the San Juan Creek at San Juan Capistrano. The price is $7603.

All bid were rejected by the Supervisors for building a dirt road between Olinda, in this county, and Chino, in San Bernardino county, and work will be commenced at once to build the road by day labor.

WHITTIER'S TAX RATE IS LOWER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WHITTIER, Sept. 22. — Whittier will again have a low tax rate, as it has for some years past. Last night the City Trustees fixed the rate for 1914-1915 at $1.61, against a rate of $1.65 last year. The rate has been declining since 1911, when it reached $1.85. Economy of management and decreasing bonded indebtedness combined to lower the rate.

SELL BONDS.

The recently-voted issue of $15,000 High School bonds were sold to the Supervisors of Los Angeles county yesterday. The bonds were voted for the purpose of purchasing and improving an entire city block adjacent to the High School grounds for an athletic park. Of this amount $12,000 is for the land and the balance for improvements. Plans for this improvement are well under way, and the disposition of the bonds yesterday will permit the immediate acquirement of the land. The new park will be 660x325 feet, and is ideally situated for an athletic field.

NEW ROAD.

Whittier will have another outlet south to the Telegraph road, according to a decision of the County Supervisors yesterday. For some time a committee has been at work getting deeds to a strip to widen the Hazard road, leading from the south limits of the city at the foot of Painter avenue to the Telegraph road. With the necessary deeds secured to widen the old road to forty feet, the action of the Supervisors yesterday provides for a good boulevard. This improvement will give a mile and a half of additional good highway south of this city. It is of vast service to the residents of South Whittier and Santa Fe Springs. With the opening of the Turnbull Canyon road later in the year, this link will find large additional use for through traffic from the upper San Gabriel Valley.

MADE TO PAY FOR CAMPAIGN SPEECH.

JUDGE OF LOS ANGELES FINDS KERN PROSECUTOR WAS IN CONTEMPT.

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 22.—Judge Frank Finlayson of Los Angeles, sitting in Judge Howard A. Peair's department of the Kern County Superior Court, this afternoon found Dist.-Atty. Rowen Irwin guilty of contempt of court and fined him $300 for having declared in the progress of a political speech on the eve of the August primaries that the present grand jury was illegally drawn by Judge Peairs and was organized for political purposes.

Irwin can spend 150 days in jail instead of paying the fine. The judge found the defense he advanced "weak and almost puerile."

THROOP COLLEGE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Sept. 22.—With a freshman class outnumbering the entire enrollment of three years ago, Throop College resumed instruction this morning.

The enrollment to date is eighty students. Five more who have been detained from various causes will register within a few days, and three more will be added by the return of former students at the opening of the second semester, raising the total to eighty-eight, as compared with fifty-eight last year.

The increase will be about 50 per cent. over last year for the entire student body, while the freshman class is almost twice as large.

RABIES FOUND.

Orange County Physician Would Ask License Established to Prevent Spread of Canine Trouble.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Sept. 22.—Dr. Clyde Physician Wehrly had his work cut out for him today in the slaughter of dogs in Orange county, between now and tomorrow there would equal the fatalities on a first class European battlefield.

Rabies has been detected in three or five neighborhoods, and it is the physician's opinion that something should be done to control it. He has asked the Board of Supervisors to establish a license for dogs, such as is required in most municipalities.

The physician states that two men at Bolsa have been bitten by dogs with rabies, two at Delhi and one at Orange.

The Supervisors have referred the matter to the District Attorney, who has a request for an opinion as to the validity of the dog license as suggested by Dr. Wehrly.

ANACONDA CUT MAIN FEATURE.

Money Rates at New York Show Slight Increase.

But Gold Pool Is Believed Remedy for Tightness.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Closing of the New York City $100,000,000 loan with a large oversubscription increased firmness in foreign exchange, a slight stiffening of money rates and a drastic cut in the dividend of the Anaconda Copper Mining Company were the chief features of financial interest today. In respect to fundamental conditions, the domestic situation continued to show signs of improvement, it being evident that the gold pool, with its broad scope, is certain to assist in easing the international money market.

Exchange on London rose to 4.97¼ for cables and 4.96½ for sight drafts, the increase being due mainly to lighter offerings of grain bills and other forms of exchange. Francs on Paris and marks on Berlin were again nominally quoted, with minor dealings.

The harder tendency of money was ascribed to withdrawal from the local hold of some inferior and Canadian banks, which it was believed were using their money at home points. Some three-day call loans, as they now are known, were made at 7½ per cent.

Reduction of the Anaconda copper quarterly dividend from 75 cents to 50 cents naturally excited some speculation regarding the action of the amalgamated copper directors a month hence, inasmuch as Anaconda is controlled by Amalgamated. It drew attention also to the fact that copper now is offered at 12 cents a pound, the lowest price in some years.

Bankers said that recent heavy marketings of Canadian wheat were exercising a beneficial effect on the exchange.

CHICAGO BANKS FAVOR GOLD POOL.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—At a meeting lasting less than half an hour, the Chicago banks in the clearinghouse voted to support the plan for a gold pool of $100,000,000 and agreed to subscribe $16,000,000 of the pool. Each bank agreed to take its share of the $16,000,000.

CRISIS IN BRAZIL COFFEE MARKET.

RIO JANEIRO, Sept. 22.—The crisis in the local coffee situation is becoming aggravated as a result of the closing of European markets. The government is considering means of protection. It is reported that Germany is negotiating with the state of Sao Paulo for the purchase of its stock of 3,200,000 sacks at prices quoted now in Hamburg.

SYNDICATE CLOSES NEW YORK LOAN.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Subscriptions to the $100,000,000 New York City loan were closed this morning, and allotments were to be made later in the day. Foreign subscribers were to be given preference, while small investors were to take precedence over dealers. The syndicate sought to distribute the notes as widely as possible, thereby relieving to a great extent any possible monetary strain on the local banking community.

SUGAR EMBARGO VIA HOLLAND.

LONDON, Sept. 22. — Because the British Board of Trade had been apprised that German merchants still were disposing of sugar through Holland, notwithstanding the prohibition of its export by the government of The Netherlands, the English government has forbidden the importation of all sugar from Holland.

HARBOR ITEMS.

The tug Hercules called for fuel today, having come from San Francisco for Panama with two of caissons in tow for the government dry dock at Balboa. The caissons are 135 feet long and 45 feet wide, but the harbor's report spread along the coast that a derelict of some unfinished pattern was being towed down the coast. The Hercules is the largest tug that has ever been engaged in towing freight to Panama, tonnage for tonnage, and she will be followed by other powerful tugs.

The steamer Tunalan, one of the largest vessels ever launched in San Francisco harbor, arrived yesterday morning from Portland. The Swedish steamship Gothenburg, which arrived at San Francisco from Sydney, N. S. W., August 6, Captain Gustafson, reported by W. R. Grace & Company, is the largest vessel that has ever entered that port. The Gothenburg is 350 feet long, 48 feet beam and 28 feet deep, and has a carrying capacity of 3700 tons. She will discharge her cargo at Portland and proceed to San Diego after clearance at San Francisco for Chile & Co. The Gothenburg is under charter to Grace & Company. The only vessel of greater tonnage that has ever been in San Francisco harbor was the Cooper from Cooper with coal.

The steamer Yucatan arrived today one day before her schedule on account of the short time required for shipping of the Oregon coast ports. She brought 1,000,000 feet of lumber, 1,000,000 shingles and 1,000,000 feet of lath consigned to Los Angeles and San Diego dealers. The Yucatan will sail for San Diego tonight. The steamer Harvard arrived from Portland yesterday morning with the President. The Harvard will sail for San Diego and the President will sail for Los Angeles tomorrow.

Orange County Physician Wins License Established to Prevent Spread of Canine Trouble.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Sept. 22.—If County Physician Wehrly had his way, the slaughter of dogs in Orange county between now and tomorrow night would equal the fatalities on a European battlefield.

Rabies has been detected in four or five neighborhoods, and it is the physician's opinion that something should be done to control it. He has asked the Board of Supervisors to establish a license for dogs, such as is required in most municipalities.

The physician states that two boys at Bolsa have been bitten by dogs with rabies, two at Delhi and one at Orange.

The Supervisors have referred the matter to the District Attorney on a request for an opinion as to the validity of the dog license as suggested by Dr. Wehrly.

COMMERCIAL.

Through a slight misunderstanding the butter price yesterday morning was misquoted, the market here having gone down to 26 cents instead of up to 29, the latter quotation standing for the lower price established in San Francisco. The quotation remained at 26 cents on creamery extra yesterday and receipts of the product were 50,700 pounds. On Friday morning of this week the committee of the Produce Exchange will decide on the proposed revision of the standards governing the quality of butter. There has been so much protest against the 90 score for creamery extra that it is probable the standard will be raised to 93, which is recognized in practically all other markets of the United States. The petition circulated toward the end of securing the higher grading states that the low grade is proving a detriment to the market by keeping out quantities of the best butter which would normally come here, and the shipment of second grades to this place. Approval of the Federal government as to method of scoring will be asked, and thus a standard for the entire country may be determined on. The suggested grading is a score of 93 or better on creamery extras; 90 to 93 on commercial extras, and 87 to 90 on firsts.

There was no change in the egg situation. Receipts were 112 cases. The demand was fair. In San Francisco the market was up to 43 on case count. Eastern cheese is easy, and moving freely. Northern fresh is offered in quantities at 14½, and there is report of some selling for a fraction less than that quotation. Receipts were 2173 pounds.

The diversion of cars of potatoes from Los Angeles exceeded the arrivals by twelve cars yesterday, showing the tremendous amount of spuds that are being handled through the city. Prices here were steady on the good demand from tributary business points. There were no onions reported in, and only ten sacks of beans, which were steady at the reduced prices. Sweet potato arrivals were light.

Apple receipts were 14,027 boxes. The demand for the fruit continues. Arrivals from Oregon, Colorado and Utah are coming fast. Peach and grape receipts were both under the 1000 per day mark. Tomato arrivals totaled 2228 boxes.

WOULD CHANGE COURT SYSTEM.

CITY ATTORNEY RECOMMENDS MUNICIPAD TRIBUNAL.

Says Under Present Charter This Cannot Be Accomplished and That City's Jurisdiction Extends Only to Investigating Audits of Police Court Accounts.

"It is clear that we have not and cannot have, under our charter as it now stands, a court which in any way is a municipal court."

"The city of Los Angeles should be given the right to and should establish a municipal court under its own arrangement of jurisdiction and administration."

These two excerpts from a report filed with the City Council by City Attorney Stephens yesterday give the gist of his position in regard to the present police court system and the need of a change in the system of minor tribunals.

This report, which is a voluminous one, was called forth by the reference to the City Attorney of petitions from the Independent Civic League relative to the police-jury system in this city and asking for the creation by the City Council of an unbiased committee of citizens for the purpose of investigating the method of selecting jurors, with a view of eliminating any influence that might be brought to bear in the selection of police-court jurors by any public servant.

The City Attorney in this report reviews the legislation through which the police court system has been established, and points out that the judicial power for the inferior courts is conferred by such provisions "as the Legislature may establish in any incorporated city or town, or city and county."

Decisions on litigation are cited showing that any court organized under the provisions of the city charter is illegal, and that this power rests in the State Legislature alone. Thus the city courts are but ex-officio courts attached to the county justice courts system. The system of selecting juries is also entirely under State control, and the city is powerless to make changes in that regard, holds the City Attorney.

The jurisdiction of the City Council is simply that of holding investigations which would include a thorough auditing of the accounts of the police courts and inquiries as to whether or not the povisions of the Police Court Act are being adhered to.

After expressing the opinion that the city should be put in a position where it could establish municipal courts, the City Attorney says that such courts should have corrective powers, as well as powers for the punishment of unfortunates, the weak and the criminal.

A proposed constitutional amendment to go on the ballot at the November election would confer such powers upon the city.

POLICE WANTED.
FOR ECHO PARK PATROL.

The Woman's Alliance of the Los Angeles Fellowship sent to the Police Commission yesterday a statement of alleged immoral conditions in Echo Park, and asked that police in uniform be provided for the park, in order to insure the safety of the young women and girls who visit that resort.

Details are given of revolting conditions that are alleged to have existed in this park and the communication says:

"Information of a reliable character has been handed us to the effect that numerous instances of a deplorable nature have proven to our satisfaction that the atmosphere in Echo Park in particular is pervaded by an air of the grossest immorality, fraught with grave danger to the moral welfare of young children and immature girls."

The subject was referred by the Police Commission to Chief of Police Sebastian for immediate attention.

SPECIAL APPEAD
FOR HARBOR APPROPRIATION.

The Harbor Commission yesterday sent to Congressman Stephens a special appeal to make further efforts on behalf of the desired appropriation for beginning of the harbor channel widening project.

"Press dispatches," says this telegram, "indicates that the Senate Rivers and Harbors Appropriation Bill may seriously interrupt projects of development here. The city of Los Angeles, through its Harbor Commission, desires to emphasize the necessity of completing the project of widening the main channel of the Los Angeles Harbor as soon as possible.

"The government has spent hundreds of millions in digging the Panama Canal, but steamship lines using the canal must have adequate terminals on the Pacific Coast if the people are to obtain the full utility of the canal.

"The city of Los Angeles is spending $5,500,000 in providing such terminals in this port. The government should appropriate $200,000 to begin the project of widening the main channel, as harbor development on the east side is held up pending this widening.

"Commerce is now coming through the canal in rapidly-increasing volume to this port, and must be provided for. Failure to make the appropriation at this session will seriously interfere with the work of the city under way and plans for the immediate future. Please lay these facts before the House Rivers and Harbors Committee."

News of Lesser Moment.

The subject of confirmation of the assessment for the lowering of the floor of the Broadway tunnel will be before the City Council this morning, after weeks of postponement. Some of the property owners within this district are in favor of cutting down Ft. Moore Hill from the tunnel easterly, instead of expending any further money on the reconstruction of the tunnel. There is a division of sentiment in the Council on this subject.

By a vote of all Councilmen present, except Councilman Wheeler, the proposed ordinance to govern moving-picture operators, whereby the labor unions hoped to get control of all operatives, was killed yesterday. There was a long hearing on the subject, this giving Councilman Wheeler an opportunity to make campaign material, but he stood alone when it came to voting. The measure proposed was vigorously opposed by A. P. Tugwell, a member of the board of censors of motion pictures. The present ordinance is declared sufficient to provide human safety in showhouses by the City Electrician and others familiar with its workings.

The Police Commission yesterday dismissed the charges filed against Patrolman Edward W. Bruce. Chief of Police Sebastian reported that an investigation had not substantiated the charges of conduct unbecoming an officer.

The city proposes to purchase 10,000 feet of new fire hose. The various bidders will meet with the Council's Supply Committee at 10 o'clock this morning in the Council chamber to explain the respective merits of their wares. Fourteen bids have been received, the offers ranging from 69½ cents to $1.10 per foot.

Only 48.8 per cent. of the eligible frontage was found on the petition to close to further liquor permits Main street, between Eighth and Ninth streets, by the Police Commission yesterday, and the petition was ordered filed. A petition to close Main, between Fourth and Fifth streets, was referred to the Chief of Police for checking the street frontage.

The Police Commission yesterday granted a transfer of the saloon permit of No. 325 South Spring street from Fred Frankel to Frankel & Frankel, Solomon Frankel, a brother of the former permit holder, having entered the partnership.

A petition containing about 2000 signatures will be filed with the City Clerk today, asking the City Council to advertise for sale a street railway franchise extending from North Broadway on North Pritchard street to Mercury street, thence to Boundary street, through Schuetzen Park and Hermon.

STAGE JEWELS REAL JEWELS.

She Says She Gave Them to Him as Security for Small Loan, While He Claims He Purchased Them from Her—Interesting Testimony Expected.

Jewels valued at $3050 which Mrs. E. D. Massie says she pledged with H. G. Dow in 1909 when he was County Auditor, and which Mr. Dow asserts he bought, are at the bottom of the suit set for Judge Houser's court this morning. These jewels which Mrs. Massie wore when she was on the stage and was known as Mrs. Campbell, will be brought into court for the inspection of the court and jury.

The story dealing with the parting of the jewels leads back to the apartment house where Mrs. Massie resided and which also housed Mr. Dow. It does not appear that they became acquainted until a third person brought them together for the purpose of accommodating the actress with a loan. At that time she needed the money. The history of that transaction will be a feature of the trial.

Mrs. Massie, through her attorneys, Barnes and Phillips, says that she obtained a loan of $400 from the jewels. Mr. Dow in his answer asserts that he paid $460 for the baubles, and received a bill of sale. Mrs. Massie declared there was no sale; that the jewels were merely pledged with the county official who was to retain them until she liquidated the loan.

A tender of the $400, she says, was declined by Mr. Dow, and when he refused to return them she sued to recover. Mr. Dow is still in the employ of the county as cashier for the County Treasurer.

SAVED FORTUNE.
MISUNDERSTANDING CREDITED.

A misunderstanding saved the Mexiamerican Company, S. A., from paying a default judgment of $1,325,000. Complaint and summons was served on C. M. Wooster, president of the company in Los Angeles. He took the documents to his attorney in San Francisco, with instructions that the attorney protect his interests. Answer should have been made within ten days, but it was not, and the default judgment was ordered by Judge Shenk for the amount prayed for by F. G. Howland, the plaintiff.

Mr. Wooster's attorney went into court and made a motion to set aside the default judgment. He explained that Mr. Wooster had not told him the papers were served on him in Los Angeles, and he, the attorney, took it for granted that service was made in San Francisco. If service had been in San Francisco he would have had thirty days in which to answer instead of ten days here.

In view of the situation, Judge Shenk stated the defendant had been injured on account of a misunderstanding, and he declared that the court had a right to relieve the injured party.

The suit grew out of a contract for the purchase of 51,000 acres of El Carrizal Rancho, Hermosillo, in the State of Sonora, Mexico. Mr. Holland alleged the president, C. M. Wooster, with whom he had entered into the contract to purchase, had shown bad faith and failed to make delivery of the deed. He asserted the property was worth $25 an acre, and asked that judgment for the value of the 51,000 acres, or $1,325,000, be given.

HOUSES FOR NIL.
SO IT APPEARS HERE.

If men who work and furnish materials for houses are allowed to be cut off from payment by prior mortgages and cannot allege that such mortgages were fraudulent, houses could be built for nothing. This remarkable situation was forcibly brought home yesterday by a trial in Judge Hewitt's court. Incidentally, a law that the judge voted for when he was a State Senator is involved.

Several claimants sought to enforce mechanics' liens against two houses erected by T. P. Boals. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Riley, holders of two deeds of trust, demand that the Title Insurance and Trust Company, holder of the deeds in escrow, sell the property for non-payment of interest.

It developed that Mr. Boals mortgaged two lots, each for $750 and gave the deeds of trust to Mr. and Mrs. Riley on the lots, each for $1000, ostensibly for the purpose of building. A day or two after completion of the houses Mr. Boals, it is alleged, defaulted on the trust deeds.

The lien claimants, who realized that if this were allowed they would have no redress whatever, went before Judge Taft August 8, then acting presiding judge, and obtained an injunction restraining the sale.

It is Mr. Riley's contention that the lien claimants are not creditors. They allege the mortgages were fraudulent, made for the sole purpose of depriving the material men and builders of their rights. It is Mr. Riley's contention that the claimants cannot be heard to present their allegation of fraud.

HE UNDERSTOOD.
WOULDN'T OBEY WIFE.

Frank Gioia, a groceryman of No. 1857 North Main street is charged in the suit of Lucie Gioia with cruelty and inhuman treatment. The complaint alleges that Mrs. Gioia was married when she was 16, her husband being selected by her parents in accordance with the Italian custom. It was an unhappy marriage because she had no choice in the matter.

The case was called by Judge Monroe yesterday and continued. Attorney Henry Carter, counsel, asked the court if he would notify the witnesses in court to appear.

"I can't speak Italian," said the court. "Have you an interpreter?"

"Well, the husband is here and he can interpret," replied Mr. Carter. But it seemed Mr. Gioia understood only Italian.

Judge Monroe instructed Mrs. Gioia, who speaks English, but before she could translate the order Mr. Gioia negatively shook his head, as though to say he would not take orders from his wife, and started out of the courtroom. Judge Monroe vainly endeavored to halt him, and giving it up, he remarked:

"He understands English, all right."

CAN DECIDE CASE.
WOMEN NOT NEEDED.

Judge Morrison has decided that he needs no jury of women to assist him in determining whether a package of washing powder infringes on the rights of another package, if the first package is similar to the second.

The Schalk Chemical Company is suing the National Chemical Company of California. It alleges that the package of the defendant was copied from the package of the Schalk company to deceive purchasers. Attorney Joseph F. Westall suggested to Judge Morrison that he impanel a jury of housewives to help him determine the momentous question. It was stipulated by Mr. Westall, however, that the opinion of the jury was not to be binding on the court.

The suggestion was rejected by Judge Morrison yesterday. He declared it would be useless and needless to impanel a jury of women, however much he might value their opinion, if that opinion was not to be binding.

Several witnesses were called who testified they had been deceived at first by the similarity in packages. There has been no intimation that the goods of he defendant were in any manner inferior. The hearing will go on today.

LEGAL CONFAB.
SUES ON DEATH.

The $50,000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Laura Hebert, the widow, and Eloi Hebert, the father of Roy Hebert, against the Byron Jackson Iron Works brought out an interesting legal knot in Judge Houser's court yesterday. After the plaintiffs' testimony was in, Attorney Ona W. Morton for the defendant, moved for a non-suit. He held that the widow and the father-in-law could not bring the action.

The plaintiffs asked leave to amend, substituting Mrs. Hebert as special administratrix of her husband's estate. The defendant contended that the court had no right to make this substitution. Judge Houser denied the non-suit and granted plaintiffs leave to amend. Then Mr. Morton filed a demurrer, attacking the complaint on the ground that the suit was barred by the statute of limitations. The original suit was filed within a year, the accident resulting in Mr. Hebert's death occurring September 4, 1913. The amended complaint is outside of the year limit.

SECOND SUIT.
ASK HEAVY DAMAGES.

Dr. M. E. Spinks was made defendant in a second suit filed by the Los Angeles Fireproof Building Company yesterday. This action followed the dismissal of the first suit on the motion of the attorneys for the corporation before Judge Morrison yesterday. On Monday Carroll Cook of San Francisco, associated with Clark & Pierson for the plaintiff, asked for a continuance on the ground of Mr. Cook's illness. The court denied the motion. The new suit filed yesterday will now take the usual course of demurrer to the complaint, answer and trial.

The Los Angeles Fireproof Building Company executed a lease April 23, 1913, on land owned by Dr. Spinks at Fifth and Hill streets, upon which the plaintiff was to construct a $300,000 class A steel building, at $50,000 a year, for ninety-nine years, at the end of which time the building would be turned over to the lessor.

The corporation now alleges that Dr. Spinks refuses to carry out the contract, and brings an acion for specific performance. There was paid down at the time the lease was executed $12,500. The corporation asks for the delivery of the lease or in default, damages aggregating $1,600,000 for withholding the lease.

COURT PARAGRAPHS.
PROCEEDINGS IN BRIEF.
DISBARMENT PROCEEDINGS.

Proceedings to disbar Harry J. Mercer, now serving time at Sing Sing, were filed yesterday by the Los Angeles Bar Association through Attorney E. R. Young. Mercer, the complaint states, was arrested for forgery, confessed and sentenced in New York last February to an indeterminate sentence. This act in violation of the ethics of the profession, caused the proceedings here.

WINS JUDGMENT. Oliver P. Frinier, a carpenter employed on the building at Fifth and Spring streets, was injured when planking broke, precipitating him fifteen feet. He brought suit against the contractors, the C. J. Kubach Company, for $10,000. A jury in Judge Houser's court yesterday awarded him $4000. An appeal will be taken.

further states: "The defendant came to this city on important business, which occupied his whole time when in said city, and that he came here with the intention of making his home in this city. On May 20 he moved his family to Long Beach."

The business to which Col. Woodford refers in his answer was the exchange of some valuable holdings in Boise for an orange grove in Colton, of which he has recently come into possession. At the present time, he is living with Mrs. Woodford on the Colton property.

His health, he says, was seriously injured by the filing of the complaint by Mrs. Fowler, alias Cloud. At the time of the filing of the complaint, he explains, he was suffering from rheumatism, which might have developed into a more serious disease, and that the worry and the enforced activity caused by the court action on the part of Mrs. Fowler resulted in a dangerous manner on his health.

Mrs. Fowler, whose former husband, James Cloud, is alleged to be a resident of Los Angeles, charged Col. Woodford with having caused her great mental suffering and humiliation by having proposed marriage to her, while he was already married. She said she met Col. Woodford on the day preceding the Santa Monica road races, was impressed by his manners and appearance and, in the course of subsequent meetings, came to love him.

After they had known each other several months, she says, Col. Woodford promised to marry her, but told her shortly afterwards that he was married and that his wife was in Idaho. She alleges that he informed her that he and his wife did not agree, and that a divorce was pending.

Later, Col. Woodford came to Long Beach with Mrs. Woodford, and it was shortly afterwards that the suit for $50,000 damages was brought. Col. Woodford advances that it was evidence of his honorable intentions when he transacted a deal by which he was to make his permanent residence in the vicinity of Los Angeles, and denies in toto the allegations of the plaintiff.

GAS NEAR CHATSWORTH.

Present Indications Promise Towns in San Fernando Valley May Soon Have Own Natural Product.

Towns in the vicinity of Chatsworth Park in the San Fernando Valley may soon have natural gas of their own, if a strike made a few days ago in a well seven miles north of Chatsworth turns out as present indications promise. The well, which is being drilled by Dr. F. C. Melton, encountered the gas strata at a depth of 1400 feet, and the pressure is estimated at 200 pounds to the square inch, by parties who have visited the well. Some oil is also reported to have come with the gas. Should an oil strike be made, it would prove even more important, as the well is a long distance from any production.

Many small towns in the oil fields about here have been able to secure a supply of natural gas for all domestic purposes at a very low cost within the past few years, and in most cases the possession of facilities for securing such a supply is considered a great advantage.

Austria's Slav Population.

[Indianapolis News:] Among its peoples Austria numbers about 20,000,000 of Slavic blood, own brothers of the Serb. But Austria's Slavs are separated from the Servians by an alphabet. Their language is practically the same, but the Austrian Slavs use the Latin alphabet, like our English print, while the Servians use the Russian characters.

HOW THE AIR WILL RESTORE GRAY HAIR

Are you one of the thousands who are suffering from the stigma of premature old age that gray hairs have placed upon you—and yet you think that nothing can be done to prevent it?

Science has worked out a wonderful restorative principle for just such cases as yours. It has made it possible for you to bring back to their NATURAL COLOR the whitening strands that are so rapidly destroying your youthful appearance. You can also KEEP OTHER GRAY HAIRS FROM COMING IN.

Not by dyes, but by so simple a process as the action of AIR through the use of Hay's Hair Health.

This is a NATURAL method. Hay's Hair Health contains elements which strengthen, nourish and stimulate each hair and hair root. In addition it contains a wonderful ingredient which, when applied, causes the faded gray hairs to gradually but surely come back to their NATURAL color, through the action of oxygen in the air. Nothing could be simpler or more effective.

25c, 50c and $1.00 at Drug Stores or direct upon receipt of price and dealer's name.
